AMERICANS SHUT EYES AT BORDER RUM FLOW

Lack of Co-ordination Blamed for Second Largest Liquor Leak; Detroit "War" Ridiculed

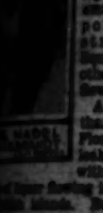
BY MABEL WALKER WILLEBRANDT

([illegible] to Current News Features. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.)

(Mrs. Willebrandt in this, her ninth article, still dealing with [illegible] frankly admits the situation on the border and as frankly [illegible] the futility of periodic "drives" like the recent affair in Detroit. [illegible] of officials, stupid interdepartmental jealousies, lack of [illegible] and teamwork in Washington are the real trouble, the former [illegible] Attorney-General declares. She also shows what can be done [illegible] and abroad with whole-hearted co-operation on all sides.)

[illegible] all the leaks in prohibition as at present enforced—or [illegible]—come from the industrial alcohol industry.

The leak second in importance in my opinion is border smuggling. "Good" liquor comes through the Canadian border in great [illegible]. But let no ultimate consumer delude himself with the [illegible] that he ever gets smuggled liquor in its original state. [illegible] all of it is taken to garages or old residences and there [illegible] and rebottled for the bootlegger trade.



MABEL [illegible]

[illegible] inspection seeks the low [illegible] of our border defense. [illegible] employees, prohibition agents, United States attorneys, or other officers fail in a co-ordinated and aggressive vigilance against the smuggler, at that point great streams of liquor as well as other contraband flow through.

A little more than a year ago Florida was the leakiest spot, with great quantities of liquor flowing in from near-[illegible] islands. But aggressive [illegible] by that splendid service, the [illegible], in conjunction with a [illegible] I dispatched [illegible] own office, deprived Florida [illegible] the doubtful honor of being [illegible] of our border or coast [illegible].

[illegible] DETROIT "DRIVE"

[illegible] writing, Detroit is in the [illegible] of the spotlight on prohibition [illegible]. Only recently the [illegible] throughout the country [illegible] extended and lurid [illegible] of the "great offensive" [illegible] smugglers in the neighborhood of Detroit. The press re[illegible] of the mobilization by [illegible] at or near Detroit [illegible] hundreds of additional [illegible] and [illegible] to investigate the [illegible]. The [illegible] say:

[illegible] decided there should be [illegible] in the dry [illegible]. More automobiles as well as speed boats and [illegible] will be supplied, according [illegible] prohibition chief." [illegible] are dispatches telling [illegible] of twenty-seven [illegible] boats to the west end [illegible] and the Detroit River [illegible] ten seventy-five-foot [illegible] carrying eight men each [illegible].

[illegible] or even 1000 additional [illegible] never stop the leak at [illegible] any other border point [illegible] not used more efficiently [illegible] honestly than prohibi[illegible] have been used in the

POLICE HUNT ANNOYER AT WILLS HOME

Man Believed Author of Improper Letters Tries to See Girl Tennis Star

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Search for a man believed to be insane, who appeared at the Berkeley home of Miss Helen Wills, international tennis champion, and made wild and threatening statements, was being made today by police of San Francisco and east bay cities.

The man, who gave his name as John Bowden and said he was a guest at the Stewart Hotel, San Francisco, appeared at 9 a.m., Saturday morning at the home of Miss Wills's father, Dr. C. A. Wills, 238 Tunnel Road. He demanded to see Miss Wills, who now is in New York winning new laurels in the tennis world.

Although Dr. Wills informed the man of his daughter's absence, he still was persistent, and when Dr. Wills inquired his name he said he was John Bowden of Chicago, and he was just about to take a steamer for Australia.

Dr. Wills recognized the name as that which had been signed to several improper letters which have been received by his daughter from Chicago in the last few months. He slammed the door in the stranger's face and called the police. When Policeman Frazier arrived, there was no trace of the intruder.

STARVING ISLANDERS WILL GET SUPPLIES

MANILA, Aug. 13. (Tuesday) (AP) Due to crop failures and recent typhoons, an acute food shortage prevails in the Batanes Islands, the northernmost group of the Philippine Archipelago. The government is sending the cableship Bustamante tomorrow with supplies. The Governor of the group reported that 60 per cent of the population is living on plant leaves and banana stems.

FOES OF FLY CLASHING

Florida Divided on Remedies

Senator Fletcher Seeks to Block Farm Board Aid for Heat Treatment

"People Would as Soon Eat Live Larvae as Dead," Legislator Asserts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Differences of opinion in Florida over the proper method for handling the infested fruit of that State were revealed today when Senator Fletcher issued a statement expressing vigorous opposition to the proposed heating and precooling of the Florida citrus crop to kill the Mediterranean fruit-fly larvae and make the fruit marketable.

A delegation of Florida citrus growers appeared before the Federal Farm Board last week advocating the heating and cooling process and obtained from the board the promise of a $300,000 loan to finance installation and operation of the necessary equipment in packing plants. The money has not been actually turned over and Senator Fletcher, in his statement, said he will appear before the board in the near future and attempt to block the loan.

INSECT DIET HIT

The senior Florida Senator declared that in his opinion such a processing would be injurious to Florida's interests, as it would create a doubtful and low-price market through the hesitancy of consumers to purchase fruit which they suspected of containing dead insects. People, he asserted, would as soon eat live larvae as dead ones.

The proper way, Fletcher said, would be to stop Florida fruit from maturing and compensate the growers as a part of the campaign for eradication of the fruit-fly pest. He expressed confidence that the fly will be eliminated completely and envisages a rehabilitated citrus industry in Florida employing co-operative-organization methods along the lines on which the citrus growers of California operate so successfully. What the Florida citrus interests need, he declared, is an organization patterned after the California Fruit Exchange.

"I expect to see the Federal Farm Board as soon as possible," Fletcher said, "to ask it to consider our whole citrus fruit and vegetable-distributing and marketing problems, to study the whole situation and to devise and establish under Sec. 1 of the act that created the board a proper kind of system for distributing and marketing those agricultural commodities.

"I think the formation of a co-operative association, producer-owned and producer-controlled, would be the basis of a wise system of distribution. The California Fruit Exchange is an ideal organization. It has accomplished inestimable benefits for the fruit growers of California. We need some such plan in Florida, not only now but for the future. We have demonstrated that we can produce as fine citrus fruit in Florida as can be produced anywhere else in the world. Our industry in the State can be expanded to an almost unlimited extent.

ALL IT NEEDS

"When the trees now under cultivation are bearing we will produce as much as California can produce. We can extend that greatly. Florida can supply the domestic fruit market without any difficulty. Our exports are increasing year by year. All that Florida requires when this Mediterranean fruit fly is eradicated—as it will be—is a wise solution of the problem of marketing and distribution.

"I find the work of eradicating the Mediterranean fruit fly progressing. The people are co-operating and the Federal and State authorities are energetic and thorough. It is difficult to find the fly even in the locality of greatest infestation. Our chief difficulty now is uncertainty respecting future regulations as to what will become of the fruits and vegetables now being produced and as to the extent of quarantines and embargoes.

"It is that uncertainty which is largely responsible for doubt, suspicion and anxiety which have caused depositors to withdraw their funds from banks and have forced a number of them to close. People do not know to what extent the eradication program will go or to what extent the quarantines and embargoes will be imposed

"It is difficult to advise them respecting that until there has been a thorough survey and it has been definitely determined where the boundary of Zone 1, the infested zone, and Zone 2, extending nine miles from there, and Zone 3, all the remainder of the State, will

PARACHUTE JUMP GOES 'ON THE AIR'

Broadcaster Decribes His Leap from Airplane Over National Chain Hook-up

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) Aug. 12. (AP)—A parachute jumper today leaped from a plane at an altitude of about 10,000 feet and described to a large radio audience his sensations as he descended.

Officials of the National Broadcasting Company said it is the first successful broadcast of its kind.

The feat was performed by H. G. (Buddy) Bushmeyer, parachute expert here. He left his plane at 6:30 p.m. (E.D.T.) and remained in communication with a radio audience until he was 3000 feet above the ground.

Bushmeyer wore a twenty-four-pound transmitter strapped to his chest and a microphone attached to a band around his head.

His broadcast was picked up by a short-wave receiver and sent out on a nation-wide network of the National Broadcasting Company. Two test jumps had been made previously in preparation for that feat.

Beached Ship's Crew All Safe

SEATTLE, Aug. 12. (AP)—Awaiting the arrival of the Russian freighter Stavatoll, the twenty men composing the crew of the Norwegian motorship Elisif today were safe ashore 300 miles east of the Kolyma River in Arctic Siberia, after they beached their fur-trading boat Saturday to prevent its foundering.

The Elisif, which had recently been freed from a year's imprisonment in the ice pack off North Cape, was westward bound toward the Kolyma River when she was caught in the grinding ice again Saturday night and so badly damaged that she had to be beached.

The ship is owned by the Swensen Fur Trading Company of Seattle and is commanded by Capt. Evan Larsen of Brevik, Norway.

JUVENILE CRIME ON WANE

Many More Adults Arrested During Last Year But Boy and Girl Seizures Drop

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Modern youths do a lot of things that would have shocked their grandparents but in spite of their flaming tendencies records of the State Criminal Identification Bureau show that they are not criminally inclined.

Clarence S. Morrill, superintendent of the bureau, declared today that while arrests in the State for the fiscal year ending June 30, last, increased 7000, there was a marked decrease in juvenile arrests, both among boys and girls.

Morrill called particular attention to the fact that arrests of minor girls have dropped phenomenally in the last few years. In 1927, for instance, 308 juvenile females were arrested. These arrests dropped to fifty-three in 1928, and for the fiscal year just closed the total was but forty-three.

Arrests of minor boys also have decreased, says Morrill. In 1928, he says, 7354 minor youths were taken into custody for law violations, as compared with 6472 in the last year. Last year, 36,936 adults were arrested, an increase over 1928 of 6500. Of this number, 3880 were women, as compared to 3095 in 1928. Prohibition law violators comprised almost 25 per cent of all persons arrested, the total being 10,509, as compared to 4762 arrests in 1928, an increase of more than 100 per cent.

"This great increase in prohibition arrests," said Morrill, "may be attributed either to more violations or to stricter enforcement."

Girl Killed in Crash on Grade

VALLEJO, Aug. 12. (AP)—Wilma Duboise, 16 years of age, Nevada City, was killed, Les Leonard, 26, mine worker in Nevada county, suffered a broken back and George Alderson, also of Nevada City, was slightly injured in an automobile accident today on the Ryerson Hill grade.

Marjory Lane, 15, Wasco, Kern county, was in the automobile when it overturned on a curve. She was uninjured. The girls, Vallejo authorities said, were inmates of the rescue home at Oakland and had asked the two men to return them to Nevada City.

They left Oakland today, Alderson told police, and were en route to Nevada City.

ZEPPELIN SAILS TOMORROW

World's Greatest Dirigible to Leave Friedrichshafen on Longest Trip Attempted by Airship

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) Aug. 12. (AP)—The great dirigible Graf Zeppelin, veteran of four successful Atlantic crossings, today was ordered "cleared for sailing" early Wednesday or Thursday morning on th longest flight ever attempted by an airship.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, who twice has piloted the Graf successfully to New York and back again, set the start for 3 a.m. Wednesday (9 p.m. Tuesday, eastern standard time) on the Tokio stage of her flight around the world. If the weather at that time is unfavorable, the departure of the air liner will be delayed until the same hour Thursday morning.

Over steppes and mountains, many of which never have been mapped, Dr. Eckener faces a flight estimated by Zeppelin officials at between 6250 and 7500 miles. It is thought the Zeppelin will need five days to cover the distance. This totals 120 hours, which is longer even than on her first difficult passage from Friedrichshafen to New York, in 1928.

With her new motors tuned up and broken in, an engineer from the Maybach works said they are good for 1000 hours of flying. Dr. Eckener, therefore, should have a very comfortable margin for continuous flying.

"Everything is in perfect order for the entire flight around the world so far as necessary permits, visas and other governmental requirements are concerned," Dr. Eckener said today.

Dr. Eckener said it is "absolutely

MINE BLAST FIERY TRAP PERILS MANY

Score of Workers Believed Held Below Surface by Coal-Gas Explosion

POTTSVILLE (Pa.) Aug. 12. (AP) Twenty-five men are reported trapped in a blazing mine under the central part of the city tonight following an explosion in the Primrose vein of the Sherman Coal Company here. Four miners were severely burned.

The first explosion occurred about 7:45 p.m. and started fire which had soon spread through 130 feet of the 500-foot Primrose vein. The four men who are in the Pottsville Hospital suffering from burns were among the first to discover the fire.

By 9 o'clock all of the men caught in the west gangway had reported safe.

The miners said there had been four explosions. The original blast, which ignited a pocket of gas, was followed by three others. One miner said Irvin Dersky, Hilbert and Schott were blown down a forty-foot chute by the force of the last explosion.

HAILSTORMS DAMAGE CANADIAN GRAIN CROP

WINNIPEG (Man.) Aug. 12. (AP) Isolated hailstorms damaged grain crops heavily in western districts during the week-end. In Alberta, a hailstorm swept across country from Hampsonton, approximately forty miles northwest of Calgary to Medicine Hat, levelling fields of grain and causing losses estimated at 10 to 100 per cent.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 12. [To the Editor of The Times:] The whole financial structure of Wall street seems to have fallen on the mere fact that the Federal Reserve Bank raised the amount of interest from 5 to 6 per cent. Any business that can't survive a 1 per cent rise must be skating on mighty thin ice.

Why even the poor farmers, it took a rise of from 6 to 10 per cent with another 10 per cent bonus to get the loan from the banks. It took all that to completely break them and nobody connected with the government paid any attention. But let Wall street have a nightmare and the whole country has to help get them back in bed again.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

DELAY WON ON CRISIS

"Dodging" Saves Day at Hague

Reparations Delegates Turn Attention to Evacuation of Rhineland Area

Discussions on Finances Put Aside by Committee Until Tomorrow

THE HAGUE, Aug. 12. (AP)—Adroitly skirting the crisis that has deadlocked its deliberations, The Hague conference to make the Young plan for reparations effective took a new tack today and sailed along toward a solution of the Rhineland evacuation problem, just as if the tie-up over reparations didn't exist.

Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, who is generally credited with having almost run The Hague conference ship on the rocks by challenging the Young plan experts for reducing Great Britain's reparations payments, himself helped to save the situation by calling for the adjournment of the finance commission until Wednesday.

MOVE PROVES SURPRISE

This move in the committee where the reparations crisis exists came as a surprise, but it enabled the political committee to inaugurate discussion of Rhineland evacuation. These deliberations developed the opinion that before any particular date can be considered it will be necessary for military experts to pass on a great number of technical questions connected with the transport of troops.

Foreign Minister Stresemann, Premier Briand, Foreign Minister Hymans and Foreign Secretary Henderson will study these subjects tomorrow with their respective military advisers and will meet privately during the afternoon to talk over the situation before referring it to the technical committee.

It was announced authoritatively on behalf of the committee that no particular dates for Rhineland evacuation have been considered by any delegates, and that if any date becomes public it can be taken as an imaginary one.

AGREEMENT SOUGHT

The political committee having put off the reparations crisis at least until Wednesday leaves tomorrow free for private conversations, which it is understood already have begun between Premier Henri Jasper of Belgium on the part of France, Italy and other creditor nations on the one hand, and Chancellor Snowden on the other, in an effort to find some way to bring the conflicting views together.

Although there is considerable more cheerfulness in conference circles regarding the ultimate outcome, delegates still are very reserved as to the prospect of agreement. The rumor mongers, who are continuing active, had J. P. Morgan here today as mediator between Snowden and Briand. When it was discovered that Morgan was somewhere else it then was reported that Thomas W. Lamont was the personage.

Lamont failed to materialize, but the report would not be downed and it now is said that Lamont is coming to The Hague but the date of his arrival seems to be known by no one. All of these conflicting reports seem to have had their origin in a telephone conversation between a member of the Morgan concern in Paris and a member of the French delegation on an entirely different subject.

As for Chancellor Snowden he seems to have gotten over his hurry to get home to England. On Saturday he did not want to spend the rest of his days at The Hague. Today he said he still wants to leave as soon as possible, but that the business here cannot be neglected.

SUPPORT FOR SNOWDEN

The text of the message sent to Snowden by Prime Minister MacDonald, which was made public today, leaves no doubt in the minds of conference delegates that public opinion, press and political parties are firmly behind the Labor Chancellor in his demand that Britain's share in reparations percentages under the Young plan be no smaller than they were under the Dawes plan.

Meanwhile, M. Briand was reported to have "had enough of The Hague" and to favor the atmosphere of Geneva for reparations delibera-

FIVE STATES SHAKEN UP

East Upset by Long Tremor

Plant in Western New York Wrecked and Chimneys Tumbled Down

Windows in Pennsylvania Broken and Guests Flee Adirondack Hotels

ALBANY (N. Y.) Aug. 12. (AP)—Throughout parts of five Eastern States and one Canadian Province belated sleepers rolled from tilted beds while earlier risers leaped from the breakfast table and rushed in alarm to the streets as the earth's crust vibrated in a series of quakes of varying intensity and duration today.

When the last tremor died away it was found that while the shocks were felt from Connecticut to Ohio and from Pennsylvania to the Province of Ontario, the resultant damage was but slight, residents of a score of cities resumed their daily tasks and left to the scientists the work of determining the extent, intensity and location of the quakes.

FACTORY WRECKED

Observers in various laboratories scanned their seismographs and announced that the tremors had moved in a north and south direction through the central and western part of New York and that the center of the disturbance probably was located somewhere near Bellefonte, Pa.

The greatest damage was reported from Attica, where one industrial plant was forced to suspend operations because of damage to its machinery, throwing 300 men out of work. One wall of the Attica Methodist Episcopal Church was cracked and the roof damaged by falling chimneys. A huge chimney on an industrial plant at Warsaw collapsed.

The earliest manifestations of the temblor was at Binghamton, where residents reported feeling the shocks between 1 and 3 a.m. The majority of the reports from other sections, however, fixed the time approximately at 7:30 a.m. The scientific observation at the seismographic laboratory at Canisius College, Buffalo, giving it as exactly twenty-four minutes and 35 seconds past 7 a.m., eastern daylight saving time. Rev. John P. Delaney, S.J., in charge of the laboratory, reported that the principal shock lasted twelve seconds and was followed by minor tremors during the next six minutes. He fixed the center of the quake at a point at least 200 miles south of Buffalo.

GUESTS FLEE HOTELS

At Erie, Pa., windows were broken and in dozens of places dishes rattled in cupboards and pictures swayed on the walls. One woman in Elmira said her bed broke down from the force of the shock.

Reports from New Haven, Ct.; Springfield, Mass.; Ashtabula, O., and other points indicates those places were on the fringe of the quake zone, the shocks being very slight. Albany also experienced only a slight shock.

Northward from Erie and Sayre, Pa., through the western part of New York State, the shocks were more severe and the reports of their being felt more numerous. Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo were directly in the path of the temblor, which reached as far north as Brantford, Ont., and was felt with considerable force in Toronto.

Guests at Adirondack Mountain hotels hurriedly left the buildings when fixtures rattled and pictures swung to and fro. According to scientists the quake was the first recorded in the Lake Erie district since the St. Lawrence temblor of 1925.

THE PAS (Man.) Aug. 12. (AP)—The crew of the ill-fated Chicago-to-Berlin plane 'Untin' Bowler, which was lost in the ice floes of Northern Labrador, are on their way down the bay line and are expected to arrive here Wednesday.

The men, Robert Wood, Bob Gast and Parker Cramer, are en route back to Chicago.

BULLS REGAIN STOCK LEAD

Buying Flurry Lifts Scores of Issues from Low Levels Due to Rediscount Rate Rise

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—Bullish forces on the New York Stock Exchange, which were badly disorganized last Friday at the sharp break in prices which followed the raising of the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate, were back in the saddle today, driving the "bears" to cover in a series of buying demonstrations which lifted scores of issues up $2 to $12 a share and sent one stock skyrocketing $32.

United States Steel common was brought forward as the market leader, being pushed up $11.62½ a share to a new high record at $229.62½. At least a dozen other stocks, including Atchison, the American Tobacco issues and National Power and Light, were elevated to new high ground.

Measured by the indices compiled by the Standard Statistics Company, for the Associated Press, the fifty leading industrials have more than recovered all of the ground lost last Friday, the twenty rails are nearly back where they were just prior to the break and the twenty utilities have made up half of their drastic decline.

While many market observers attributed the rise in the rediscount rate as a direct slap at securities speculation, professional traders took the attitude that inasmuch as it was accompanied by a lowering in the buying rate on bankers' acceptances, it would not necessarily increase the cost of carrying securities on margin, but might conceivably cause a reduction in the present high charges. Call money held steady at 8 per cent today, unchanged from last week, but time money displayed an easier undertone, with 8 3-4 to 9 per cent as the ruling charge, as against a flat 9 per cent rate last week.

BORDER RUM LEAKS LAID TO OFFICIAL DUMBNESS

While Government Services Fight Over Petty Jealousies Boats Rush Liquor Across Line

WHEN DRY LEAGUE WENT WET

How a crooked official pulled the wool over the eyes of the Anti-Saloon League, flooded the country with high-content beer and enlisted support in the fight against the Attorney-General's office, is told by Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former Assistant United States Attorney-General in charge of prohibition in the tenth article of her series, "The Inside of Prohibition," appearing in tomorrow's Times.

EVIDENCE NEEDED

Certainly the beating of drums and the issuance of mimeographed threats of a great prohibition offensive will not aid the government forces in gathering evidence of the kind necessary to convict the leaders of the liquor rings. The time to talk about a "dry drive" is after the evidence is gathered and the defendants are in court, facing sworn testimony of the kind necessary to insure prison sentences. Rum runners, even though some government men have not yet learned it, are not scared when Uncle Sam hollers "boo!" But they do begin to get nervous when even a few of their number and especially the men at the top of the liquor ring, start on a long and extended trip to one of Uncle Sam's boarding-houses!

The present situation at Detroit is by no means new to me. The basis of that self-congratulatory pat on the back is a letter which I wrote to the Attorney-General more than four years ago, on July 13, 1925, to be exact.

The letter was written after I had spent several days in Detroit conferring with the United States Attorney (at that time Delos Smith, a young man of aggressive policies,) Federal judges, special agents of the customs service, the United States Consul in near-by Canada, State police and special agents of the Bureau of Investigation.

LETTER ON POINT

Here is the part of what I reported to the Attorney-General—and please remember that the report was made four years before the Treasury Department became aware, publicly at least, of what was happening at Detroit:

"I cannot overemphasize the necessity of using every means at our command to bring home to the Treasury Department the need of strengthening the customs protection against smuggling in the vicinity of Detroit. At present there are tremendous quantities of liquor, narcotics, other contraband and a great many aliens, all coming across the border at Detroit. It is a port of entry for illicit smuggled goods distributed in St. Louis, Chicago, and other points west. Smuggling is carried on by railroad and by boat. This means 'paying off' several men in the railroad employ and one or two customs inspectors. It will not be difficult to get this evidence. It is essential that an investigation be pushed forward without delay to uncover the defaulting railway and customs men.

"A number of customs men are under suspicion. An able special customs agent has no power to control them. He should be placed in charge and made to feel his responsibility for results. He should be given at least a dozen fast boats to patrol the river. He should be given authority to investigate and remove customs men who are unfaithful to duty.

"The Prohibition Director's office is in a thoroughly bad state. The office of the Bureau of Investigation is well managed by Tom Wilcox, an energetic, ambitious, thoroughly honest and hard-working official. He has gone beyond his assignment to co-operate with the United States Attorney and has done it under heavy odds because the police conditions in Detroit are so demoralized and because the prohibition office is so puerile. If we are to enable the United States Attorney to get results we must take the lead in urging the Treasury Department to reorganize an inefficient prohibition office and co-ordinate and put morale in their allied investigation services like customs."

AMERICA SHUTS EYES

Did this report and these recommendations bring results? They did not. Here are the conditions that prevail at Detroit and elsewhere along our northern border nearly four years later, as detailed by one of the members of the Canadian Cabinet, Hon. William G. Euler, to the Canadian House of Commons on May 21, 1929.

"I have said something which may appear a criticism of the United States. I have no desire to be offensive, but I think there are some facts I should place before the House in view of the statements made that we are not dealing in a friendly way with our neighbor on the south. It has been stated that these boats go across at night. That is not entirely true. I took the trouble last fall to go down to Windsor. I was offered safe conduct by a liquor exporter and went out on a launch on the Detroit River. I could see the United States Customs Office on the other shore, and I could see also that it was not difficult to detect any boats that left the Canadian shore to go to the American side. While in Windsor I got into conversation with a man engaged in the business of exporting liquor. I asked him. 'Do you cross in the daytime?' He answered 'yes; quite often.' I said 'How is it they do not get you?' He replied with a smile, 'It just happens that they are not there when we go across!'

IN ONE DAY

"Our inspector went to Windsor not so very long ago. He did not select any special day. While there, on January 14, he observed the following vessels cross the river to Detroit in daylight with cargoes of liquor:

"Ben, J. King, master; ten quarter-barrels beer, eleven cases whisky.

"Rat, J. Sales, master; twenty-four cases whisky, five cases wine, one case brandy.

Bat, A. Jacks, master, nineteen cases whisky, one case wine.

"Rabbi, I. Straight, master, five half-barrels beer, eight cases whisky.

"Bird, J. Bloom, master, eighteen cases whisky, eight cases bourbon, three cases Scotch whisky.

"Bar, J. Peters, master; thirteen cases whisky, four cases bourbon, three cases brandy.

"That was in one day."

LOOK OTHER WAY

But that was not all that the Canadian Parliament was told by its Minister of National Revenue. He submitted a report from the Canadian Revenue Collector at Bridgeburg, Ont., written in April of this year which told of conditions in that vicinity. The collector's report was that there were twelve boats plying between Canada and the United States at a point where the river is about half a mile wide. Some of the boats carried from 800 to 1000 cases of liquor and they were required to leave the Canadian docks not later than 6 p.m.

The Canadian officer said, "No effort as far as we can see is made by the United States authorities to seize any of these boats, as the United States Customs are always notified by us an hour or two before the boats leave. It is a well-known fact that some of these boats land within a few hundred yards of the United States customs office and unload without being disturbed. I know that if conditions were reversed we would have all these boats tied up in less than a week."

OFFICIALS BLAMED

Can anyone doubt, after reading such statements, that there is not only something radically wrong in Denmark, but in the United States of America, particularly in the vicinity of Detroit and Buffalo?

Of course, I am not exculpating Canada from all blame for the situation. In many instances, the Canadian officials have not rendered all the help they might. But where our own service has been organized up to the point of commanding respect and a real appeal has been made to Canada, we have had respectable results—in many instances very satisfactory ones—from Canadian officials. There is no Canadian law which prohibits the exportation of liquor to the United States, but in fact, Canada derives a revenue of several million dollars from its tax on exported liquor. But whether Canada later agrees to revise its treaty with the United States to prohibit exports of liquor to our country, or whether it maintains its present refusal, our own officials cannot avoid their responsibility for the leak across the border.

VACILLATING POLICY

The leak will continue, drive or no drive, dry mobilization or no dry mobilization, until there is real co-ordination and co-operation among our own forces at Detroit and elsewhere along their borders.

Detroit is an example of departmental jealousy triumphant! The responsibilities of the customs service and prohibition service, and the State and city police overlap in law and in its practical operation. This condition has become worse in recent years. The situation is wholly inexcusable, because both the customs and the prohibition service are under the Secretary of the Treasury. He could crack their heads together and make them "play ball." Instead of that, there has been a policy of vacillation and a catering first to the recommendation of one service and then the other.

PETTY JEALOUSIES

A better focusing of responsibility will have to come before there is any success on the side of the Federal government in what headliners term "the gigantic battle of Detroit." What really is wrong at Detroit, besides the service of some dishonest men, is that most deadly of maladies of the Federal government: Small departmental jealousies which result in an utter lack of co-ordinated effort.

Evidence is obtained and hoarded in one service. An observation of a suspicious circumstance by one officer of the government results in just a shrug of a comment, "That's none of my business." The prohibition agents or some other service ought to tend to that."

TEAM WORK NEEDED

When the press, civic bodies, and citizens complain of smuggling, the customs service blames the State and city police; the prohibition agents blame the customs; the United States Attorney sits in grand legal isolation saying, "What can I do but lose cases when they don't bring me good evidence?"

And the local police say, "It's the fault of the Canadian officials, they help the smugglers across."

But let a major violator be caught by accident, or otherwise, and conviction obtained, and all these services bump their heads together in rushing headlong to claim credit and to spread in their respective offices at Washington reports that it was their act and zeal, but the other services "grabbed the credit."

FIGHT EACH OTHER

This creates an utterly demoralized condition of which smugglers and other law violators are not slow to take advantage. In effect, the different services are planning against and fighting each other, instead of unitedly combating the bootleg fraternity.

What is needed at Detroit and elsewhere is development of team play between the several forces available, the co-ordination of their activities and the development of a real will to win.

Perhaps all that sounds like theory. I can imagine many a reader saying to himself: "Oh, it's well enough for a woman to sit down at a desk in Washington and outline a beautiful plan for catching bootleggers, but she really hasn't a practical idea in her head that would amount to a row of pins in practice."

WHEN DEPARTMENT HELPED

Let me call attention, therefore, to the fact that a situation similar to that which now exists at Detroit existed several years ago near Seattle, Wash. I obtained the detail by the State Department of Ernest L. Harris, Consul-General at Vancouver, and through his efforts and the leadership, good judgment and labors of Alf Oftedal, assistant prohibition commissioner, the work of the various services was co-ordinated. More than that, a plan of co-operation wtih the Canadian forces was put into effect that worked out satisfactorily for both governments. Smuggling both into Canada and into the United States in that region radically was reduced.

In March of the present year I earnestly urged the State Department to detail Mr. Harris to the Detroit area to make a survey and recommendations as to what would improve conditions, and the request was granted. He spent considerable time studying the situation on both sides of the line. He did it without blare of trumpets or headlines. He came to Washington and laid his report—a very frank and serious document—before the Attorney-General's office, recommending the removal from that district of some officials and other changes in personnel. As a result the Treasury Department has reorganized its customs service and other strengthening of organization is on the way.

Intermittent drives and "wars" against liquor smugglers accomplish little, especially when given advance advertising. The only way to enforce the law is to enforce it all the time, not only just some of the time.

UNIFIED PATROL

Undoubtedly the ideal method to get results along our borders will be to organize a unified border patrol, made up of the best, trained men from all the various services, and amalgamate them into one splendid border police with an esprit de corps equal to that of the famous mounted police of Canada. There has been a bill before the Judiciary Committee of Congress for more than four years to do this very thing. The plan ought to be given a push.

To accomplish a unified border patrol however, requires passage of such legislation, which in turn involves politics, and all that means long delay as well as the meeting and overcoming of the tenacious traditions and jealousies of the various services which have to be reformed.

MORE BRAIN WORK

But even without a new organization for border patrol purposes, the leak can be plugged if there is the right kind of planning at Washington by men who are really anxious to have their forces work together with the common object of stopping the flow of rum across the border.

When there is more brain work and team play in Washington there will be less booze in Detroit—and more bootleggers in Atlanta penitentiary!

BRITAIN ANXIOUS ON SNOWDEN CHANCES

LONDON, Aug. 12. (AP)—The question agitating all Britain tonight is "Will Mr. Snowden succeed?" The Chancellor of the Exchequer must be astonished at the complete unanimity not only of the nation, but the empire, not only along political lines, but among political enemies in supporting the Labor Minister in such a grave question of foreign policy as demanding reconsideration of Britain's share of reparations as fixed in the Young plan.

Last week an undercurrent of apprehension existed that Mr. Snowden's bold stand at The Hague might wreck the conference.

When the news came today that on Mr. Snowden's own motion the financial commission of the conference had adjourned until Wednesday people began to feel easier and believed that the conference after all would not break down. The adjournment is regarded here as being intended to give time for private talks among the delegates with a view to finding some way out of the impasse.

Whether this is the correct interpretation or not more optimistic views prevailed in London today. The British press continues daily to voice its complete support of Mr. Snowden's stand.

Word again came from Lossiemouth today that there is no present intention on the part of Prime Minister MacDonald to go to The Hague. So far as can be learned here there is no foundation for the rumors current today that American bankers are to mediate at the conference.

FARRAND TAKES UP NEW DUTIES

Los Angeles Attorney Meets With Farm Board

Analysis of Relief Act to be First Move

Full Aid Promised Toward Constructive Policy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—George E. Farrand, Los Angeles attorney, arrived in Washington today and immediately tackled his duties as general counsel of the Federal Farm Board.

Alighting from a morning train, Mr. Farrand went direct to the Mayflower Hotel, where the Farm Board has temporary headquarters, and reported for duty just in time to join the board for its regular morning conference. He was introduced around by C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, a member of the board, with whom he has long been associated in the work of the California citrus and walnut growers' co-operatives. Mr. Farrand met again with the board this afternoon and, altogether put in a full day becoming acquainted, establishing himself in his offices and discussing his duties in a preliminary way.

WILL LEARN ACT

"The Farm Relief Act means a great deal to the agricultural interests of the United States," he told newspaper men. "The board is committed to constructive action and I will endeavor to assist it in that policy."

He said his first job would be to "learn the Farm Relief Act by heart so that he will be in position to advise the board on the multitude of legal problems arising regarding the interpretation and application of the bill. As counsel for the citrus and walnut growers of California, Mr. Farrand had already studied the farm-relief legislation prior to his appointment as counsel for the Federal board, and he did a bit of intensive brushing up while crossing the continent by train.

ANOTHER "DRAFTEE"

"I have an abiding interest in American agriculture and that's the whole story of why I am here," he declared, in response to the question of how he could leave his private law practice.

Farrand is recognized in Washington as a Hoover "draftee"—another in the long list of outstanding men President Hoover has induced to serve the government at considerable personal sacrifice. Mr. Teague is in the same category.

Mr. Farrand is living temporarily at the Mayflower Hotel. He will be joined by Mrs. Farrand within the next month.

NEW MARKETING PROJECT NOT INDORSED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—The Federal Farm Board announced today that it had not been consulted in the formation of a plan to organize a $50,000,000 co-operative fruit and vegetable marketing organization to be known as the United Growers of America, which was announced last night in New York.

"The plan for this organization," a statement by the board said, "has not been presented to the board. The organizers have asked for no indorsement and the board has no information concerning it and is therefore not in a position to express any opinion whatever about it."

SCRUTINY FACED

The board's statement was interpreted as meaning that the United Growers of America would have to submit to the same scrutiny by the board as any other agency of its kind if it desires loans from the farm-relief revolving fund.

Some members of the board of directors of the new fruit-marketing organization have been in Washington during the past month and have informally presented the general plan for the large organization through two or three individual members of the board.

WOOL MEN INVITED

Chairman Legge said, however, that the plan for forming the marketing organization had never been presented at a board meeting nor had it been given any consideration by the board.

Representatives of all the wool-growing associations will be invited to meet the board in Chicago in October to discuss the creation either of an advisory council for the wool growers or a co-operative marketing organization for that product such as has been set up for wheat.

OIL BRINGS DEAD TOWN TO LIFE

Magic Medicine Pulls Old Lumber Community Out of Its Grave

HARBOR SPRINGS, (Mich.) Aug. 12. (Exclusive) Lark's Lake, seventeen miles north of here, at one time a prosperous lumbering town, but lifeless for several years, except for a small farming community, is taking on the life of a busy oil field today as preparations now are well under way for the erection of a derrick by the North State Oil Company, associated with the Joseph Miller organization, and which has acquired many thousands of acres of land in Center and adjacent townships.

Actual drilling, it is said, will commence by September 1.

ZEPPELIN READY FOR LONG JAUNT

impossible to forecast" his route across Russia and Siberia. He will choose a northern or a southern route on the basis of last-minute weather reports.

The last word on the start will be announced at the traditional tea preceding departures of the airship Tuesday afternoon.

When the Graf takes off for Tokio she will have aboard a greater aggregation than on any previous voyage. In addition to her own tried and trusted officers and crew there will be enough reserves among the passengers for almost any emergency.

WORK OF BUILDING MAST HERE GOES FORWARD

With work under way at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport for completion of the stub mast to moor the Graf Zeppelin on its tentative arrival here on the 26th inst., the great airship's visit was accented last night by the receipt at the Biltmore for first room reservation by a Graf passenger, William B. Leeds of New York.

Leeds is the first 'round-the-world passenger to make arrangements here for the probable two-day visit by the giant bag.

Lieut. T. G. W. Settle, loaned by the United States Navy to co-operate with Lieut. Karl Lange of the Goodyear company on technical arrangements in mooring and servicing the German airship, visited the local field yesterday with Lieut. Lange and outlined some of the plans the two have for landing the Graf.

If present plans go through a small army of 600 National Guardsmen will encamp at Mines Field as a ground crew. It is intended that these men will have the task of bringing the Graf safely to earth and of guarding and servicing the ship during its short rest here.

The sixty-foot stub mast was trucked here from the naval air station at North Island, San Diego, a few days ago. Anchorage for the mooring skeleton was planted yesterday and the crew expects to have it upright within a few days.

The mast is a few feet higher than the point of the Graf's nose. This will raise the forward cabin a short distance from the ground and the rear gondola with a few inches of clearance.

This arrangement, Lange and Settle pointed out, will allow the Graf to swing wit hthe wind in weather-vane fashion.

Field equipment of the Carbon Carbide and Chemical Corporation for refueling the Graf is being installed at the airdrome and soon will be in readiness to furnish Blau gas for motor fuel and hydrogen gas for the Graf's lifting envelopes. The Blau gas will be fifty-fifty combination of local city main gas and pyrofaxgas, to be shipped here in containers from the East. The hydrogen also will be imported.

DERN HOLDS UP PARLEY ON DAM

Plans for Meeting Today in Denver Disarranged

Scramble for Purchase of Power Under Way

DENVER, Aug. 12. (AP)—Gov. William H. Adams of Colorado, Gov. Frank Emerson of Wyoming, and Dr. Elwood Mead, chief of the United States Reclamation Service, will meet here Wednesday for an informal conference on the question of power permits on the Colorado, Gov. Adams announced here tonight.

Earlier today it had been announced that the conference would be held here tomorrow and probably would be attended by Gov. Dern of Utah. Gov. Dern later talked to the Colorado executive over long-distance telephone and said he saw no need for a conference. Gov. Dern expressed the opinion that the governors' conference scheduled at Salt Lake City later this month, could handle the power questions.

The Governors of Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Utah have planned to get together to consider action opposing issuance of any more permits until the upper basin States have divided the stream's flow among them under the terms of the Boulder Canyon Dam Act and the Santa Fe compact. It has been pointed out that an embargo on the issuance of such power permits, placed on the Federal Power Commission by Congress pending action on Boulder Dam legislation, has expired.

SCRAMBLE BEGINS

The scramble to obtain contracts for the purchase of electric power from the dam opened here today at the offices of the United States Reclamation Service, where Dr. Elwood Mead, head of the service, and Raymond F. Walter, chief engineer, started a series of conferences with representatives of all companies and municipalities desiring to procure contracts.

Dr. Mead said that to examine and analyze these propositions is the sole purpose of the present conferences here. The head of the United States Reclamation Service declared that the present sessions do not concern distribution of water, States' rights, State compacts, applications before the Federal Power Commission or any other of the many problems involved under the Swing-Johnson bill.

The applications to purchase power come chiefly from California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah, it is announced. Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico are reported to have only slight interest in the hearing. Herbert W. Yeo, New Mexico State Engineer, is here to represent his State.

CALIFORNIANS THERE

California is represented by Dr. W. F. Durand of Stanford University, and one of the three consulting engineers for the Reclamation Department. Dr. Durand is here mainly to assist Dr. Mead and Mr. Walter.

Attorney W. B. Mathews of Los Angeles, veteran of all the Colorado River conferences, and E. F. Scattergood, electrical engineer of Los Angeles, representing the city of Los Angeles, the Metropolitan Water District, the Imperial Valley and, in general, the several communities represented in Southern California.

Also from California is Engineer George C. Ward of Los Angeles, representing the Southern California Edison Power Company, said to be the largest private company asking for contracts from Boulder Dam.

Arizona is represented by C. B. Ward, chairman of the Arizona Commission on the Colorado River, and Nevada is represented by State Engineer George H. Malone.

Utah is represented by W. R. Wallace, State Water Commissioner, who happened to be in Denver and has attended previous conferences.

Dr. Mead did not announce what municipalities or companies will be awarded the power contracts.

GOV. DERN TELLS OF CONFERENCE PLANS

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—A conference of the Colorado River basin States to discuss reclamations and other matters will be held in Salt Lake City immediately after adjournment of the Western States' Governors' Conference which opens here the 28th inst.

Most of the governors of the basin States' group and the State river commissions are expected to attend. Such a conference is needed, according to Gov. Dern, to discuss the subject as to what stand the States should take on the question on the price of power to be charged under the Boulder Dam development and also to consider what attitude the States should assume toward the Federal Power Commission issuing licenses.

Gov. Dern announced today that so far as Utah is concerned, he would be glad to see the ban on Federal power licenses lifted, but he expects some of the other States to oppose this stand until Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico have agreed on a division of upper basin waters.

FRUIT FLY FOES NOW BICKERING

be fixed and until the ascertainment of the existence of infestation.

"The closing of the banks has meant the withdrawal from circulation of more than $40,000,000 already and this produces depression in business and a slowing down of any new activities. It is thought that fruit now on the trees even in the infested area will be allowed to move to market after some process, either by heat or by refrigeration. This is not at all satisfactory because whenever fruit is subjected to some treatment in order to destroy larvae there will be a falling off in demand and a suspicion that will greatly lower the price of fruit. Consumers will be disposed to feel that while it is perfectly safe to eat oranges that go through some process, nevertheless they would not like to pay much for them, feeling that they had about as soon eat live larvae as dead ones."

LEATHER TARIFF DECISION NEAR

Senate Committee Gives Day to Discussion of Items

Signs Point to Approval of Some Form of Duty

Tentative Figures Reported; Hides and Shoes Included

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—Approval by the Senate Finance Committee Republicans of some form of duty on hides, leather and shoes, all now on the free list, was indicated today after a lengthy discussion of these items in the House tariff bills.

After an all-day session at which the sundry schedule embracing the three articles was under discussion, a tentative decision was said to have been reached to leave hides dutiable at 10 per cent, the same as proposed in the House measure, and leather and shoes at rates which would exceed the House duties in some instances and be lower in others.

HOUSE BILL PROVISIONS

The bill as passed by the House provides rates ranging from 12½ to 30 per cent on leather, depending on types, and 20 per cent on shoes manufactured for all persons.

Final decision on amendments to the House duties is said to have been postponed until tomorrow, when a nationally known farm leader, who was consulted by telephone today, is expected to report the reaction of his constituents to changes the committee majority has in mind.

BASIS FOR FIGURES

One Senator said the compensatory, and in some instances, protective duties on leather and shoes which were agreed upon tentatively, are based on the assumption that a 10 per cent rate on hides would be approved. It was indicated that certain of the House leather duties will be raised and some lowered under the changes to be approved, and that men's shoes probably will not be voted as high a rate as 20 per cent.

Testimony at the tariff hearings was that the shoe industry of New York and New England is suffering only from importations of cheap women's and children's shoes from Czecho-Slovakia and that the United States exports large quantities of men's footwear.

Fumes of Still Fatal to Woman

WICHITA (Kan.) Aug. 12. (AP)—Martin Schoenecker, farmer, today told Sedgwick county officers that his 20-year-old wife, Regina, died yesterday when overcome by fumes from a still at their home.

Schoenecker said that when he entered a cellar at his farm where liquor was in the process of distillation he was overcome by fumes and fell to the floor. His wife rushed after him and attempted to drag him to safety. She too was overcome.

Do You Know These Facts About Your Car?

Do you know that there are over 70 different places on your car that need lubrication, and that some of these are nearly always overlooked in the ordinary "grease rack" job?

Do you know that it takes at least seven different kinds of lubricants to lubricate your car properly and that the ordinary "grease rack" seldom uses more than three?

Do you know that it will actually pay you big dividends in money saved if you bring your car in for a real lubrication, inspection and tightening job every 500 miles?

Do you know how to make sure that all these important matters are properly taken care of?

The answer to the last question is simple: Sign up now for McBryde's 12,000 mile lubricating service. Then we'll assume the responsibility for seeing that every one of the 70-odd places gets the right kind of lubricant at the right time.

We'll also inspect your car at frequent, regular intervals, tightening all loose screws and nuts and reporting broken or worn parts to you in writing.

You never know how smoothly your car can run until you have had it lubricated by McBryde.

COMET PLANE'S SECRETS TOLD

English Speed Craft May Do 360 Miles an Hour

Schneider Cup Race Entrant Looks Like Bullet

Writer Allowed to View it and Divulge Mystery

[Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.]

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 12.—Designed to hurtle through space at a speed never before dreamed of, Great Britain's great mystery seaplane which will carry the British colors in the coming Schneider Cup races gave up some of its secrets today.

Through the courtesy of the Air Ministry, the correspondent was permitted for the first time to penetrate into the closely guarded Royal Air Force base for naval planes at Calshot, near here, inspect the plane, and watch it skyrocket through the air like a giant shell.

The frail little craft looks like a big bullet with its extreme streamlines which offer practically no air resistance.

The plane, which is one of two types chosen by the Air Ministry to represent Great Britain in its classic air race, is a supermarine Rolls-Royce SS-6 low-wing monoplane, built by the Super-Marine Aviation Works and fitted with a Rolls-Royce R type twelve-cylinder racing engine designed especially for this year's entry by F. H. Royce himself.

MAY DO 360 MILES

The machine is a development from the Super-Marine S-4, which won the world's speed record for seaplanes in 1925, and of the Super-Marine Napier S-5, which took first and second places in the Schneider trophy race at Lido, Italy, two years ago. The first plane winner, Flight Lieutenant S. N. Webster, achieved the fantastic average speed at that time of 281 miles an hour over the 188-mile course.

What speed the new plane is capable of reaching is guarded here and naturally is a deep secret, but the designers hope to see it average more than 300 miles an hour for the 188-mile course, and are confident that it at times would reach 360 miles an hour.

If such is the case, the British entry would break the Schneider record by twenty miles an hour and smash the world speed record of 318 miles an hour set up by Maj. Benardi in a Macchi monoplane at Lido last year.

The new Super-Marine S-6 plane which is all metal embodies many new feature calculated to increase its speed over that of the 1927 planes and also give an added degree of safety.

The fuel is carried in floats or tanks constructed as sections of floats and the gasoline is carried to the engine by pumps. The Rolls-Royce engine is water-cooled, but the radiators are constructed so as to form slender wings. They are made as a wing covering and consist of two thicknesses of duralumin with a very thin waterway in between. They have a perfectly flat outer surface and add no resistance to the machine. This ingenious construction has saved considerable weight over previous machines.

COOLING ARRANGEMENT

The fuselage is constructed of metal. In place of the cantilevered engine mounting used on the 1927 winner, the front float struts have been moved forward to provide necessary support and again effect substantial savings on the weight.

The bracing wires are of a special stream-like design, but so anxious are the British engineers to cut down the wind resistance that six bracing wires can be removed the day of the race without materially weakening the structure of the craft.

The oil tanks are fitted in a fin and being in direct contact with the air the problem of procuring effective cooling is taken care of. From the tanks the oil passes along both sides of the fuselage through especially constructed oil coolers and is returned to the engine along an external duct in the bottom of the fuselage.

The Rolls-Royce type R racing engine has cylinders in two banks of six at an angle of 60 deg. The designers refuse to divulge the horsepower, but experts agree that it is approximately 1000. A special supercharger of an entirely new kind has added greatly to the power. The usual front area is cut down greatly by the streamline in order to fit the bullet-like body of the plane and a special reduction in the gear is added to make the engine suitable for racing.

He shot himself through the heart with a shotgun.

PADLOCKS POPPED ON AFTER RAID

Saratoga Springs Sporting Element Given Shock as Troopers Take Action

GLENS FALLS (N. Y.) Aug. 12. (AP)—Padlocks shine on several rooms of the widely known Halfway House today and the sporting element at Saratoga Springs is wondering if they portend a general clamping of the lid in this section.

Troopers arrested thirty-one men, seized $3000 in cash and much more than that in gambling equipment at the famous resort between here and Lake George Saturday night. Sixty women players were permitted to go their way.

Alexander Patnoade, known to the gambling fraternity as "Blue," was charged with operating the beautifully appointed establishment. The thirty others were fined $10 each after the lounge of the roadhouse was turned into a courtroom and a justice of the peace was summoned by the raiding troopers.

Six roulette wheels, several crap tables and other layouts were seized along with the cash. A similar raid two years ago netted about the same haul, but the paraphernalia disappeared when it was left overnight. This time the troopers supervised its immediate removal to the Warren County Jail at Lake George.

Women Autoists Cut and Robbed

HOXIE (Kan.) Aug. 12. (AP)—Tied hand and foot, and weak from loss of blood, two young women from Concordia, Kan., were found today near a highway a mile east of here, where they said they had been thrown by two youths who had stolen their automobile, their money and most of their clothing.

The victims, Mrs. Beatrice Walsh, 33 years of age, and Miss Leda Beauregard, 22, said they were beaten, cut with safety razor blades and robbed by two youths they had allowed to ride in their automobile from Limon, Colo.

Reports from a hospital at Quinter, Kan., where they were taken, said their condition is serious.

Bank Robber Eludes Pursuit

IOLA (Kan.) Aug. 12. (AP)—Dick Gregg, 27-year-old Kansas and Oklahoma bank robber and escaped convict, believed heavily armed, today apparently has made good his escape following an automobile chase here yesterday in which he was forced from his car.

Iola officers met an automobile occupied by Gregg and Mrs. Golda Jennings, 32, owner of the car, following receipt of a trip from the woman's home at Piqua, Kan. Officers chased the car for several blocks, finally opening fire. Gregg, said to be carrying a sawed-off shotgun, jumped and ran from the vehicle.

Dr. Fred Moore Dead in Paris

PARIS, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Dr. Fred E. Moore, formerly of San Francisco and Portland, Or., for the last three years practicing osteopathy here, died Saturday night at the American Hospital. He had been ill for several months and entered the hospital last Wednesday, when his condition became worse.

Dr. Moore was president of the American Osteopathic Association in 1907 and 1908; also president of the Oregon Osteopathic Association for several years, and a member of the American-British Osteopathic Association.

CHINA GETS NEW SOVIET THREAT

Reds Propose to Dispatch Gunboats to Harbin

Thursday Set as Time Limit for Row Settlement

Seized Railway Target for Sabotage and Arson

TOKIO, Aug. 12. (AP) — A dispatch from Harbin, Manchuria, to the Rengo News Agency says, according to information received there from the eastern frontier of the U.S.S.R., the soviet government has threatened to send nine river gunboats from the Amur to Harbin if the dispute over the Chinese Eastern Railway is not settled by Thursday.

A Manchuli message to the Rengo agency says the Dalbank, agency of the soviet government, has been closed because of Chinese pressure.

The Rengo agency dispatch from Manchuria says two Chinese were killed and several wounded yesterday in a clash between Russian and Chinese outposts. The clash is reported to have occurred near a place called Adagaitouevsky.

Another collision between Chinese cavalry forces and soviet troops with machine guns in action, was reported today. It was stated there were numerous casualties on both sides.

AUTHORITIES UNABLE TO COPE WITH SITUATION

LONDON, Aug. 12. (AP)— A Harbin (Manchuria) dispatch to the London Daily Mail today said sabotage and arson have become so serious on the Chinese Eastern Railway and near it that police and fire brigades cannot cope with the situation.

Property worth more than £100,000 (about $500,000) was burned Saturday.

AMERICAN REPLY RECEIVED BY NANKING

NANKING (China) Aug. 12. (AP)—America's reply to the recent note of the Chinese Nationalist government, seeking abolition of extraterritorial privileges, was received at the Nanking Foreign Office today.

The note will be handed C. C. Wang, Foreign Minister, tonight when he arrives from Shanghai. Although its contents were not divulged it is understood the United States has failed to meet China's requests.

SECRET SERVICE OFFICER KILLED

Department of Justice Agent Shot Through Heart

Missing Car and Gun Point to Foul Play

Mystery Surrounds Death Near Phoenix, Ariz.

PHOENIX, Aug. 12. (AP)—The body of Paul Edward Reynolds, Department of Justice agent with headquarters at Albuquerque, N. M., was found floating in an irrigation canal several miles north of here today. Police said Reynolds had been shot through the heart.

A Peoria (Ariz.) deputy Sheriff discovered the body lodged against a footbridge in the canal. Identification was made through a card and receipt from a local taxi concern, which showed that Reynolds had rented a car at 8:30 Friday night.

Reynolds told the attendant at the automobile rental agency that he was going swimming and expected to return within "a couple of hours." As Reynolds had frequently rented automobiles from the agency for long periods of time, there was no suspicion when he failed to return.

Officers have begun an intensive search for the automobile, which has not been returned to the rental agency. A nickel-plated, pearl-handled automatic pistol which Reynolds is known to have carried, is missing.

John Deubler, deputy United States Marshal here, one of the last persons with whom Reynolds is known to have talked, said Reynolds told him he intended to catch a train late Friday night for Albuquerque.

The nature of the case upon which Reynolds was working could not be ascertained here. He had been working at different times out of Phoenix for the last six months.

AWARD OF CONTRACTS ANNOUNCED

Four Highway Jobs Let by State Department of Public Works

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12. (AP)—The State Department of Public Works today announced the award of four highway contracts calling for expenditure of $122,215. The projects are as follows:

Napa county—Frederickson and Watson and Frederickson Brothers, Oakland, awarded $69,004 contract for the grading and surfacing with bituminous macadam 3.1 miles between Napa Way and the Solano county line. Roadbed is to be graded thirty-four feet wide and pavement laid twenty feet wide. The alignment will be improved to eliminate three sharp curves and one "reverse curve."

Orange county—$31,751 contract awarded to Matich Brothers, of Elsinore, for grading and paving with Portland cement concrete 0.7 miles between Serra and San Juan Capistrano. Roadbed to be forty feet wide and pavement twenty feet wide. The alignment will eliminate five short-radius curves with two of long radius.

Santa Barbara county—M. J. Azvenda, Stockton, awarded $11,591 contract for construction of bituminous surface at different locations between Los Alamos and six and one-half miles north, distance about 2.4 miles.

San Benito and Monterey counties—W. A. Dontanville, Salinas, awarded a $9909 contract for construction of bituminous surfacing from a point about seven miles north of Salinas to San Juan, a total distance of about 2.4 miles.

Another Chicago Theater Held Up

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (AP)—Robbers employing the same tactics that have been used in a long series of Monday theater hold-ups, took $5000 from the safe of the State-Congress Theater early today.

They kidnaped Charles D. Peet, manager, from in front of his home, forced him to return to the theater and open the safe and then fled leaving Peet and a night watchman bound and gagged on the office floor.

LAZY SINGER SENTENCED TO WARBLE FOR WIFE

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—John Ropovac, a singer of some local renown, was an ardent singing suitor.

After a musical wedding and a tuneful honeymoon Ropovac and his wife, Angelina, settled down in their home. However, the harmony of their life was sadly shattered. Ropovac would sing only with the many choral societies to which he belonged. He would gladly sing at clubs and meetings, but at home he was mute.

Mrs. Ropovac related her sad story to Judge Burke today and the court maintained that a woman who marries a man for his golden voice has a right to hear it, so he sentenced Ropovac to sing twice a day to his wife.

Troops Search for Missionary

ISINAN (Shantung, China) Aug. 12. (AP)—Henry Wesche, American missionary who has been captured by Chinese bandits, is being sought by special military detachments of the Nationalist government.

Wesche was captured at Tung Changfu, Shantung, where the missionary colony numbers fourteen, including Wesche's wife and daughter.

You Can't Get Screen-Grid Performance out of old style tubes and circuit . . . any more than you can get blood out of a turnip!

TO expect "just another radio" to perform as any radio using the new type Screen-Grid circuit and Screen-Grid tubes, is as logical as expecting a 10-candle power light to outshine one of 40-candle power.

Screen-Grid tubes are more than four times as powerful as the old style. They have far greater selectivity—are more sensitive—and absolutely quiet in operation.

Investigate before you buy any radio that does not use two or more Screen-Grid tubes in a Screen-Grid circuit. Ask the dealer if he'll give you a written money-back factory guarantee that HIS set won't change over to Screen-Grid inside of a year. You'll have the truth of Screen-Grid then and not a lot of false statements with an obsolete set on your hands!

This is a Screen-Grid Year

SNOOK DEFENSE TESTIMONY ENDS

Cause of Co-ed's Death Made Basis of Attack

State's Rebuttal Declares Girl's Throat Cut

Case May be Given to Jury Late Tomorrow

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12. (AP)—The closing of direct testimony on behalf of Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of Theora Hix, Ohio State University co-ed, and the launching of the State's rebuttal intended to prove the defendant falsified while on the witness stand indicated today that Dr. Snook's fate may be placed in the hands of the jury not later than Wednesday.

The defense rested this afternoon with a final attack on the autopsy by which Coroner Murphy decided that Miss Hix died from a knife wound which severed her jugular vein.

The State immediately began its rebuttal to show that Dr. Snook, contrary to his testimony last week, admitted he cut the girl's throat to relieve her suffering from hammer blows, which he inflicted during a quarrel.

PREPARE FOR CLOSE

The rebuttal testimony will continue tomorrow and the final arguments of counsel and Judge Henry L. Scarlitt's charge to the jury are expected to be delivered Wednesday. The case will be given to the jury immediately afterward.

Decision of defense attorneys to dispense with the testimony of their two alienists and to leave the plea of insanity supported solely by the evidence submitted brought the end of the trial several days nearer.

The prosecution's attempt to impeach Dr. Snook's witness-stand account of the killing of his young mistress centered chiefly around the signed confession which the doctor has flatly disclaimed.

INTRODUCE GUN

The .41-caliber derringer revolver which Dr. Snook said he believed the girl had concealed in her purse at the time of the killing was formally introduced as a defense exhibit this afternoon.

It was minus the trigger spring and could be cocked only by depressing the muzzle, due to the peculiar type of the gun.

Walter Highshoe, a small-arms expert, took the stand as a defense witness and told the jury that the trigger had been removed from the weapon within the last month by an unskilled person, intimating that some member of the State's staff had tampered with it.

New Rule Causes Delay in Naming of Alf Oftedal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—The delay in the appointment of Alf Oftedal as Collector of Internal Revenue at San Francisco was explained today in government circles as being due to a recent ruling of the Attorney-General holding that the President has no authority to make a Presidential appointment during a recess of a special session of Congress where no vacancy exists. There is no vacancy in the San Francisco office because Collector McLaughlin has not resigned.

It is understood that Oftedal is to be appointed shortly after the Senate convenes. It is possible that the matter will be deferred until the regular session of Congress in December. Oftedal has the indorsement of Senator Shortridge.

Tex Rankin Successful in Nonrefueling Dash

From Canada-to-Mexico Hop First of Its Kind

Flyer in Air Little More Than Thirteen Hours

AGUA CALIENTE (Lower California) Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Tex Rankin, Portland flyer, landed here this evening at 5:48:26 p.m., after having taken off from Vancouver, B. C., at 4:40:37 a.m. on the first nonstop, nonrefueling solo flight from the Canadian to the Mexican border of the United States. His official time was 13h. 7m. 49s., and the distance flown was given as 1350 miles.

He flew a Great Lakes 2T-1 biplane, powered with a four-cylinder American Cirrus engine of ninety horsepower. His little biplane, with twenty-eight feet wingspread, took off with 100 gallons of gasoline and landed with twenty-five gallons still unused. The event was observed and timed by officials of the National Aeronautical Association and the Federation Aeronatique Internationale.

Representing these organizations at the landing were William Van Dusen of Los Angeles, official observer; Howard Morin of San Diego, chief timer, and Mayor Harry Clark of San Diego. T. Claud Ryan, the airplane maker, was a member of the reception committee. Mexican members were J. G. Castro, representing Mayor Adrian Cubillas of Tia Juana; J. Sepulveda, G. Terroros and S. B. Rachl. G. S. Woodward represented the gasoline company, and Edward L. Ericsen of Los Angeles, represented the Great Lakes Corporation.

Tex said that he got off at 1000 feet, having no trouble with his small biplane, and that he flew from 3000 to 4000 feet to top the high mountains. He followed the air-mail route, striking no head or tail winds, and having ideal flying weather. He passed over Oakland, Bakersfield, Portland and Los Angeles.

RANKIN ZOOMS OVER LOS ANGELES

Tex Rankin zoomed over the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport near Van Nuys at 4:15 p.m. yesterday, en route to Agua Caliente from Vancouver, B. C., on a dawn-to-dusk international flight.

Lieut. H. F. Murchie of the Golden Arrow School of Aviation at the local airdrome, took off at the head of an escort squadron of five local planes and flew with Rankin as he passed over Grand Central Air Terminal and Los Angeles. Murchie, however, was the only one able to keep up with the speedy little Great Lakes training plane which Rankin flew. The local pilot was at the controls of a sister biplane of Rankin's and powered with a similar Cirrus-Mark III ninety-horsepower motor.

Rankin signaled that he expected to touch his wheels on Mexican soil within two hours after leaving Los Angeles. His little ship is capable of 116 miles an hour and had averaged nearly 100 miles an hour over the 1200 miles between here and Vancouver.

Can Apartment be Considered Man's Castle?

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Whether thousands of San Franciscans living in apartment-houses have the same status under Federal liquor-seizure statutes as those living in one-family dwellings has been put up to United States Commissioner Williams in a case arising last Saturday in the downtown district.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Smith, manager of the Langham Apartments, was taken into custody by prohibition agents after they had seen her take a jug of liquor from her private car, locked in the basement of the apartment, according to testimony. Mrs. Smith was charged with liquor possession and transportation. There was no search warrant issued.

Women Turn to Pacific Coast

GENEVA, Aug. 12. (AP)—Miss Theodoro Bosanquet of London, general secretary of the International Federation of University Women, forecast the establishment of the federation's secretariat on the Pacific Coast of the United States at the organization's congress here today.

She said this might be necessary in order to foster the growth of the movement in Asia and Latin America. Miss Bosanquet thinks that "in ten years we might have to look out on a different ocean."

PAY FOR WOMEN GOES SOARING

Fair Sex Holds Two-fifths of Federal Jobs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—With steady persistence, woman is holding her place in government employ, and her salary standard is advancing.

The woman scientist, the woman economist, the woman specialist in many fields, is invited to compete for Federal positions that offer increasing opportunity. And the great army of women stenographers and clerks maintain their ratio on a basis of "equal compensation for equal work."

OCCUPY TWO-FIFTHS

For several years that ratio has remained substantially the same, with women occupying about two-fifths of the departmental positions in Washington, and about 55,000 scattered jobs throughout the country. Though the scattered jobs for men number 450,000, the Civil Service Commission declares that women fill more than half of all the positions for which men and women are equally suited. The preponderance of men merely means that women are not ranging the forests, carrying the mail from door to door, nor inspecting cattle.

Three years ago William C. Deming, president of the United States Civil Service Commission, proudly quoted high Federal salaries for women as follows:

Jessie Dell, Civil Service Commissioner, $6500; Bessie Parker Brueggeman, chairman of the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, $5200; Adelaide S. Baylor, chief of the Home Economics Education Service, Federal Board for Vocational Education, $5400; Grace Abbott, chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, $6000; Katherine F. Lenroot, assistant chief of the Children's Bureau, $5200; Mrs. Katherine M. Cook, chief of the rural education division, Bureau of Education, $4200.

JUMP IN SALARIES

This year Jessie Dell is receiving $9000; Bessie Parker Brueggeman, $8500; Adelaide S. Baylor, $6000; Grace Abbott, $7500; Katherine F. Lenroot, $6200; Katherine M. Cook, $5800.

In the three years the salary of Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics in the Department of Agriculture, has advanced from $6000 to $7000 and that of Hildegarde Kneeland, chief of the economics division of that bureau, from $5200 to $5600.

The Civil Service Commission, which set forth a tenet of sex equality in its first report forty-six years ago, now employs 210 women, as compared to 148 men, and pays the highest salary to any woman in departmental service, the $9000 to Miss Dell.

Latest available statistics show that the United States Treasury tops the list numerically, with 7749 women workers and but 6107 men. The United States Veterans' Bureau, with its voluminous correspondence, has the greatest feminine preponderance, with 3270 women and 1528 men. The Departments of Labor and of Agriculture strike a close balance, the former having 341 women and 332 men, the latter 2036 women and 2809 men. The Federal Radio Commission employs fifty-four women, as compared to thirty men, and the new field of Federal advice for aviation requires the services of seventeen women and but sixteen men.

THE FIRST WOMAN

The grand total of 62,140 government workers in the District of Columbia shows a masculine majority with 37,404. But women may content themselves, with their achievement of a 24,736 minority when they consider that the name of a woman did not appear on the Federal pay roll in Washington until 1862. In that year, Miss Jennie Douglas started trimming currency.

SNOOZING MATE SUED BY WIFE

Going to Bed When There's Company Made Grounds For Divorce Action

When Hubert Hall got sleepy, he went to bed, his wife asserted in her divorce complaint, on file yesterday, and no amount of embarrassment on his wife's part would keep him up, she said.

No matter whether callers were present or not, he would pull down the wall bed and prepare to use it, Mrs. Hall said. On one occasion he broke up a bridge game to "go read an old magazine." It also was asserted that Hall moved too often, and once lived in four different houses in one year.

DETROIT DRY RAID DEATH HEARING SET

Boatman Arraigned in Slaying of Federal Agent; Wife's Case Changed

DETROIT, Aug. 12. (AP)—The government today completed the first phase of its prosecution of John M. Heath and his wife Maxine for the death of Richard J. Sandlands, Federal prohibition agent, with the arraignment of Heath before United States Commissioner Hurd on three charges. Heath stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered for him.

Heath and his wife are charged with assaulting, resisting and interfering with a Federal officer in the performance of his duty, and resisting the officer's attempts to seize their boat. Heath's bond was set at $50,000 and his examination scheduled for the 26th inst.

Mrs. Heath's examination was changed from next Friday to coincide with her husband's. She has pleaded not guilty and is held in $25,000 bond following her arraignment late last week.

Sandlands disappeared the 3rd inst., after he and a companion officer were supposed to have seized the Heaths' cruiser, Maxine, in the Detroit River. Four days later Sandland's body was found floating in the river. An autopsy revealed a broken neck, suffered before the agent struck the water.

The Heaths said Sandlands boarded their boat without identifying himself, and Heath, taking him for a hijacker, grappled with him. In the struggle the two men fell into the water, where, Heath asserts, he left Sandlands.

CANADA FIRST ON TRADE LIST

That Country Leads in June Business With Us

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—Canada was the principal country with which the United States traded in June, leading all the other countries in both exports and imports.

The Department of Commerce announced today that the value of exports to Canada in June was $80,480,684, compared with $81,683,683 for the same month last year, while imports were $44,291,493, against $41,026,535.

The United Kingdom took second place in exports, $52,824,264, compared with $52,298,233 for June, 1928, and was third in imports, the value being $25,386,022 compared with $27,871,455 a year ago.

Exports to Japan were $16,966,227 against $21,637,289, while imports took second place with $32,483,014.

The following statistics were announced by the Commerce Department by grand divisions:

English Textile Crisis Unabated

MANCHESTER (Eng.) Aug. 12. (AP)—With practically all of the operatives' organizations steadfastly opposed to direct negotiation as a solution of the Lancashire cotton industry stoppage and only a few of the employers inclined to arbitration, the stoppage entered its third week today and with little sign of an end.

The central committee of the Cotton Spinners' and Manufacturers' Association and the general committee of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations will meet tomorrow to consider whether to accept arbitration.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (AP)—The home of Anton J. Inhahn, president of a stationary engineers' union local, was rocked by a black-powder bomb early today. Inhahn, his wife and their two children were in the building but escaped unhurt. The damage to the two-family flat building was estimated at $25,000.

SCHOOL HEADS WITHOUT JOBS

Ruling Delays Effect of New Supervisor Act

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Scores of rural school supervisors who have been signed for the next school term in many counties will find themselves without a job as a result of a ruling made today by Atty.-Gen. Webb to Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The supervisors whose jobs are affected were employed under the terms of an act of the 1929 Legislature which reduced from 500 to 300 the average daily attendance as the basic unit for hiring rural supervisors.

Webb informed Kersey that this act will not become effective for the next school term. To be effective for the forthcoming term, Webb said, the law would have had to have been operative on or before the 1st inst., whereas its effective date is the 15th inst.

TON OF OPIUM IN NEW YORK SEIZURE

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—Three packing cases containing more than a ton of opium, worth $100,000 at wholesale, were seized in a warehouse on Mercer street in the downtown district today. Two suspects were taken to the Federal Building for questioning.

CRASH TAKES HEAVY TOLL

Two Men Dead and Third at Pasadena May Succumb

Speeding Machine Crumpled Against Phone Pole

Inquest in Fatalities Set for This Afternoon

PASADENA, Aug. 12.—With two men already dead as the result of an automobile accident which occurred when a small roadster crashed into a telephone pole at Howard street and Lincoln avenue last night, Joseph L. Darnell of 131 South Avenue Sixty-three, Los Angeles, owner and third occupant of the car, is reported to be in a critical condition at the Pasadena Hospital.

The dead are: Lyle L. Berryman of 1259 Avenue Forty-four, Los Angeles, who died instantly, and Richard W. Horn of 1104 East Orange Grove avenue, who died this morning at the Pasadena Hospital. A Coroner's inquest for Berryman and Horn will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the Reynolds and Eberle Mortuary.

The crash occurred, according to police, when the roadster, speeding south on Lincoln avenue fifty miles an hour, swerved to the right to pass another car, and after rolling over several times, was demolished against a telephone pole.

The victims were rushed to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, where Dr. W. F. Wagner reported Berryman and Darnell had been drinking. When first questioned at the hospital, Darnell is said to have given his name as "Jack Robinson," which detectives proved to be fictitious. Horn, who had been emplyode as a chauffeur in this city, was formerly a high school track athlete.

MOTHER AND GIRL HURT AS CAR UPSETS

POMONA, Aug. 12.—In the only traffic accident reported over the week-end, Mrs. Emma Tidington, 1348 E. Forty-second street, Los Angeles, and her daughter, Alice, 15 years of age, were painfully but not seriously injured when their automobile overturned as the mother lost control on Pomona Boulevard three miles west of this city. Mrs. Tidington received cuts on her scalp, hip and knee and a wrenched neck, while the daughter sustained cuts on her back and leg. After first-aid treatment, they were released.

Students Hard Put for Bus Line

VAN NUYS, Aug. 12.—It has not yet been decided whether there will be a winter bus line to be used to convey San Fernando Valley students over the new highway through Santa Monica Mountains to the university at Westwood. Several concerns, including the Pacific Electric Railway, have been approached to open the line but negative answers have been given, for one reason or another.

Officials of the local Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday will put the matter up to the Bay Cities Transportation Company. It will be contended that the bus line can be made to pay within a short time. If the bus line is not established valley students will have to attend the university in their own machines.

A survey shows that at least 100 students, all graduates of the valley high schools, will attend the university when the next terms opens.

Sailors Face Driving Charges

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 12.—Peter Tomacci and L. C. Roby, both of the U.S.S. Lexington, are to appear before Police Judge Louis Budway, Friday, the former to answer to a charge of reckless driving and the latter to a charge of drunkenness. They were driving late Saturday night along Santa Fe avenue when their car ran into Mrs. Sara M. Prusher of this city, knocking her to the pavement, after which the machine turned over. The woman suffered a broken leg, broken pelvic bone, and was lacerated about the head. Both young men have given bail for their appearance in court. Mrs. Prusher was removed to the County Hospital last night.

MANY PAVING JOBS IN SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

PACOIMA, Aug. 12.—About $225,000 worth of paving and curbing work is under course of construction in San Fernando Valley, according to engineers supervising the work. This involves thirty-eight miles of paving, and sixteen different jobs. These engineers state that as many more paving jobs are planned and will be started on as soon as the bulk of the present work is completed.

NEEDLESS FIRE ALARMS

REDLANDS, Aug. 12. — Several alarms have been turned into the Redlands Fire Department by citizens who have seen smoke arising from the northern end of Church street, it was stated yesterday. That such alarms are needless was reported by Sanitary Inspector James Scott, who explained that a fire is kept burning continuously at the city dump in the Santa Ana River wash.

BUCK APPOINTED

SANTA PAULA, Aug. 12.—John Buck, for fifteen years a city employee in various capacities, today was named street superintendent to replace the late Charles Millard by the City Council.

CITRUS PEST WAR STARTS

Zero Hour for Gas Attack All Along the Line Set for Launching in Upland Groves

UPLAND, Aug. 12.—Gas crews and fumigating rigs were made ready today by co-operative fumigating crews for the annual warfare on citrus tree pests and scale launched here tonight.

The campaign of fumigating and spraying is to be carried on over 3000 acres of citrus trees. Gas will hiss under the canvas tops, and nozzles will shoot spray over the trees as a double attack on the pests. Twelve crews of six men each will be in the field to carry on the work.

Orange trees will be sprayed and fumigated first, as the lemon trees are not ready. The crews will probably be on the job until December.

CHINO WALNUTS FREE FROM HUSK FLY PEST

CHINO, Aug. 12.—Walnut trees in this community will yield 1500 tons of nuts this season, according to an estimate made by L. T. White, manager of Chino Walnut Growers' Association. It is reported, following a survey of the groves, that the walnuts are developing large size and the Diamond brand will run high.

A stern fight has been carried on against the walnut husk fly in the community, and results of the successful campaign are evident in the generous growth of a healthy crop, according to Calvin C. Delphey, horticultural inspector for the district, who now is making preparations for a survey and inspection of the ripening nuts in September.

All infested groves have been sprayed. Approximately 1000 acres of trees have been examined by two inspectors during the summer, and they have declared the trees practically free from infestation.

Santa Barbara Values Rise to Record Levels

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 12.—An increase of more than $6,000,000 in the assessed valuation in the county for county purposes, and an increase of more than $50,000,000 in the county's total valuation for all purposes is noted by County Auditor Albert T. Eaves in preparing a property list for the school district.

For county government purposes the assessed valuation of the county is approximately $78,750,000, as against $72,000,000 last year, while the valuation of the county's wealth, including intangibles, public service companies' property and railroad, is about $139,000,000, as against $83,000,000 in 1928. The increase is due principally to the new law for taxing intangibles, according to the Auditor. Several million dollars more of intangibles were declared this year than in previous times, because of the new law, Eaves declared.

Santa Barbara elementary school district, inside of the city limits, has an assessed valuation of $27,840,000, while the outside has a valuation of $998,040. This represents an increase of about $100,000. The assessed valuation of the Santa Barbara High School district is $39,194,370.

Other school district valuations are as follows: Santa Maria elementary, $4,785,300; Santa Maria High School, $14,559,135; Lompoc elementary, $2,900,720; Lompoc High School, $5,004,630; Carpinteria elementary, $3,063,480; Carpinteria High School, $3,473,870; Goleta elementary, $2,690,710; Santa Ynez High School, $4,175,312.

Pioneer Duarte Woman Passes

MONROVIA, Aug. 12.—Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie E. Burner, 64 years of age, who died Saturday night at her home, 509 West Lime avenue, will be held from Renaker's funeral chapel, Wednesday at 2 p.m. Mrs. Burner came to California from Illinois, her native State, thirty-five years ago, and for twenty years resided in Duarte, moving here three years ago. Death occurred a few hours after a paralytic stroke. She leaves her husband, Oliver P. Burner, a son, George Burner and two grandchildren. Dr. Pugh will officiate at the services and interment will take place at Live Oak Cemetery.

NEW KIWANIS CLUB PLANNED IN VALLEY

RESEDA, Aug. 12.—Business men here, in Tarzana and North Los Angeles, formerly Zelzah, have started plans for the formation of a Kiwanis Club for this district, the club to alternate its weekly luncheons in the three towns. Leaders in the movement are Cecil Wilcox, editor of the Reseda News; William Lauesen, Herman Tafel and Lee W. Miller. It is understood that the new club will be sponsored by the North Hollywood club and that about fifty business and professional men will begin as charter members. In the San Fernando area there are Kiwanis clubs at Owensmouth, Van Nuys, San Fernando and North Hollywood.

GLENDALE ATTORNEY RESIGNS

Fox Will Assume Post as Assistant to Los Angeles City Attorney

GLENDALE, Aug. 12. W. Turney Fox, for two years City Attorney here, has resigned his position to become assistant to City Attorney Werner in Los Angeles. The City Council has accepted Fox's resignation and it is intimated that B. C. Brennan, assistant City Attorney, is slated to succeed him as soon as the resignation takes effect early in September.

Prior to assuming the duties of City Attorney, Fox was a member of the faculty at the University of Southern California, specializing on municipal law. He represents Glendale as a director of the Metropolitan Water District, and it is understood that his duties on Werner's staff will be largely devoted to matters affecting the Bureau of Water and Power.

Werner said today that he has conferred several times with Fox and has had his name under consideration as a possible appointee as a deputy, but declared that he had no statement to make on the matter as yet.

Sleepy Driver Rudely Aroused

ARCADIA, Aug. 12.—"And you parked your car in the middle of the street and fell asleep." Judge Horlock addressed J. B. McLellan of 130 Suffolk Place, Sierra Madre, this morning in Police Court, and as McLellan remembered little about the incident a fine of $150 or seventy-five days in the County Jail was imposed by the court.

McLellan was arrested by Chief of Police Coberly and Officer Haines Saturday night when they found his car parked in the center of the street, blocking traffic on Live Oak avenue. He was booked on a charge of intoxication.

As a parting admonition, Judge Horlock advised McLellan that spiritus frumenti is as bad for the purse as the constitution. McLellan was given until tomorrow morning to pay the fine.

Work to Start on Sewer Link

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12. Work has been ordered to start Wednesday on the outfall sewer through the First National Studio property, with the understanding that construction will be completed by October 1, next.

Completion of the sewer through the property will come about as the result of an agreement reached between the Burbank City Council, the city of Los Angeles and the studio executives. The work has been held up because of a disagreement between the Burbank Council and the film company officials. It is stated now that the points under contention have been smoothed out and the work will proceed.

The outfall sewer through this city was completed last winter, and the section beyond the studios and through to Glendale is finished.

POSTAL WORKERS TO HOLD PICNIC

ONTARIO, Aug. 12. — Members of the Ontario postoffice staff will be hosts September 12, next, to Orange belt postal employees at a picnic dinner and program in East Fourth Street Park.

Since the postal workers formed their own social organization they have been meeting frequently at near-by communities. Postal employees have been invited from Upland, Chino, Pomona, Laverne, Fontana and other communities.

LAST OF OLD NAME OF TOWN DISCARDED

NORTH LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12. With the taking down of the old Zelzah sign on the local Southern Pacific depot, the last use of the old name of this town disappears, since the name-changing ceremonies several weeks ago. There is still, however, a Zelzah avenue in this section of San Fernando Valley, running north and south, east of the newly named North Los Angeles townsite.

TEACHER PUSHES FIGHT

Fourteen Other Ventura Pedagogues Backing Miss Coucher's Contention on Appeal

VENTURA, Aug. 12.—Indicating that the matter of "demotion" is far from settled for her, Miss Genevieve Coucher, through her attorneys, served notice today on the District Attorney's office that she will appeal her case against the Ventura Union High School District Board, and Superintendent Melrowe Martin, to the State Supreme Court.

The appeal is brought in seeking relief from the judgment of the Ventura county Superior Court in which Judge Edward Henderson sustained the demurrer to the plaintiff's amended petition for a writ of mandamus, without leave to amend.

Miss Coucher, backed by fourteen other teachers placed in a similar position in the high school and junior college, has sought to be reinstated as "head of the English department" of the Ventura Junior College, the superintendent having "demoted" her, in her opinion, to the position of teaching in the junior high school.

MYSTERY DEATH STILL UNSOLVED

No Apparent Cause for Man's Demise Disclosed

Body Found in Balboa Park Identified

Two-Term Convict Victim of Tragedy

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 12.—A man found dead in Balboa Park late Saturday was identified by fingerprints in the police bureau of identification today as Robert Fitzgerald, 31 years of age, an ex-convict, who served two terms in California State prisons, William A. Menke, assistant superintendent, announced.

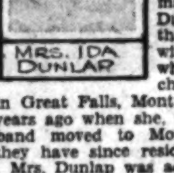
An autopsy performed on the body further intensified the mystery surrounding the death when no apparent cause of death was disclosed. Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly, after receiving his report from Dr. J. J. Shea, County Autopsy Surgeon, ordered a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach and the brain to be made.

Lying beside the body, Coroner's officials announced, were two bottles and two drinking cups. Each was empty, but they are believed to have contained the mysterious potion which caused the victim's death.

Police records disclose that he was arrested in San Francisco in 1917 and sentenced to prison on a burglary charge. He was committed to Folsom prison in 1921 for grand larceny. When he arrived here is unknown. The body is in the Bonham Brothers' mortuary pending further investigation of the case.

Philanthropist, Mrs. Ida Dunlap, Dies in Monrovia

MONROVIA, Aug. 12.—Following a paralytic stroke, the second in two weeks' time, Mrs. Ida Dunlap, 68 years of age, died last night at her home, 626 West Huntington Drive. According to her family, she had been in a semiconscious condition for two days before her death.



MRS. IDA DUNLAP

Born in Germany, Mrs. Dunlap came to this country with her family when a small child and lived in Great Falls, Mont., until twelve years ago when she, with her husband moved to Monrovia where they have since resided.

Mrs. Dunlap was active both socially and in club work. Endowed with a spirit of philanthropy, she was an active worker among poor families but kept her acts of charity, for the most part, a secret.

She leaves besides her husband, George W. Dunlap, a daughter, Mrs. Mamie Herrling of Auburn, N. Y.; two sons, Fred Dorn and Will Dorn, of Great Falls, and a sister, Mrs. Louisa Finkenbinder, here. Renaker Company, in charge of Renaker Company, will be announced later, after word has been received from her children in the East.

Motorist Pleads Manslaughter

LONG BEACH, Aug. 12.—Walter Martin, driver of a car held responsible for an accident in which two persons were killed north of Wilmington May 11, pleaded guilty to one count of manslaughter before Judge Walter J. Desmond in Superior Court today. He applied for probation and sentence was continued until the 29th inst.

A second count of manslaughter, charging that Martin was responsible for the death of his wife, Ermia Martin, and a felony charge of driving while intoxicated, were dismissed following his plea. He admitted responsibility for the death of Earl Mallette, the other victim of the accident.

GARDENA PIONEER FUNERAL TUESDAY

GARDENA, Aug. 12. — Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Mrs. Christian Sebelius, a resident of this place for thirty-five years, who passed away at her home at 930 Magnolia street, last Sunday, the 4th inst., after an illness of a month. The services were delayed to await the arrival of a son, Carl Sebelius, vice-principal of the Redondo Union High School, who was touring the eastern States by automobile and was not reached until yesterday. The husband and a daughter, Mrs. Marie Gorham of Watsonville, also survive her. Services will be from the Swedish Lutheran Church at Fourteenth and Burlington streets, Los Angeles, with the Whittington funeral directors in charge.

REDONDO COUNCIL TO CHANGE ITS HOURS

REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 12.—A resolution changing the meeting nights of the City Council from the evenings of the first and third Mondays to the first and third Tuesdays in the afternoon was introduced at a special meeting of that body this morning. The change is intended to make the meetings more convenient for the Councilmen, and will permit department heads and appointive officers whose presence is needed at the meetings, to attend them on regular office time.

COUNTY BLOCKS RANCHO

Contemplated $500,000 Development Held Up by Lack of Title to Abandoned Roadway

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 12.—Rancho Santa Fe Company is contemplating a $500,000 coast development in the neighborhood of Solana Beach which is hindered by the asserted failure of the county to relinquish title to a stretch of abandoned roadway, Col. Ed Fletcher informed the Board of Supervisors today. The old roadway, long open as a country road, has fallen into disuse since the State paved the new Coast Highway.

Agreement has been made with the Santa Fe property owners that in return for the dedication of the State road right of way the old county roadway will be surrendered to the property adjacent, it was declared. The property adjacent to the old road is all held by the Santa Fe Development Company and the old roadway is necessary for the contemplated subdivision, the board was told.

The board members professed to know nothing of such an agreement and Supervisor Thomas M. Hurley objected to voting abandonment of the old roadway until the agreement is produced. The "save the beaches" movement, adopted by the Supervisors at the behest of the county at large, enters into the matter, according to Hurley. A short stretch of beach fronting on the old road may be lost to the public if the roadway is abandoned as requested by the development concern.

"Public beach rights are more and more important as the coast lands are developed and steps must be taken to conserve every foot of beach possible," Hurley said. "The State Highway Commission has let me know that it is against relinquishment of this particular stretch of beach and is in accord with this Board of Supervisors."

PROPOSED CITY LAWS DISCLOSED

Many Changes Would be Made if San Diego's New Charter is Adopted

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 12.—Transfer of many duties of the city purchasing department to the auditor's office is included in provisions of the new charter now being drafted by Prof. Edwin Cottrell at the direction of the board of freeholders, it was learned today. The inventory of city-owned real estate, equipment and other property would be kept by the auditor instead of the purchasing department. A record of public lands and tidelands also must be maintained by the auditor. The latter will have custody of official bonds of city officials and bonds of contractors for faithful performance of work, now in the hands of the City Clerk.

A code providing for a complete plan of administration organization of the city government must be adopted by councilmanic ordinance within six months of the adoption of the proposed charter and its ratification by the State Legislature. The code now considered by the freeholders provides that the City Manaer appoint the City Treasurer, the head of the Department of Public Works, the Harbor Commission, Water Commission, Chief of Police, Chief of Fire Department, Health and Welfare Commission, Park Commission, Recreation and Playground Commission, Library Commission, budget officer, personnel director and Purchasing Agent.

Yeggs Blow Up Anaheim Safe; Obtain $1151

ANAHEIM, Aug. 12. — Thieves, who last night blew and robbed the safe of the Tip Top Market at Center and Palm streets, obtained $1151 in cash and checks, according to a report today by George Jones and N. E. Swainson, proprietors. The robbery is believed the work of professional cracksmen, according to J. S. Bouldin, Chief of Police. No fingerprints were found any place about the safe or door through which entrance to the store building was gained.

Actual blowing of the safe took place in the refrigerator, where much evidence of the crime was found. Following the opening of the strongbox the money and valuables were removed and the safe was taken back to its customary place where it was found by the proprietors this morning. Approximately half of the loss was in cash, the remainder being in indorsed checks.

Huck Finn to be Up Before Tom Sawyer!

UPLAND, Aug. 12.—Huck Finn of Mark Twain fame probably possessed a desire to speed, but the old steamboat on which he traveled never reached the clip that Huck Finn of Los Angeles did in an automobile on the highways near here.

Huck was arrested by Officer C. S. Lehman on a speeding charge and Huck will meet one of his old friends this week when he appears before Chief of Police J. F. (Tom) Sawyer to talk over the fast ride.

The meeting of Huck and Sawyer promises to have a different ending than the storybook yarn.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS SOUGHT BY LEGION

ONTARIO, Aug. 12.—Officers of Ontario Legion Post and their auxiliary today headed a campaign to learn the names of all gold-star mothers of the community who might be eligible for the free trip provided by the government in the fall to France, where the mothers may visit the graves of their sons killed during the World War. Thus far no mothers have been found whose sons still lie in French cemeteries, their bodies being returned to the United States for burial.

VAN NUYS, Aug. 12.—Bids for the construction of the $1,000,000 dam in Big Tujunga Canyon will be called for within the next two or three weeks, it is announced here by Chief County Flood Control Engineer E. C. Eaton. It was announced several days ago that the Federal government had approved of the use of land in the canyon for the flood control and water conservation dam.

Three Times and Out for Chronic Court Battler

ARCADIA, Aug. 12. —A battle which had its inception months ago is thought to have been settled in Judge Horlock's court this morning when Albert Ortwein, defendant in the case, appeared on a charge of disturbing the peace and was fined $100 or fifty days in the County Jail.

The plaintiff, Ray Rarog, neighbor of Ortwein, both living in the 1600 block on Tenth avenue, recited to the court a detailed story of quarrels taking place between himself and Ortwein during the past year, and how Ortwein, the asserted aggressor, on the morning of July 29 picked a fight with him and used obscene language before his wife.

Ortwein produced as evidence a badly torn blue work shirt which he wore on the morning of the fight and contended that Rarog owed him back taxes on some property he sold him.

After hearing both sides of the story Judge Horlock sentenced Ortwein and gave him until 10 a.m. tomorrow to produce the fine or go to jail for fifty days. According to police records, Ortwein has appeared in court three times this year on assault and disturbing the peace charges.

Kappa Alpha Opens Sessions

LONG BEACH, Aug. 12.—Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity opened its twenty-seventh national convention here today, meeting in business session at the Breakers Hotel with more than 200 delegates in attendance. David B. Zent, national president, presided. Granting of chapters to groups in a number of schools and communities is contemplated by the officials of the convention, Henry W. Swiggert of Stillwater, Okla., national organizer, reported. The convention will be in session four days.

COLLEGE HEATING PLANT UNDER WAY

CLAREMONT, Aug. 12.—Construction work began today on the new $40,000 heating plant to be operated for Pomona, Scripps and Claremont Colleges, by Claremont Colleges. The new plant is to be built by C. T. Stover, contractor, and is designed by Dr. Carl Thomas of Pasadena and Los Angeles. It will be of artistic, yet serviceable, type constructed of reinforced cement. The old Pomona College heating-plant is to be dismantled soon. The new plant will incorporate all modern heating principles and equipment is of the induced draft type and will be ready after September 15.

SAFE SAFER IN SECOND BREAK

Strong Welding Works' Strong Box Getting Stronger, Yeggs Ascertain

VENTURA, Aug. 12. —Yeggs broke into the office of the Strong Welding Works here last night, knocked the combination lock off the safe with cold chisels, disfigured the door with a jimmy and were frightened away before they were able to force it open.

Escaping, the unskilled cracksmen took with them whatever articles of office equipment they could lay their hands on. The attempt to break into the safe was the second within six months.

It contained business records and valuable papers pertaining to construction of the new $8000 building immediately in front of the welding works. The safe had been returned from Los Angeles last week, where it had been repaired after being wrecked by yeggs in the former attempt.

ALHAMBRA VALUATION SHOWS RISE

City Clerk Asserts That Change Will be Made in Last Year's Tax Rate

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 12.—Figures from the County Assessor's office today placed the assessed valuation of this city at $28,203,200. The figures show an increase over those of last year of $773,305, according to City Clerk R. Bruce Wallace.

The assessed valuations of the adjoining communities of Monterey Park and San Gabriel was announced at County Auditor Payne's office as follows: Monterey Park, $4,899,245; San Gabriel, $6,500,120.

The tax rate for the city will be set the 27th inst. It is the City Clerk's opinion that the rate will be changed from that of $1.68 per $100 of assessed valuation as in effect last year. No indication of whether the rate will be increased or decreased was given. Upon the basis of last year's taxation, the revenue to be obtained by the city from taxes this year would total $424,200.

It is anticipated that the school tax rate of $2.08 per $100 of assessed valuation in effect for the last fiscal year will be reduced despite improvements and the recent issuance of elementary school bonds amounting to $247,000, according to George L. Yelland, secretary of the Board of Education.

Orange County May Have Own Grand Opera

SANTA ANA, Aug. 12.—Formation of a grand opera company is under consideration, here, it was made known today. D. C. Olanfoni, director of the Municipal Band, and Guido Caselotte, vocal teacher, are the sponsors of the new opera company, it is said. Carl Siebert, formerly a tenor soloist in grand opera companies in Europe and head of the local department of the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, is another person interested in the organization of the company.

Caselotti's wife, Marie Caselotti, who for the past three years has been appearing the Municipal Theater in Rome, and his daughter, Louise Caselotti, also a noted vocalist, will appear in the new Orange County Grand Opera Company, it is said. Presentation of "Carmen" is one of the first productions planned by the company, it is said.

THREE ARRESTED IN MURDER CASE

Officers Refuse to Reveal Names of Suspects

Movements of Santa Paulan Partially Traced

Victim Found in Gravel Pit Stabbed Twelve Times

VENTURA, Aug. 12.—Three persons suspected of being implicated in the murder of Joe Valencia, 50-year-old Mexican carpenter of Santa Paula, found dead in a gravel pit there Saturday morning, have been placed under arrest and are now in the County Jail, but their names and theories on which Sheriff Howard Durley and Deputy Sheriff Pablo Ayala are conducting the investigation, were not made public today.

Reports of the activities of Valencia, father of six children, are being checked and statements revealing information as to where he was last seen were in hand late today, it was learned from Deputy Dist.-Atty. Don B. [illegible]

As far as has been ascertained, Valencia was seen leaving a market about 7 p.m. Friday. His body was found about [illegible] a.m. [illegible] day.

Twelve knife wounds, apparently aimed at the jugular vein, were found, but is generally believed Valencia had been knocked unconscious by a blow on the head before the stabbing took place.

MURDER INVESTIGATION REVEALS STILL PLANT

SANTA PAULA, Aug. 12.—When police questioned Jacinto [illegible] regarding the murder of Joe Valencia he shook so much that officers became suspicious and searched his home here. They reported they found a fifty-gallon still, sixty-five gallons of mash and eight gallons of whisky. He is to be tried on the liquor-law violation and held for questioning in connection with the murder.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SEATTLE, Aug. 12. (AP)—Bringing the largest silk shipment received in several months, the American mail liner President McKinley docked here late today.

Four thousand bales of raw silk were in the hold of the vessel and were transferred immediately to a waiting express train for shipment to the East.

The McKinley had 200 passengers, including seventy-two in the first cabin. General freight totaled 2800 tons.

H. M. Runyon, Pacific Coast representative of the United States Intercoastal Conference, with headquarters in San Francisco, is expected by shipping men to arrive here this week to establish the conference's first weighing and inspection bureau in the Pacific Northwest. Similar bureaus will be established at Tacoma and Portland.

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—Portland representatives of steamship lines plying to the eastern seaboard were advised today that further extension of the open rate on intercoastal lumber shipments through October had been decided at a recent conference.

This will add another month to the open rate period. The open rate was established originally for July and August shipments and later was extended to September. It is said no indications have been received whether the rate will remain open after October.

ADVERTISING MEN GATHER AT BANQUET

Ambassador Schurman at Dinner to 5000 Talks on Hope of World Peace

BERLIN, Aug. 12. (AP)—Although hundreds of delegates to the International Advertising Association convention were tempted away from the afternoon session by the gorgeous summer weather, the full complement of 5000 donned evening dress tonight for the "international evening" banquet at the Zoological Garden.

United States Ambassador Schurman, one of the guests of honor, stressed in his speech the part which men trained in advertising might take in the field of international relations.

The Ambassador thought the news of the world was too frequently about crime, scandals, malfeasance in office, political chicanery and national ambitions, whereas there was little of the hard-working, virtuous and peace-loving majority in all nations, by which they should be judged.

"If wars are to cease the nations must learn to know and judge one another by what is best in each. I honestly trust that this convention may hasten that glorious consummation."

At the late afternoon session Louis Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, described the advantages of "censored advertising," which he said is primarily for the protection of the reader.

Pair Confesses Robbery Hoax

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12. (AP)—After first declaring they had been held up and robbed shortly after noon today of $3080.30 in the heart of Sacramento's business district, J. A. Gresens, assistant manager of the Hippodrome Theater, and C. H. Beggs, an employee, confessed tonight they had planned the robbery hoax and cached the money near the city.

Crocker Death Driver Convicted

REDWOOD CITY, Aug. 12. (AP)—After a trial lasting only one day a jury late today found Carl Flannigan, Palo Alto hospital employee, guilty of manslaughter in connection with the deaths June 26 of Mrs. Lydia P. Monteagle and Mrs. Henry J. Crocker, wealthy society women, in an automobile wreck.

POSTAL SUPERVISORS ELECT BAY CITYITE

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 12. (AP)—Postal supervisors of California ended a two-day convention here by electing T. F. Hardy, San Francisco, president. S. M. Hunt of Glendale was chosen vice-president; C. M. Brown of Wilmington, secretary, and J. J. Lane, San Francisco, second vice-president. Postoffice Inspector R. P. Miller, representing Postmaster-General Brown, and Postmaster Harry L. Todd of San Francisco, addressed the convention.

48-HOUR COAST TO COAST RAIL-AIR SERVICE helps establish new world's record on 8000-mile trip

RICHARD J. BURKE of California—Survey Engineer—arrived in New York Sunday, August 4. He had come by Zeppelin from Friedrichshafen, Germany, in 93 hours, 40 minutes!

Next evening, August 5, he boarded The Airway Limited—famous Pennsylvania train—at 6.05 P.M. (Standard Time) in New York.

48 hours later he was in Los Angeles!—having completed the whole trip from Germany to California in less than six days of actual traveling time! . . .

The success of the first 48-hour Coast to Coast Rail-Air Service—developed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., and the Santa Fe Railway—is due to many months of scientific investigation and preparation under supervision of a staff of experts, headed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

In short, everything possible has been done to ensure in this new enterprise the same high standards of speed, security, comfort, which characterize the operations of "the largest fleet of trains in America".

INN

"The Feathers", Ludlow

"There is nothing which has yet been contrived by man, by which so much happiness is produced as by a good tavern or inn."

So spoke Dr. Johnson in the days of coaching when English Inns flourished. Many of these Inns still thrive. One of the finest is "The Feathers" at Ludlow, Shropshire; famous for its elaborate half-timbered construction and the superb carving in its dining room. To dine in that beamed room is to feel one's self in an older England.

Aero Corporation Buys Into Mid-Continent Line

Action Gives Eastern Outlet to Standard System

Company Reports Progress in Earnings Statement

Acquisition of a stock interest in the Mid-Continent Air Express by the Aero Corporation of California, Inc., was announced yesterday by Jack Frye, president. The Mid-Continent Air Express which is closely affiliated with Western Air Express interests will soon begin the operation of air lines from Denver to Kansas City and from Denver to El Paso where Standard Lines, a subsidiary of the Aero Corporation has a terminal airport.

The tie-up of Aero Corporation with Mid-Continent follows the recent purchase of a substantial interest in the former company by Harris M. Hanshue, president of the Fokker Aircraft Corporation, and James A. Talbot, chairman of the Richfield Oil Company, and chairman of the Fokker Company. Mr. Hanshue is a director of the Aero Corporation.

TO LIST SHARES

It was also learned yesterday that Aero Corporation has applied for listing its common and preferred stock on the San Francisco Curb Exchange and that similar action is to be taken towards listing the stock on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange.

The company yesterday released a consolidated earnings report covering the first seven months of this year which showed a net deficit after all charges including depreciation and reserve for contingencies of $35,209. Net income for the period was $153,067. Net profits for July totaled $7753 and operating income was $37,152.

Gross revenues totaled $285,371.26 as compared with $157,550 for the similar period of 1928. Exclusive of the revenues of Standard Air Lines, the gross revenue of the Aero Corporation was $247,898.26 as against $133,550 in the 1928 period.

The rapid expansion of the corporation is revealed in the growth of total assets which were listed at about $69,000 on July 31, 1928, as compared with $982,823.47 on July 31, last. Current assets on the latter date were $367,352.97 against current liabilities of $56,928.23.

EXPANSION RAPID

During the first seven months of 1928 the company showed net profits of $13,730.85. Officials pointed out that in the rapid expansion of the corporation since that period the overhead involved many items of a non-recurring nature and they added present indications point towards the company's turning its net deficit shown for the first seven months of this year into net profits before the close of the year.

For about $10.50

EXPANSION OF CAPITAL APPROVED

Pacific Mutual Increase Indorsed by Holders; to be Continued Yearly

Stockholders of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company at a special meeting yesterday formally approved the directors' proposal to increase the capital stock of the company from $4,000,000 to $4,400,000 through the issuance of 40,000 additional $10 par shares.

Shareholders of record the 14th inst. will be entitled to subscribe for one additional share at $50 per share for each ten shares held. No fractional shares will be issued by the company so that fractional rights may either be sold or purchased to permit the issuance of full shares.

Certificates evidencing the right of the stockholders to purchase the new stock will be mailed by the company shortly after the 15th inst. The rights will expire September 30. They are already being quoted on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange on a when-as-and-if-issued basis.

At the time George I. Cochran, president, first made the announcement regarding the proposal to increase the capital stock of the company, he stated his recommendation for this year's increase was the first for a program covering a ten-year period, a similar increase to be made each year until the present capital stock is doubled.

Trust Formed for Rail Stocks

Formation of the first large investment company to specialize in the holding of railroad securities with an initial authorized share capitalization of approximately $25,000,000, was announced yesterday. This company, which will be known as International Carriers, Ltd., will have on its board of directors several prominent railroad executives.

Although the primary purpose of the corporation will be to invest and deal in railroad securities, the articles of incorporation are not so restricted. It is the intention of the company to invest to some extent in other fields, particularly in industries allied to the railroads. Operations will not be limited to domestic securities.

ICE CREAM CHAIN TO INTRODUCE NEW LINE

Chapman's Ice Cream Company, chain system dealing exclusively in ice cream, will branch into another line on or before October 1, next. To offset the decline in ice cream sales during the winter months, the company will sell boxed chocolates and boxed toffee, A. A. Comey, president, announced yesterday. The candy to be carried will be a Chapman product, he stated.

AIR MAIL EXTENSION DUE

Aviation Corporation Head Predicts Early Transfer of All First-Class Business to Airplanes

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Graham B. Grosvenor, president of the Aviation Corporation, in outlining yesterday the operating experience of his company and its subsidiaries, said: "We venture to predict that the time is not far distant when practically all first-class mail, with the exception of mail on very short hauls, will be carried by airplane."

Wrapped up in this statement is virtually the whole future of airplane transportation companies. For months it has been evident that the large aviation interests have been laying the ground work for the inauguration of a nation-wide air mail policy by the government to cover practically all of the first-class mail. Air routes have been extended and united by enterprising companies, new equipment purchased, and operating efficiency brought to the highest possible point.

COST DATA SOUGHT

For its part the government has been inquiring carefully into operating costs of the mail carriers, and collecting all data possible that will bear on the price it should pay the carriers for the transportation of mail. Existing rates are scheduled for a reduction before the end of next month to a point where it is hoped that the public, the government and the carriers will be satisfied.

The airplane companies apparently look for a rate that will permit a satisfactory profit and at the same time will be low enough to induce the government to divert all its first-class mail to the air routes. Contracts for this business will be eagerly sought, and the victorious bidders will have a definite edge over competing air lines.

Without revenue from freight the transportation business, whether by rail, water or motor, has never been particularly attractive financially. There is no reason to believe that airplane companies will be able to reverse the trend, although passenger business is increasing satisfactorily and some operations are showing a profit. But after all these companies must depend on air mail contracts or the building up of a large volume of express business for the real profits.

POUNDAGE INCREASES

Air mail, as shown by the statistics compiled by the Aviation Corporation on its operations, has been popular. For the first half of 1929 the subsidiaries of this company carried 404,239 pounds, which compares with 86,225 pounds in the first half of 1928, and 349,518 pounds for the year of 1928. As compensation for the carriage of this mail, the Aviation Corporation received $739,573.20 in the first six months of this year, against $204,127.08 in the corresponding period of 1928.

This company and its subsidiaries operate eleven of the twenty-five contract air mail routes, one foreign air mail route and one Canadian route. The contract routes are 4281 miles in length; the foreign route 332 miles and the Canadian route, sixty-two miles. This mileage compares with 3059 and 1777 miles for the second and third largest air mail systems in the United States.

Encouraging figures on passenger traffic also are furnished by Aviation Corporation. On its total mileage of 7536, comprising twenty-two passenger routes, the company's subsidiaries transported 14,840 passengers in the first five months of 1929, or virtually the same number as were carried in the twelve months of 1928. The 1928 total was 14,841 passengers.

Net Profits of Albers Milling Gain for Year

Net profits of the Albers Brothers Milling Company for the year ended June 30, last, amounted to $356,042 after all charges excepting taxes, against $118,109 for the preceding year, a gain of $237,933, or more than 200 per cent, G. Albers, president, announced yesterday.

While the preferred stock has been on a dividend basis since August, 1928, accumulated unpaid dividends to date amount to $12,750. After paying $158,000 in preferred dividends, $170,000 has been added to surplus, bringing the total surplus to $450,598 before accounting for accumulated preferred stock dividends.

Sales of package cereals increased 12 per cent and sales of proprietary feeds gained 15 per cent, Mr. Albers stated. Indications are that the Pacific Coast grain yield will be of a very good quality this year so that the outlook for the company is very encouraging, he stated.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—Early advances of the cotton market on doubt as to the adequacy of the rains reported in the Southwest over Sunday and continued high temperatures in that quarter were attributed largely to covering, and a little more selling or realizing developed around the 18½c level for January contracts. This caused moderate reactions and the midafternoon market was quiet at declines of 8 or 10 points from the best.

Dr. Baer Heads Security Bank's Pasadena Units

Dr. John Willis Baer, former vice-president of the Los Angeles-First National Bank in charge of Pasadena operations, has been elected supervising director of the Security-First National Bank in addition to his office as Pasadena vice-president. Dr. Baer has been a Pasadena banker since his retirement from the presidency of Occidental College in 1916.

Election of Joseph Caunt as vice-president and manager of the Pasadena branch and of W. R. Scoville as vice-president and manager of the Colorado and Broadway branch was also announced. Mr. Scoville succeeds Mr. Caunt as chief executive of the latter branch.

The Maryland branch of the bank will be discontinued on the 24th inst. and its business consolidated with that of the Pasedena branch. There is no intention of combining the Colorado and Broadway branch with the Pasadena unit, but the executive boards of the two will be combined under the chairmanship of Dr. Baer, it was announced.

Curtiss Wright Program Ready

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—The organization plan of Curtiss Wright Corporation, a consolidation of twelve airplane companies, including the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company and Wright Aeronautical Corporation, will be declared operative the 15th inst., it was announced today. This makes approval of the plan just a month after it was submitted to stockholders. This is believed to be a record for speed in completing a merger of this size.

One of the first steps of Curtiss Wright will be the formation of an aviation research corporation, it was learned. Stocks of the company are being traded on the New York Curb Exchange on a when-issued basis and application will be made this month to list them on the New York Stock Exchange. Wright Aeronautical and Curtiss Aeroplane stocks already are traded on the stock exchange.

Coty Profits Rise Sharply

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (Exclusive) Coty, Inc., reported today a preliminary net income for the six months ended June 30, last, of $1,945,813, equal to $1.43 a share on 1,355,341 capital shares, including 44,292 shares issued as stock dividends on February 27 and May 28, of this year. This compares with $1,499,552, or $4.51 a share on stock outstanding at the close of the first half of 1928.

The net income for the June quarter, according to the preliminary statement, totaled $776,068 after all charges equal to 56 cents a share on 1,355,341 shares. This compares with $1,169,745 in the preceding quarter and $651,654, or $1.99 a share on 327,762 shares for the June, 1928, quarter.

Lawyer Named Bond Executive

R. B. McConlogue, Los Angeles lawyer, was elected executive vice-president and director of the District Bond Company at a meeting of the board of directors yesterday. Horace Miller, local capitalist and business man, was at the same time elected member of the board.

Mr. McConlogue is a member of the law partnership of Dryer, Castle, McConlogue & Richards. For the past fifteen years he has specialized in the examination of the validity of all kinds of tax lien and municipal bonds. Mr. Miller is former president of the Union Iron Works, former president of the Automobile Club of Southern California and director of the Consolidated Steel Company.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Early trading on yesterday's fairly liberal supply was active at steady to strong prices on steers and steady to weak on she stock. However, plainer grades slowed up considerably and were barely steady on the late session with some sales of she stock looking 15@25c lower. Other classes ruled steady. Around 15 loads of cattle were unsold at a late hour.

Yesterday's top in carlots for matured steers was 11.75 paid for three loads of 898 and 1128-pound averages. Odd head of steers made 12.00, while a small lot of 536-pound yearling steers and heifers for baby beef made 12.50. The majority of medium steers cashed from 10.60@11.50, mostly 11.00@11.50, while common steers sold from 9.10@10.25, mostly 9.75@10.00 for Imperial Mexicans. A few very thin steers sold down to 8.50 and below. A load of 935-pound stags realized 8.25.

Odd head of good light heifers sold from 10.25@11.00, with a short load of 714-pound averages at 10.00. Other heifers turned from 8.50@9.75, including a load of 487-pound Arizonas at 8.75. Odd head of cows sold from 9.25@9.60, with the top in carlots at 9.00. The majority of common and medium cows cashed from 7.50@8.75, including medium Utahs at 8.50. Very common cows, including some on the cutter order, sold around 7.00. Cutter and low cutters cleared from 3.00@6.75. Most bulls, medium kind, moved from 7.50@8.35, with odd head of good bulls around 8.50.

CALVES—The small supply was cleaned up slowly at about steady prices. Odd head of good and choice vealers sold from 13.50@14.50, while most vealers went over from 11.50@13.00, including a short load of medium 301-pound averages at 12.25. Plain calves, including extreme heavies and cull and common vealers, cleared from 8.00@11.00.

HOGS—Active demand developed and yesterday's fairly liberal supply was cleaned up on the morning session. Prices generally were steady to strong. Yesterday's top, 13.25, was paid for a car of good 193-pound Texas butchers. The bulk of desirable 155 to 203-pound butchers turned from 13.00@13.25, including two loads of Imperials at 13.00. Mixed butchers, including the majority of Californias, sold from 12.50@12.75, while a load of 141-pound Californias made 12.25. A short load of 238-pound California butchers made 12.00. A sizable lot of 114-pound feeder pigs went out for 11.75. Packing sows were in small supply from 10.00@10.25.

SHEEP—An early clearance was made of the fair supply. Lambs ruled steady, while ewes were steady to strong with Saturday's 25@50c advance. A sizable lot of medium lambs made 12.00, while about two decks of shorn light weight buck lambs from the island made 10.25. Yearling wethers from up the coast sold for 10.50, with aged wethers at 9.00. Shorn light weight island ewes made 7.20. A small lot of good 134-pound coast ewes made 7.00, while cull and common Central California ewes sold for 3.50@5.00. Saturday a six-deck string of Northern California shorn ewes sold for 7.00 on good and choice 112-pound averages, 4.90 on common 91-pound weights and 3.60 on cull 87-pound averages.

RATE ACTION FAR-REACHING

Other Districts Expected to Follow New York Federal Rediscount Advance

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—While Col. Leonard P. Ayers, vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, referred to the action of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in raising its rediscount rate from 5 per cent to 6 per cent without giving warning to anyone as "an expected belated action," W. C. Durant countered by calling it "another bad blunder." Both think, however, that the action has had far-reaching effects. Little stock market operators know it has.

Now the New York bank, the most powerful one in the Federal Reserve system, having led the way, it is expected that a majority, if not all, of the other eleven Federal Reserve banks in the system will follow suit and increase their rediscount rates to 6 per cent. Such increases should occur in a number of cases this week. Chicago brokers already understand that an increase in the rate in that district may be looked for shortly.

Will this increase dampen the intense speculation that has been going on for years? The present bull movement has been running for more than five years. There have been a few recessions here and there, but the upward swing has been unmistakable during this entire period.

With the American foreign trade totaling $10,000,000,000 annually in round figures, the change in the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve is now the first news in the business world. It is real news throughout the world. For when the New York bank suddenly increased its rate last week, this news was carried on the front page of nearly every important paper in the world.

All of which brings up again the important matter of the fiscal policy of the Federal Reserve Board being worked out on a national and international basis. Today it is more or less a guess regarding just what the Federal Reserve policy will be next week or next month.

Some day business will understand far more impressively than it does today the vast importance of such a program.

Farmers in the United States are not the only ones who have suffered since the war. Deflation has had its devastating effects in nearly every agricultural country in the world.

France particularly is giving its attention at this time to the problem of how to arrest the exodus of farmers from the country into the larger cities. This movement has been growing for several years and it does not seem to have reached the peak.

A bill has been introduced into the French Parliament providing for the creation of a national bureau of agricultural economic and social research to devise the means of checking the exodus from the rural districts. It is expected that a close survey will be made of all factors involved in the question. Tax burdens will be taken up. The cost of money for farmers is another one to be studied. The increasing cost of water, gas, electricity and telephone another. How easy or difficult is access to small land ownership? What is being done for the young people in the field of amusements? Likewise for the improvement of intellectual life in the country.

But when all is said and done, it is axiomatic that interesting and important as these questions are, they really are secondary. Make the farmer prosperous, give him a chance to enjoy some of the fruits which should come from his labors and he will provide all of the other things that go to make up modern civilization.

Financing the Construction of the WORLD'S LARGEST PIPELINE

LINKING the fuel resources of the rich Northwestern Louisiana gas fields with the rapidly growing "industrial Southeast", including Atlanta, Georgia, a great $22,100,000 pipeline is now being built by Southern Natural Gas Corporation. The main line will be 421 miles in length with 409 miles in feeder and branch lines, comprising the world's largest transmission system for natural gas.

To finance this great new development, the corporation has issued First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds which constitute an exceptionally attractive investment and are secured by a first mortgage on its properties. Holders of each $1000 bond are entitled to purchase, after July 1st, 1930, thirty shares of the corporation's common stock on a decidedly favorable basis. We offer—

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—Prices of investment bonds skidded again today. The reaction was not as severe as last Friday's nor was liquidation as heavy, but the close found the Associated Press average for ten first-grade rails at a new four-year low.

One of the few encouraging signs in the dull session was the steadiness of the Liberties. Traders are awaiting with interest this week's Federal Reserve statement to learn whether the bank's holdings of government securities has increased, although it is believed that gains will be shown in the immediate future since increases in bill holdings, following the reduction of the purchase rate, are generally expected. The two portfolios do not necessarily move in symphony, but in view of the impending need for credit to finance the annual crop movements, marked gains in each account would not be surprising.

Purchase of government securities by the bank, traders point out, would be of considerable assistance to the general bond list. When government issues were strong a month ago, Domestic mortgage made a fair spurt, but neither group was able to hold its claim because of the slack demand.

As was natural from the course of today's stock market, convertible bonds made a broad recovery and accounted for about 50 per cent of the total volume. American Telephone 4½s showed an extreme gain of 6¼ points, closing a point below the top on a turnover of $2,500,000. Atchison 4½s followed the shares upward and changed hands a small fraction below their record price of 189¾. At their closing price of 187 they were up 1½ on the day. International Telephone 4½ showed a 3-point advance, and American I. G. Chemical 5½s closed 3 points higher.

In the gilt rails, Baltimore and Ohio first 5s, Central of Georgia 6s, Great Northern 7s, Missouri Pacific 5s, Northern Pacific 6s and 5s and Union Pacific 4½s sold down from ½ to ¾, while losses of a point or more appeared in Great Northern Pacific 4½s and Pennsylvania Consolidated 4½s. Baltimore and Ohio gold 4s touched a new low.

The tone of the industrial group was easy, while utilities were mixed. Foreign sugars again developed weakness, Cuba Cane Sugar debenture 8s and convertible 7½s going down to new minimums. National Dairy Products 5¼s, under pressure last week, rallied about half a point.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Lower prices in the London market were instrumental in the development of easiness in futures at the local rubber exchange today, where closing prices showed net declines of from 10 to 30 points below previous finals. The close was at the low of the day on a turnover of 216 contracts, or 540 long tons. London was steady and ⅛d lower at 10⅝d. Outside spot was down ¼c to 20⅝c.

Company and Business

The General Instrument Corporation has been organized by Mr. Vincent Bendix and associates to acquire James P. Marsh & Company, Chicago, Illinois; The American Paulin System, Inc., Los Angeles, California; and Tiffany Manufacturing Company, Newark, N. J. The constituent companies manufacture well-known lines of instruments for aircrafts, automobiles, railroad locomotives, steamships, buildings, refrigeration, scientific uses, manufacturing plants, etc.

Assets of the consolidated companies will amount to in excess of $4,500,000, of which approximately $2,250,000 will be in cash.

In addition to coordinating the present sales and manufacturing facilities of the constituent companies, Bendix Aviation Corporation will contract to distribute a major portion of the output of aircraft instruments and devices.

As a result of negotiations now pending for the acquisition of other companies and products, it is planned that General Instrument Corporation will be able to offer for sale as complete a line of instruments and allied products for the uses described above, as may be had anywhere in the world.

NUMBER EIGHT OF A SERIES
Diversifying Your Investment List

The Railroads

SHOWING complete recovery from their post-war depression, the railroads of America have once more taken their rightful place among the most stable and important of utilities.

How complete this recovery has been is indicated by the net operating income of 84 principal American railroads, which for the first six months of 1929 amounted to $509,473,000 as compared with $423,945,000 for the first six months of 1928—a gain of over 20%.

Another factor contributing to the investment strength of the rails is the recent so-called O'Fallon decision of the United States Supreme Court, which permits the valuation of rail properties for rate-making purposes on a materially higher basis.

From the standpoint of sound diversification and fundamental strength, we believe every investor may well include high-grade rail-road securities among his holdings. Our current offerings in this field include the bonds of one of the world's greatest railroad systems carrying the unconditional guarantee of the Dominion of Canada as to both principal and interest. Priced to yield about 5%, these bonds offer an outstanding issue in the conservative investment field.

Detailed circular descriptive of this offering will be gladly furnished. Coupon below is for your convenience in sending for it.

Bond Company Organized by Theater Owner

Sol Lesser, who retired from active business two years ago when he sold his holdings in the West Coast Theaters to William Fox, yesterday announced his entrance into the investment banking field. He has opened offices on Hollywood Boulevard, where he will conduct a general investment business and an investment advisory service.

As his first venture, Mr. Lesser is organizing a $2,000,000 investment trust, the capital of which is already subscribed and paid in, which will be known as the Principal Securities Corporation of America.

He is president of Principal Pictures Corporation, which controls the Roy Davidge Film Laboratories, Hollywood; president, Master Pictures Corporation, which controls the Harold Bell Wright stories; president, Principal Theaters Corporation of America, owning thirty theaters throughout the United States, and president, Plymouth Investment Corporation, owning real estate on Hollywood and Wilshire boulevards, and acreage in the San Fernando Valley.

In his new investment banking venture, Mr. Lesser expects to participate in eastern syndicates and deal in listed securities.

Into Heavy Oil Sand

The Milham Exploration Company is reported to have picked up four feet of heavily saturated oil sand in its Kennedy No. 1 at Kettleman Hills, between 7186 and 7190 feet, and is drilling ahead. This project is nearing the producing depth of the Elliott No. 1 discovery well in that district.

When Prices Are Low

is often just the time when the small investor has not the funds to buy what he recognizes as unusually attractive investment opportunities.

Conversely, however, the capably managed Investment Trust with its widely diversified interests is likely to be prepared to take advantage of such "bargains."

—one reason why we recommend, particularly to the small investor, the shares of which owns over 200 different securities representing investments in many different industries.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Demand Quickens for Petroleum Shares Which Advance to Feature Stock Trading

Oil shares on a pronounced demand and following weeks of inactivity and neglect, attracted the spotlight yesterday as the week's trading was resumed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The balance of the list while not as actively traded as on one or two of last week's outstanding sessions showed signs of a strong undertone and closed higher on the day.

Barnsdall, among the oils, made the most notable advance with a gain of 4 points to a high at 36½. The issue closed at 1-4. Standard of California jumped 3 points to 73 and ended at 72 7-8. Richfield and MacMillan closed high for the day at 40 3-4 and 35, up 1 3-4 points each. Rio Grande, leading the turnover of the market, reached 29½ and ended at 1-4, up 1-8 net. Union closed high at 47, up 3-4, and Union Associates finished up 1 to 46 after reaching 46½.

Pacific Lighting was the spectacular issue on the utility board and soared 9 points to a high at 124, closing later at 122 1-4, up 7 1-4 net. Southern California Edison advanced a point to 74½ and ended at 73 3-4, up 1-4 net. The original preferred jumped 2 points to 72. Pacific Public Service closed high at 27½, up ⅛.

On the industrial board, Byron Jackson and Douglas Aircraft improved fractionally, while Emsco lost 1-4 to 31. Pacific Clay Products reacted 2 1-4 points to 35. Pacific Finance continued a leader of the trading and after reaching 140 1-8 ended at 139 1-4, off 3-4 net. Transamerica gained ⅛ to 138 1-4, while Security-First National eased 3-4 to 131 7-8.

Sales totaled 27,987 shares valued at $1,181,796.

BAY CITY CURB

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. (AP)—Further gains were witnessed on the curb exchange today, at the opening, as a result of week end buying orders entering into the market. As the day progressed, however, a slight irregularity entered due probably to profit-taking.

Columbia Steel opened with ½ point gain at 17 and advanced with 13,165 shares to a high of 17⅝, closing fractionally above the opening price. After slumping to 99½ the preferred stock regained to close with no change at 100. Southern California Edison led the utilities to higher levels.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Specifications for plates, spikes and other track fastenings are influenced by season conditions, but current demand compares favorably with that of a year ago. The market is quiet from the standpoint of new inquiry.

Steel plants in the Youngstown districts are operating at an average of 84 per cent of capacity and it is believed that the industry in the territory has passed the low point of the year and will enjoy accelerated demand during the remainder of 1929.

Copper is quiet but steady at 18 cents Connecticut.

Zinc is holding at 6.80 East St. Louis.

Lead is moderately active at 6.55 East St. Louis and 6.75 New York.

Tin was slightly easy today with spot straits quoted at 46.50.

ASSOCIATED GAS AND ELECTRIC SYSTEM

One of Nation's Greatest Public Utilities

Serving over 1,200,000 customers in more than 2200 communities in eighteen states, the Philippine Islands and the maritime provinces of Canada, the Associated Gas and Electric System is one of the largest public utility systems in the United States. Assets are valued at more than $800,000,000, supported by gross revenues of nearly $100,000,000 annually.

With wide geographic distribution of its properties, the large number of industrial and domestic consumers, and the varied nature of its services, the Associated System has an unusual degree of diversity as to income.

Your inquiry is invited regarding the securities of the Associated system.

Rancho Santa Fe Property At Less Than $425 Per Acre

78.10 acres at $32,983.00, offers opportunity to purchase in this wonderful community, land at less than wholesale cost. Property of this character, with deep, fertile soil adapted to horticultural planting, with water, close to the ocean, is practically unobtainable in Southern California at such a price.

Rancho Santa Fe has many fine estates, but none offers better opportunity for development of the typical California Ranch.

Applying the

DEPARTMENT IDEA

in Finance

THE modern investment house now has a broader function in the community than the mere buying or selling of securities. Its scope has been enlarged to embrace all phases of the investment of money. In reality, it is a department store of finance, where responsible enterprises come to get new capital and where investors may invest their accumulated funds wisely and profitably. At William R. Staats Company, the following services are available:

Financing Department

—plans and underwrites the financing and refinancing of established industrial concerns, public utilities, mutual water companies and other well-managed and firmly entrenched corporations.

Bond Department

—offers a complete and well-selected list of government, municipal, district, public utility, foreign, corporation and building bonds and preferred stocks—chosen from every important investment market in America.

Stock Department

—executes orders for buying and selling stocks or bonds listed anywhere in the United States or Canada, through established eastern connections and memberships on the Los Angeles Stock and Curb Exchanges and associate-membership on the San Francisco Stock and Curb Exchanges.

Advisory Department

—furnishes detailed reports on any security or group of securities you now own or contemplate buying. Equipped to make a thorough analysis of any list of holdings and submit suggestions. Late information, earning statements and a complete financial library are available here.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (P)—Curb Exchange stocks today retrieved most of the ground lost in Friday's break, while a few of the leaders got above their last Thursday's closing prices. The recovery, which got under way Saturday, was carried forward under the leadership of such issues as Electric Bond and Share, American Superpower and Electric Investors. A few issues made new highs.

Although closing prices were slightly under the best levels of the day, they were well above the opening quotations. When selling was encountered on the upswings, the market turned dull, which some traders interpreted as a good sign. Call money held at 8 per cent all day.

There was little in the trade news to influence the market. Stock deposits under the merger of the Curtiss & Wright Aeronautical interests were announced ample to insure declaration of the plan as operative Thursday. Application to list Curtiss Wright on the "Big Board" will be made this month.

The gains in the Utilities ranged up to 25 points, with Commonwealth Edison of the Insull group making the extreme gain. Nevada California Electric on a jump of 16 points equaled its previous high at 98. Electric Bond got up to 139½ and closed at 138 for a net gain of 2, while Electric Investors crossed 278 and closed at 274¾, up 7¼. American Superpower gained ½ to 59½ after getting above 61, earlier in the day. Gains of 3 to 9 points were made by Allied Power, Buffalo Niagara and Eastern, Northern States Power "A" and Standard Power. Power Company of Canada reached a new high at 124¾ on a rise of more than 2 points.

National Investors continued to perform spectacularly in the investment trust group, shooting up twelve to close at 177. Reliance management rose 3½. Tricontinental Corporation again established a new high on a rise of 4½ in anticipation of its first earnings statement. Mayflower Associates sold at a new high. Goldman Sachs and Interstate Equity each rose fractionally. Shenandoah Corporation was easier.

Aero Supply "B" selling at a new high, and Aviation Corporation led the awakened air stocks. The Curtiss Wright issues all were strong. Western Air rose more than 2.

Dubilier Condenser and Radio spurted into new high ground on a Federal Court decision holding Radio Corporation of America infringed on two of Dubilier's patents. Dubilier sold up 13¾ and closed at 12½, up 4½ net. Last week it sold as low as 6½. Grigsby-Grunow rose 10. Pilot Radio Tube reached a new high at 28¾ on a fractional rise.

Crocker Wheeler, which distinguished itself during Friday's break by selling at a new high, today soared 17 points to a new high at 400.

Raybestos-Manhattan new stock on a rise of nearly 4 points reached a new high at 56¾. This company, maker of rubber and asbestos products, reports factory output sold into fall.

Dictaphone Corporation on a small turnover broke 45½ points to a new low at 18. The previous low was 33. New lows also were touched by Schulte United preferred and Seiberling Rubber.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Annual statements, prepared by certified public accountants, are issued, but information as to securities held is not published. The Company is now a participant in four syndicates and owns twenty-two different stocks. All are Common Stocks and represent diversification in bank, steel, public utility, rubber and several miscellaneous industries.

CAPITALIZATION

The capitalization of the Company upon completion of this financing will be as follows:

	Authorised	Outstanding
Preferred shares, par value $100	500,000 shs.
Convertible Preferred Stock (6% Cumulative) (this issue) (a series of Preferred shares)		100,000 shs.
Common shares (without par value)	2,000,000 shs.*	258,637 shs.
Founders Shares (without par value)	10,000 shs.	10,000 shs.

*Includes 105,263 shares reserved for conversion privileges of Convertible Preferred Stock.

EARNINGS AND EQUITY

Net income for twelve months ending June 29, 1929, was equivalent to 12.54% on the average paid-in capital and paid-in surplus during the period. Such net income, after all charges, including Federal Taxes, as reported by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, plus estimated income at the rate of 6% on the new capital to be provided by this financing, totaled $1,293,960, or 2.15 times the maximum annual dividend requirements on all of the Company's preferred stock to be outstanding.

These figures do not reflect the full use of the Company's present capital inasmuch as substantial additions to capital were made during the twelve months' period. The Company had, in addition, on June 29, 1929, unrealized profits of over $4,500,000, based upon indicated market values of investments, equivalent to over $45 per share on the total amount of preferred stock to be presently outstanding.

The $10,000,000 of preferred stock to be outstanding is followed by 258,637 Common shares with a present market value of over $22,000,000.

We offer the balance of this Stock not subscribed for by stockholders of the Company, when, as and if issued and accepted by us, with legal procedure subject to approval of Messrs. Tolles, Hogsett & Ginn, of Cleveland, for the Company, and Messrs. Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, of Cleveland, for the Bankers. Delivery is expected to be made on or about August 22, 1929, in the form of temporary or permanent certificates.

tion of the market, however, several commission houses advising their clients to move with extreme caution. It was pointed out that the vigorous recovery Saturday and today has probably cleared out most of the short interest, so that the market would be left without the cushion of short covering in the event of renewal reaction. The violence of the rally has caused misgivings among many conservative traders.

Bullish activity centered in such leaders as United States Steel, which rose more than 11 points to a record price above 229. American Telephone and General Electric were sent up 8 points, and American Can 5. Some profit-taking cropped out late in the afternoon, but bulls quickly regained control of the price movement, and closing prices generally were close to the day's best levels.

Gains were characteristically wide in the chemicals, Allied Chemical and Commercial Solvents selling up about 13 and 14 points. Adams Express had one of its sharp upturns, gaining 32 points in a small turnover. Several of the utilities made marked progress, National Power and Light reaching new high ground, and Consolidated Gas, Standard Gas, Pacific Lighting and Stone & Webster making substantial headway.

In the rails, Atchison rose about 5 points to a new peak, then reacted. Rock Island and Norfolk and Western gained about 5 points. Baldwin Locomotive was in good demand on reports of valuable contracts, and Union Tank Car mounted nearly 8 points to a new peak. In the oils, Indian Refining and Houston made extreme gains of about 4 and 6 points, and Standard of New Jersey mounted more than 3 points.

International Nickel was well bought on announcement of an increase to $1 from 80 cents in the annual dividend rate. International Silver mounted about 13 points, and American Tobacco Shares, Curtiss Aero, General Refractories, Johns Manville, Western Union, Sears-Roebuck and Westinghouse Electric made marked progress.

People's Gas was a weak feature, dropping about 21 points. American Type Foundry and National Biscuit lost a few points. American Locomotive, Eastman Kodak, Union Pacific and Stewart Warner were among issues sagging a point or two.

In the commodities, grains were under pressure, wheat futures losing 3 to 4 cents on reports of a large increase in the visible supply. Corn lost 2 cents or so. Cotton improved under bullish consumption and weather reports, closing 60 to 90 cents a bale higher.

Foreign exchanges were easy, generally, although sterling cables held fairly steady at $4.84 13-16. The lira sagged to 5.22 3-8 cents, a new 1929 low.

BANK MERGER VOTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (Exclusive) Merger of the Chase National Bank and the National Park Bank was ratified today by stockholders. More than 80 per cent of the Chase stock was voted in favor of the deal.

Record Visible Supply Lowers Wheat Futures

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (AP)—In a swift collapse of wheat values today, the market went down 5 ⅝c a bushel, largely owing to break-up of Argentine and Australian drought. Record-breaking increase of the United States wheat visible supply acted also with tremendous force in the direction of lower prices, but in the late dealings something of a rebound took place from the day's bottom figures, the lowest that wheat has reached in fully a month.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 3⅛c to 4⅛c under Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1⅛c to 2⅛c down, oats 1⅛c to 1⅜c off, and provision unchanged to a setback of 12c.

Wheat prices here received their heaviest jolt from an unexpected sharp break in Liverpool quotations, the British market today closing at 3⅞ to 4⅝c drop, whereas a decline of only a small fraction had been looked for. The action of values at Liverpool came as a decided surprise to traders here, and the effect was heightened rather than diminished by word that persistent drought conditions in Argentine and Australia, the chief wheat producing countries south of the equator, had been terminated to a substantial degree. Inasmuch as speculators for a rise in wheat prices have of late been putting much stress on likelihood of a poor crop out-turn in the southern hemisphere this season, the news that wheat prospects both in Argentina and Australia, as well had been greatly improved led to heavy selling here, with new buying curtailed.

The climax, however, of the consequent downward swing of wheat prices here was simultaneous with signs which afterward proved correct that the United States wheat visible supply today would show an increase for the week greater than any ever before known, and that the supply itself would outdo in volume all previous records. Meanwhile, European demand today for wheat from North America was checked by the spectacle of the immense marketings in this country, although as a matter of fact today's receipts showed a notable falling off everywhere except at Minneapolis and Duluth. About the only immediate encouragement for buyers was word that the Canadian growers' pool had estimated Canada's wheat crop conditions as being equal to only 52 per cent of a three-year average, whereas the Canadian government report issued Saturday said 66 per cent.

Corn and oats weakened with wheat. Rains southwest tended also to promote corn selling.

Influenced by upturns in hog values, provisions averaged higher most of the time, but later eased down with grain.

Good building-and-loan Associations!

WE CLAIM NO UNIQUENESS . . nor make any pretenses , . that this old-fashioned MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . is superior in safety . . to ANY conservatively managed building and loan association . . because there are many.

But we DO claim that a record of 36½ years with but ONE loan-loss should establish the fact of our conservatism most firmly in your mind. And you can add three other State of California records for that purpose.

WE PAY YOU 6% SAFELY . . with the background of unlimited liability . . behind $3,000,000 capital, surplus and reserve . . and resources of more than $13,000,000 . . with our conservatism certified by a continuous, independent audit . . reporting monthly.

Is your investment pride belittled by the idea of doing business with a small-town, old-fashioned MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA? Perhaps there are GOOD REASONS why such attributes have won State records. Our 6% clients think so.

NO AUTOMOBILE PARKING INCONVENIENCE. You drive into our garage basement on the West side of Spring Street, just South of 7th, in the I. N. Van Nuys Building. Then you take the elevator to our 10th floor offices. AND WE VALIDATE YOUR PARKING TICKET FREE, with pleasure, too.

IN MEMORIAM

HOLMES. In loving memory of my dear husband, W. J. L. (Bill) Holmes, who passed away, accidentally, August 4, 1927, 27 years of age.

My Beloved:

What would I give to clasp his hand,
His cheery face to see;
To hear his voice, to see him smile,
That meant so much to me.

His lonely wife,
ROBBIE C. HOLMES.

BY PORTER FLINT

Based on showings picked up in the General Petroleum Corporation's More No. 1 wildcat, three miles southeast of Elwood, and its nearness to the Palisades field, the Altadena Oil Company is preparing to make a deep test of its Caldwell No. 1, which is said to have tested wet at about 2000 feet several weeks ago.

Altadena's Caldwell No. 1 is but a short distance from the Lomas No. 1 discovery well, in the Palisades field three miles west of Santa Barbara. Nearby, Roggie and Coffman, whose test is reported to have been wet, may resume operations, while field reports indicate that Knapp & Dunlap may go back into their test which failed to pick up commercial production there a few weeks ago.

Nearly sixty derricks were constructed in the Palisades field after Lomas No. 1 was brought in by the Olympic Oil and Refining Company. Failing to have suitable storage facilities for its output, Olympic was compelled to shut down its discovery well, later turning it over to the General Petroleum Corporation. All efforts to place it back on production, however, are said to have failed, and since blowing in of the More No. 1, reports are that another attempt will be made to complete it.

Lower Clarke Completion

The Associated Oil Company's Dellugge No. 7, a recent completion at the extreme southeast corner of Santa Fe Springs, is putting out about 2200 barrels of fluid a day, half of which is said to be water. The hole is down 8100 feet.

This completion is near the intersection of Norwalk Road and Smith avenue, and is near leases held by Shell, Standard, Union and Pacific Clay Products. It was previously recemented a number of times, it is said, and was about to suspend because of many difficulties experienced in trying for a water shut-off, when production started.

At Potrero, Associated's Potrero No. 1, on the country club grounds, is standing recemented at 4865 feet, with bottom at 5580 feet, and another production test will be made within a week, it is asserted.

Subdues Wildcat

The General Petroleum Corporation yesterday subdued its More No. 1 wildcat, three miles southeast of Elwood, after four days of preparation. About 2600 feet of six-inch tubing was landed and the gas flow, said to be approximately 60,000,000 cubic feet daily, is flowing through it.

This project blew in a week ago from a depth of 4533 feet when the cement plug was drilled out at about 2650 feet. It was capable of making one-third gallon of gasoline to the 1000 cubic feet of gas, it is asserted. Indications are that it developed a crooked hole, and an endeavor will be made to straighten it.

Wildcat Activity

Although failing to pick up commercial production in its Del Rey No. 1 at 6610 feet, the Ohio Oil Company recently spudded in its Recreation Gun Club No. 1 about a half mile north of it in the Playa Del Rey district, and is drilling ahead below 200 feet.

Ohio's new test is on Sec. 21, 2-16. It is not far from an area tested some time ago by the Union Oil Company, but without results, according to field reports.

The Palmer-Union Oil Company's Benndall No. 20, in Cat Canyon, is asserted to be drilling ahead below 6050 feet, and that a formation has just been penetrated bearing considerable gas. No oil sand is in evidence, it is said.

Near Gardena, the Hancock Oil Company's Ben Long No. 1 is said to be milling ahead in brown shale below 5000 feet. No favorable formation has been picked up, according to field reports.

L. West has just spudded in Sing No. 1, on Sec. 16, 1-11, near El Monte.

To Resume Drilling

The California Ventura Oil Company was forced to suspend drilling operations in its Cal-Ven No. 20 wildcat in Fresno Canyon a few days ago, owing to depletion of its water supply near the test. A pipe line is being constructed about one-half mile long to the Ventura River and field operations are expected to resume today.

Drilled to a depth of 3287 feet, about 115 feet of oil sand is said to have been picked up in the Cal-Ven No. 20. This project is situated on a 640-acre lease adjacent to a 211-acre tract only recently acquired by the Ventura Petroleum Corporation.

Into Lower Clarke

Italo Petroleum Company's Archer No. 1 has six and five-eighths-inch casing cemented at 7668 feet in the Lower Clarke sand and indications are that a production test will be made within a week. The Brunson No. 2 is drilling ahead below 7721 feet and will be prepared in a day or two to set seven-inch casing.

New Completions

Santa Fe Springs received the lion's share in new completions over the week-end. Following is the list: Union Oil Company's Howard No. 12, for 3500 barrels of 30-deg. gravity oil per day, from a depth of 6850 feet, and its Farwell No. 14, for 3506 barrels at the same depth; the Texas Company's Weaver No. 5, for 2700 barrels of 33.3-deg. gravity oil per day and the Land No. 2, for 4000 barrels of 33.3-deg. gravity oil per day, from the Lower Clarke sand. Texcal's Foix No. 16, was completed in the O'Connell sand for a daily yield of about 3000 barrels of 33.7-deg. gravity oil.

The General Petroleum Corporation yesterday was bringing in its Santa Fe No. 232, from a depth of 7946 feet in the lower Clarke sand, first gauge placed the flow at about 2000 barrels of oil per day.

The Standard Oil Company's Santa Gertrudes No. 12 was completed at 8004 feet for a flow of 2600 barrels of oil a day, testing 33.6-deg. gravity.

At Signal Hill the Pan-California Oil Corporation brought in its Pan-Cal No. 16, for 3250 barrels of 29.3-deg. gravity oil per day, with bottom of the hole at 7459 feet. Its No. 3, completed recently, is putting out approximately 1200 barrels of oil a day.

Old Summerland Active

The Becker Fee No. 1 well of George F. Getty, Inc., is drilling ahead below 700 feet, in an endeavor to pick up the sand which proved commercial production possible at the extreme western end of the old Summerland field.

Getty's test is about 130 feet due east of the Lincoln Drilling Company's Williams No. 1, putting about 225 to 275 barrels of 20-deg. gravity oil per day with bottom of the hole at 1350 feet.

On the bluff farther back from the ocean, the Southern Exploration Company is preparing to plug back at about 300 feet in its Twitchell No. 1, and reports are that a production test will be made within a week.

Farther south, and near the State highway, Espee is preparing to construct derrick on a tract about 150 feet north and 300 feet east of the Lincoln Drilling's Williams No. 1.

According to field reports, C. B. Morrison has abandoned his No. 1 test in the old Summerland field, failing to obtain commercial production at about 1315 feet, and plans to resume operations in the Palisades field west of Santa Barbara, based on findings in General Petroleum Corporation's More No. 1, south of Elwood.

Into Hard Formation

The Keystone Petroleum Company's True No. 1 wildcat, situated on a 500-acre tract three miles south of Surf, in Santa Barbara county, has picked up a hard shale formation, with occasional showings of black sand, according to officials. Bottom of the hole is at 1973 feet, where a strong flow of gas is asserted to be in evidence.

They'll Be One
Harry Spingler and Alma Bennett

Alma Bennett, screen actress, signified her intention yesterday of marrying Harry Spingler, theatrical agent, with whom she has been acquainted professionally for several years.

Miss Bennett said she is 23 years of age. Spingler is 40. Miss Bennett lives at 665 Cochran avenue, and Spingler at 1740 Winona street. Both have been married previously.

The wedding will be celebrated Friday, but the couple would not say where.

FRUIT FLY STRUGGLE DESCRIBED

Harold Ryan Urges Aid of Public as He Makes Talk to State Societies

Various phases of the efforts being made to keep the Mediterranean fruit fly out of California were related to officers of the Federated State Societies at luncheon yesterday by Harold J. Ryan, county horticultural commissioner.

In commenting on the chances of infestation in California from Florida, Mr. Ryan pointed out that the distance from Yuma, the California port of entry, to Florida is just as far as it is from San Francisco to the Hawaiian Islands, where the fruit fly has been intrenched for nineteen years without reaching California. However, he warned that the bringing in of the fly from Florida is not impossible nor is it inevitable.

The authorities are depending on the heartiest co-operation of the public, he said. He emphasized the desire of the officials to have any suspected worms found in fruit sent to the Agricultural Commissioner's office for examination.

AIR RACE DELEGATION TO TRAVEL BY PLANE

A large delegation to the National Air Races in Cleveland, O., the 23rd inst., to September 2, will make the trip by air-rail, it is indicated by word from H. J. McNally, assistant general traffic manager of the Universal Air Lines. Advance reservations to the East for the event over his system's air-rail service have reached proportions necessitating the scheduling of extra planes over the company's Garden City, Kan., to Cleveland, O., air connection. Cleveland is the eastern terminus of the Universal system, where New York-bound passengers transfer from trimotored Fokkers to the New York Central.

AVIATION HUB TO COME HERE

New $1,000,000 Building to be Air Trade Center

Plane Accessories Groups Under One Roof

Bendix and Other Companies Worth Many Millions

Eleven aircraft and equipment corporations, with total assets of more than $150,000,000 will establish their Pacific Coast headquarters in Los Angeles November 1, next, it was announced yesterday by Herber E. Linden, president of the American Paulin System, Inc.

Vincent Bendix, automobile magnate has the $1,000,000 uncompleted building at the corner of Twelfth street and Maple avenue, to house the subsidiaries of the Bendix Aviation Corporation and the General Instrument Corporation.

PLANE ACCESSORIES

In addition to automotive parts and other mechanical devices, the companies involved in the co-operative plan are engaged in the manufacture of all types of aircraft navigation instruments, radio equipment, brakes, motor starters, carburetors, ignition systems, wheels and motor gauges.

The eleven-story building, Linden said, will be occupied by the major corporations and the following subsidiaries:

Bendix Brake Company of South Bend, Ind.; Eclipse Machine Company of Elmira, N. Y.; Eclipse Aviation Company of East Orange, N. J.; Stromberg Carburetor Company of Chicago; Delco Aviation Company of Dayton, O.; Scintilla Magneto Company, Bendix-Cowdry Brake Testing Company, and Pioneer Instrument Company of Brooklyn; James P. Marsh Company of Chicago, Tiffany Manufacturing Company of Newark, and American Paulin System, Inc. of 1220 South Maple avenue.

The assimilation will not affect the individuality of the concerns involved, Linden pointed out. Their collective cash assets are estimated at $37,000,000.

AIR CLUB PLANNED

Surplus office space in the new building will be offered to other tenants, and an effort will be made, according to Linden, to make it a central aviation headquarters by urging transport companies, airplane manufacturers, pilots' clubs and the like to move into it. There will be a ninety-car garage in the basement, and the entire top floor will be devoted to a lounge for the convenience and enjoyment of all interested in aviation. Another feature will be a completely equipped research laboratory for the development of new ideas and the constant improvement of old ones.

"Many things conspire to make this the ideal center of aviation activity," Linden said yesterday in explaining that he had devoted the past three months to the perfection of his plans. "Of course, there is the climate, which no one will deny is perfectly suited to flying. Also, it is best suited to the building of planes. Out here they are building ships right in the open air. Labor conditions, too, contribute to its adaptability.

"And then there is the element of patronage. To make aviation universally popular, the safety factor must be emphasized. That is the part we manufacturers play. The assurance that the airplane in which they would fly is equipped with perfect parts and instruments is what will persuade people to fly. And there are more potential flyers here than anywhere. This is a city of rich people, and rich people have both the time and money to fly.

"Another thing: At one time or another during the year, I dare say, every recognized pilot in the country pays a visit in some capacity to Los Angeles. What a benefit it will be to him to know that the makers of every part or instrument he needs are right here at his disposal—and all in one building."

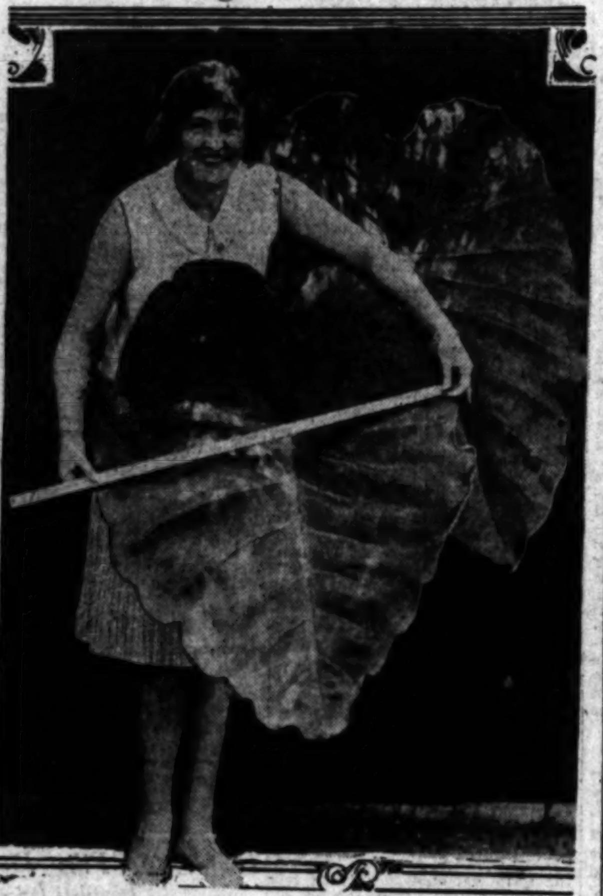
The building transaction, Linden revealed, was negotiated with the Hammond Lumber Company, which acquired possession of it at a mortgage sale six months ago, when it was but 75 per cent completed. It came to Linden's attention when he had been here, at that time, only one year, having removed his company from San Francisco, where it only imported and distributed precision instruments. Arriving here, the company began to manufacture its own.

CLUB GARAGE FAVORED

The request of the Automobile Club of Southern California to erect a garage and make an addition to the present club building at Washington and Figueroa streets has been acted upon favorably by the City Planning Commission, which reported to the Council yesterday.

HUGE "EARS" GROWN HERE

Believed Largest in United States



Pauline Stockton Measures Giant Caladium

A LOS ANGELES man was found yesterday who has what are believed to be the largest ears in the United States—yet they cannot hear a thing. He is Charles Bowes of 446 South Grandview street, and the ears which he says entitles the city to another claim to fame are elephant ears.

They are elephant ears only in a horticultural sense. There is a scientific name for them, but just plain elephant ears seems far more appropriate, and that is what lay folk always have called them. Mr. Bowes put the baby bulbs in the ground when he landscaped the grounds of his residence several years ago.

Yesterday he decided to measure the leaves. So he called upon Pauline Stockton, athletic instructor of Elkettes, to be a witness, and together they found the largest "ear" measured forty-seven inches in length and thirty-one in width.

AMERICANS PRAISED BY HAWAIIAN

Hilo Airport Head on Visit to Countrymen Over Here Likes Our Kindness

"Americans are the kindliest people in the world," in the opinion of David K. Richards, superintendent of the Hilo Airport, one of a chain of airports being constructed by prison labor in the Hawaiian Islands.

DAVID K. RICHARDS

Mr. Richards has been making a tour of America to investigate conditions and progress among the Hawaiian people in the United States. There are more than 2000 Hawaiians in this country, 75 per cent of whom are men, with about 1000 in New York City and the rest scattered in Chicago, Atlantic City and Los Angeles.

"I find my people in America doing well in every way," said Mr. Richards. "They all are sober and industrious, most of them being singers, music teachers and professional divers. They are happy here, as they were in their old home, and seem to be much admired by the Americans, of whom they are very fond.

"We are natural born lovers," said Mr. Richards, discussing the psychology of his people. "Our climate and scenery make us a mild, affectionate people and to us a stranger means a friend. However, the generosity of the Hawaiian may sometimes go too far. As a matter of fact, my people often impoverish themselves by their gifts to one another and to strangers who visit the islands."

Evans on Tour of Inspection of Naval Bases

An investigation of various proposed expansions and improvements in naval bases and stations on the Pacific Coast is being conducted, it was learned yesterday, by Representative Evans of the Ninth California District, who left here several days ago on a tour of inspection that will take him to many points in California, Oregon and Washington.

Representative Evans, who is the California member of the House Naval Affairs Committee, will visit, among other places, Vallejo, Bremerton, Crescent City, Portland, Seattle, Eureka and San Diego. He will return to Glendale, his home, during the latter part of this month.

GUEST SAYS CITY SLOW IN JEWISH AID

Assistance Given Youths Declared Far Behind That of Other Large Centers

Los Angeles leads the world in many progressive movements, but is twenty years behind the times in regard to religious education of Jewish youth, according to Dr. A. H. Friedland, director of the Bureau of Jewish Education at Cleveland, O., who spoke on that theme yesterday before a group of prominent Jews at the City Club.

More than 300 members of the Jewish Educational Association of Los Angeles, of which Ben M. Goldman is president, are expected to hear Dr. Friedland speak at the Masonic Club at noon today, when steps will be taken to organize a central bureau of the association and to launch a campaign for funds with which to expand facilities for education of Jewish boys and girls.

Dr. Friedland pointed to the fact that although the average amount spent on Jewish religious education in America is about $2 a year for each Jewish youth, Los Angeles spends only about 40 cents per child every year.

Alhambra Youth Killed in Crash

Crushed when an automobile in which he was riding went over a grade between Lancaster and Muroc Saturday, Howard Micdecke, 20 years of age, 804 Chappel street, Alhambra, was killed almost instantly, according to reports filed at the Sheriff's office yesterday. Five others were riding with Micdecke at the time of the accident Others injured are William Neagle, 421 South Seventh street, Alhambra, and Russell Morse, Monterey Park.

NEW LAW FLOOD DUE TOMORROW

Deluge to Affect Residents of Entire State

Legislation Declared Most Important in Years

Schools, Courts, Motorists Vitally Concerned

Laws passed by the last session of the California Legislature—891 in all—will be in force and effect tomorrow, the ninety-first day after the close of the 1929 session.

These laws, according to Robert W. Kenny, deputy County Counsel, who represented the county's interests at Sacramento, include some of the most important legislation of recent years, and affect practically every person in the State. At the direction of County Counsel Mattoon, Deputy Kenny has prepared and distributed to county officials, and others interested, a complete summary and digest of the new laws with an explanation of how they are to be enforced.

OUTSTANDING CHANGES

Of outstanding importance is the codification of the school laws, old-age pensions, establishment of night and Sunday courts, automobile drivers' liability, State motor police, appointment of an aviation commission, simplification of much legal procedure, provision for two new prisons, one for young offenders and one for women, and the renewal of all automobile licenses.

A law that has interested persons living in the northern part of the county is the bill that puts all dams constructed in the State under control and supervision of the State Board of Public Works. This provision, it is expected, will serve to put a double check on the plans and construction of all dams, and will prevent such disasters as that of San Francisquito Canyon.

Codification of the school laws will save attorneys much time, and also will enable school authorities to know the laws governing their profession with a minimum of confusion. There are now five "codes" of State laws: the Political, Civil, Penal, Civil Procedure and school codes.

NEW APPEALS COURT

Laws simplifying and speeding up court procedure were an important addition to the biennial grist of legislation. Indirectly, the establishment of new courts, and the increase in the jurisdiction of others will contribute toward this end. A fourth District Court of Appeals is created, with jurisdiction in all southern counties of the present second district outside of Los Angeles. Jurisdiction of justice courts in cities of 30,000 population or more is made to conform to the jurisdiction of a municipal court. Los Angeles county, it is believed, will get several of these courts, although the exact scope of their jurisdiction, and the conditions surrounding their rules of procedure, are still undetermined. Cities in the county with more than 30,000 population are Pasadena, Glendale, Huntington Park, and Santa Monica. Long Beach has a system of municipal courts.

To permit Long Beach to annex territory in Orange county adjoining the city, a law was passed permitting any city to annex contiguous territory in another county. This law may be a precedent to legislation permitting Los Angeles to annex to the city water bearing lands in Inyo county, it is stated.

Penalties applicable to violators of the criminal libel laws now apply to those who commit the new crime of slander. This law was brought about by objectionable matter being broadcast over radio stations.

GAMBLING SHIPS

Another new crime is that of soliciting passengers for gambling ships anchored off the California coast. It is made a misdemeanor, with penalties up to a $500 fine and six months in jail.

For the first time in California history, Sunday courts are made not only legal, but compulsory. The Los Angeles police court, a division of Municipal Court, must hold sessions from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. and from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. All provisions relative to judicial days are abrogated. This means the court must convene on Sundays and holidays.

Provisions of the new automobile laws are generally known. All drivers who have a license dated prior to January 1, 1927, must get new licenses by Wednesday, but it is believed a liberal time allowance will be made, as it is known that not nearly all drivers have obtained new licenses. All police sta-

EX-MISS AMERICA PLEASANTLY PLUMP

Fay Lanphier

BEAUTY WILL KEEP CURVES OVER PLATE

Fay Lanphier, Back from East, Says No Grapefruit Diet for Her

The famous Hollywood diet has nothing in common with an equally famous beauty, who has joined the ranks of the pleasingly plump and is glad of it.

She is Fay Lanphier, the beautiful California girl who was chosen as Miss America in 1925 for both personality and perfection of form. She returned yesterday from New York on the Panama Pacific liner Mongolia.

"Curves are no disgrace, and I'd rather be plump and healthy than thin and neurotic," asserted the still beautiful Fay with the still beautiful curves which a mere dozen added pounds have not made less attractive.

"There's a lot of difference between being plump and fat. I eat anything I want and don't have to worry about its effect. I wouldn't risk my health to keep slim, at least not unless I turned tubby," she said emphatically.

She traveled incognito under the nom de plume of Miss F. Miller, but her smile brought recognition among the passengers of the girl whose beauty swept the boards at Atlantic City. After winning the Miss America title she went into pictures and then married Sydney M. Spiegel of Chicago, but failed to find happiness and was granted her divorce four months ago. She is continuing on the ship north today to join her mother at 2925 Delaware street, Oakland.

SEARCH FOR MISSING ATTORNEY REQUESTED

Police search for William O. Brice, 35 years of age, an attorney, who lived at a hotel at 1400 Oak street, was requested yesterday by C. J. Shank, the hotel manager. Shank reported that Brice has been missing since July 10, last, and that he left all his clothing and toilet articles. The attorney registered at the hotel on December 24, last, and had been regular in his comings and goings daily to business, the address of which Shank did not know.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IF PROF. ABRAHAM SCHOMER knows a way to end wars for $10,000,000 he is offering the world a singular bargain.

The World War cost in the neighborhood of $156,400,000,000.

If he is going through with his plan to convince the world that warriors are criminals, there will have to be a lot of statues pulled down. Our national capital is fairly peppered with bronze and iron figures of heroes sitting on the top deck of nags perpetually pawing the empty air.

THE BUCK PRIVATE

In one respect the late war had a different reaction on the public mind than any other in history. No general came through as a hero. The only hero to be honored and sung was the lowly buck private. Which is as it should be.

PARK OF PEACE

It would have been more to the point had we renamed Central Park La Plaza de la Paz—the Park of Peace—instead of Pershing Square.

TRAIN WRECKERS

A social and legal problem is presented by the two young Mexican boys who tried to wreck a Santa Fe train—for fun.

High-speed trains roaring over thousands of miles of unguarded steel rails make it necessary that wayward youths be encouraged to find some other brand of fun. Train wrecking is a hanging offense in this State.

THE NEW MAYOR

Thus far our new Mayor's career as the chief executive of the Coast's most important city has not been very encouraging. His public services have consisted mainly of back-alley squabbles over hiring and firing the help. But no one can tell; perhaps when he gets through choosing up his team he may astonish the world. Who knows but he may even go so far as to keep the gas companies from digging up at least one new street.

EUROPE'S SHAME

European scientists ought to be covered with shame to know that Riverside county has to send a scientific expedition to the Mediterranean to study the fruit fly. Had the Mediterranean countries spent their money on these investigations instead of wasting it on preparations for war, the data we want would be there now—complete in every detail.

NONE WERE KNOWN

In the case of the corn borer, the United States Agricultural Department requested of Czecho-Slovakia the names of the various parasites of the pest. They were informed that none were known. In despair, this government sent over two experts, who found fourteen parasites in one short summer.

NATURE'S BALANCE

It is a good guess that this frightful pest is the result of destroying some bird. If you let her alone nature preserves a perfect balance of life. One has only to study the results of our wars of extermination against coyotes to know what happens when we attempt to monkey with that balance. In the West Indies whole districts have been laid waste from similar stupidities.

NEW CLEVELAND AIR RACE

Nonstop Contest Starting Here Added to Program for National Meeting There

Los Angeles has been selected as the starting point of a nonstop transcontinental race to Cleveland during the national air races there the 24th inst. to September 2, Floyd J. Logan, air race chairman, announced at the Ohio city yesterday.

Each pilot may have an independent starting time but he must arrive at the Cleveland airport between 1 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Logan said he expects unusual speeds in this event with the average speed anticipated at fifteen hours at the most.

Two pilots have entered, Harry J. Brown, Cleveland air mail pilot, who will fly a mystery plane, and Oliver C. Lebouttiler of New York.

Internationally noted women flyers are announced to start Sunday afternoon from Clover Field, Santa Monica, in the first national Women's air derby, sponsored by the Santa Monica Bay District Exchange Club. Approximately two dozen leading women pilots will compete and are scheduled to touch at eighteen control stops between Clover Field and Cleveland.

Among the bird women flying this derby are Marvel Crosson, holder of the altitude record for women; Amelia Earhart, first women pilot to fly successfully across the Atlantic and now assistant traffic manager of Transcontinental Air Transport; Mrs. Keith Miller, holder of the long distance record for women, established during her remarkable flight from England to Tasmania; Thea Rasche, a German aviatrice; Bobbie Trout, former holder of the endurance record for women. May Haizlys and Phoebe Omlie, contestants, both hold transport pilot licenses.

DEMPSEY PLANS TO BUY INTEREST IN BEACH CLUB

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 12.—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, last night announced that he is planning to use a part of the fortune he amassed in the ring with which to purchase half interest in the Edgewater-Gables Beach Club here. He disclosed his intention in a speech to 1200 persons attending a dinner in the clubhouse at the foot of Pico Boulevard. The dinner was in the nature of a get-together arranged by two groups, one of members of the Edgewater, the other of the old Gables club.

Whether the ex-pugilist explained his plan in any further detail was not learned, but J. Ward Cohen, now at the head of the club, today admitted Dempsey made the announcement. Cohen declined to discuss the statement at length, neither confirming nor denying that a transaction of such nature is afoot, but said he expects to have something to say concerning it in a few days.

The club building was completed in June, 1926, and is considered one of the most elaborate and perfectly equipped of its kind in the bay district. It is said to be valued at $1,500,000.

AUTHOR WITWER BURIED

Many Friends Pay Last Respects to Writer Who Lost Battle for Health

Funeral services for H. C. Witwer, author and humorist, who died last Friday at 350 North McCadden Place, were conducted yesterday at Pierce Brothers' mortuary, Rabbi Herman Lissauer of Temple Emanu-El officiating. Interment followed at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. More than 100 friends of the author attended the services and scores of floral offerings were sent by friends from various parts of the country. Pallbearers were Mark Kelly, Guy Price, Larry D'Armour, Albert Cooke, Bert Green and Gustav Krakauer.

A fighter to the last, not only in the realm of imagination, but also in the battle of life, Witwer's last fight was for his health, which he partly won following his arrival in California in 1926 when he wrote "Fighting Back to Health in California." He was active in sports and writing until about three months ago when again his health began to fail.

Born at Athens, Pa., March 11, 1890, Witwer attended St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia in 1906 and was married to Sonia Schagrin of Yonkers, N. Y., in 1912. Commencing his career in a butcher shop, Witwer became interested in pugilistic sports and later in newspaper work. He had worked on the St. Cloud (Fla.) Tribune, New York American, Brooklyn Eagle and other papers. He wrote hundreds of short stories for magazines and 125 of his stories have been filmed.

Widely known and esteemed in the cinematic field and in fraternal society circles of Los Angeles, Mr. Witwer was a Mason and a member of the Adventurers' Club, the Los Angeles Athletic Club and the Edgewater and Fox Hills country clubs. Besides his mother, his widow and son, Witwer leaves a sister, Mrs. Nessel Lyons of Harrisburgh, Pa.

Fitts Gets Sworn Statements of Pantages Attack Case Witnesses Prior to Hearing

PHONE WARNING INQUIRY PUSHED

Stories Told by Eleven Said to Back Girl's Account

Dr. Pringle Gets Assurances of Close Guard on Girl

Theater Man Scheduled to Go to Court Tomorrow

Questioning of eleven witnesses in the case of Alexander Pantages, wealthy theater owner, charged with criminally attacking Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old co-ed and dancer, last Friday, yesterday failed to shake the girl's version of the asserted attack in any manner, Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced last night.

As the steady stream of witnesses came and went through Fitts's office yesterday, each individual was questioned closely, Fitts said, as to the purpose of a small, secluded room in the Pantages Theater Building, wherein the showman is asserted to have attacked the young dancer.

The room, occupying a position approximately off the mezzanine floor, is four and one-half feet wide and twelve feet long, according to Fitts, who said that none of those questioned could give him satisfactory answers to the use of the room, while the main offices are located on the second floor.

Although the contents of the various statements taken were not divulged by the prosecutors, it was learned from reliable sources that information was given them leading them to believe that a woman, whose identity was undisclosed, may have attempted to push the Pringle girl back through the door of the room in which she asserts Pantages attacked her after she had emerged from the room screaming for help. A search for this woman, it was learned, was under way last night.

"CONFERENCE ROOM"

Fitts said some of those questioned told him and Chief Deputy Stewart and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones that the little room, where the asserted attack occurred, is a "conference room," and others said that it is used by Pantages to gain seclusion in the theater.

Among those questioned yesterday were four women attaches of the downtown playhouse, Ruth May, book-keeper, of 3717 Cimarron street; Catherine Stone, telephone operator, of 1238 1-2 North Berendo street; Rose Fowler, Pantages's private secretary, and Tillie Russo, an usherette at the theater.

Others questioned were P. N. Stevens, the theater auditor; Roy Keene, assistant manager; William Jobelman, press agent; Fred Wise, a playwright, and W. H. Baker, L. P. Bitts and W. A. Rathbun, police officers, who arrested the theatrical man.

Immediately after hearing the various stories of the witnesses, Fitts announced that he personally will take charge of the prosecution of Pantages at the preliminary hearing in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow, and will be assisted by Chief Deputy Stewart and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones.

GIRL BEING GUARDED

Yesterday the District Attorney took time to go before the Board of Supervisors to obtain additional funds for guards for the protection of Miss Pringle at her home, 1116 North Mariposa street, where she is reported ill and bedridden.

The action of the District Attorney was prompted by appeals from the girl's parents that Miss Pringle and her family are being harassed by threatening telephone calls, warning her to drop the prosecution of Pantages and leave the city at once.

While Fitts and his deputies were questioning the witnesses, Tom O'Brien, chief of the investigators, also was occupied in tracing down many telephone calls with direct bearing on the Pantages case, he said, and while some important evidence may be had the chief investigator declined to announce its nature.

During the day Dr. Lewis A. Pringle, father of the girl, appeared at the District Attorney's office and had a short conference with Fitts. He said that his visit to the prosecutor was only to assure himself that "justice is to be had" in the case. He said Fitts had given him ample assurance.

PROTECTION GIVEN

In connection with the threats against the girl and her family and the posting of additional guards, Capt. Trosper of the Hollywood division detectives has had a direct telephone line installed from the girl's home to the Hollywood station, and he has detailed men to answer promptly all appeals for protection.

"We are taking every precaution with Miss Pringle, "Fitts said. "She is a sick girl and we have every reason to believe threats will be made against her. We will not tolerate such tactics and she is to be protected at all costs."

In response to questions on the weight of the general statements of the witnesses, Fitts said: "Mostly their statements substantiated the girl's charges."

Since the asserted attack Pantages has been released under $25,000 bail, and it is his contention that he is the victim of a "frame-up."

QUESTIONING TO GO ON

Questioning of the various witnesses continued until 8 o'clock last night and will be continued today. Sworn statements were taken from each person questioned and thus may be available in case the witness for any reason might fail to appear at Pantages's preliminary hearing tomorrow.

Although most of the witnesses were questioned in the District Attorney's office, others, unable to appear there, made statements to investigators elsewhere. Among these was Amad Fernandez, the Pringle girl's dancing partner, who signed an affidavit in which he declared, among otherthings, that her char- among other things, that her char- highest.

The same opinion was expressed in a communication received by Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart from Charles Leitzell, associate pastor of the Frist Methodist Church. The clergyman declared he had received a telegram from the pastor of the Universalist-Methodist Church of Seattle, where the Pringles formerly lived, in which the Seattle minister described Eunice Pringle as "a fine Christian girl."

McGEE ARRAIGNED ON BRIBE OFFER CHARGE

William (Paddy) McGee, asserted friend of the Pantages family, was arraigned yesterday before Superior Judge Aggeler on a charge of attempting to bribe a witness against Mrs. Lois Pantages, accused of murder as a result of an automobile accident in which Juro Rokumoto, Japanese, was killed.

Judge Aggeler ordered McGee to return to court tomorrow morning to enter his plea.

It is charged that McGee approached W. H. Dutton of the Hollywood police division during the inquest over Rokumoto, and offered him "plenty" of money if he would change his reports to show that Mrs. Pantages was not intoxicated at the time of the accident.

A. C. Robbins's Wife Succumbs

Mrs. Hortense L. Robbins of 3278 Wilshire Boulevard, wife of Albert C. Robbins, secretary-treasurer of Greer-Robbins, died yesterday at Good Samaritan Hospital. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Dr. Leischman officiating.

Mrs. Robbins was born in Auburn, Ind. She came to Los Angeles twenty-five years ago. She leaves her husband, a son, Albert C. Robbins, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Catherine R. Haldeman.

ERICK LUND FUNERAL SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Funeral services for Erick Lund, contractor, and a resident of Los Angeles for twenty-six years, will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at Bresee Brothers Chapel, 855 South Figueroa street. Interment will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery. Mr. Lund died Sunday at the age of 72 years. He was born in Sweden, and came to the United States fifty-two years ago. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Ella Lund, 1749 West Twenty-third street, three sons, Fred A., Leon R. and Henry W. Lund, and a daughter, Mrs. E. H. Roe.

PHOTOGRAPHS ON DISPLAY

A group of photographs by Alfred Palmer is on exhibition in the Los Angeles Museum, Exposition Park. Mr. Palmer has just returned from his fourth trip around the world. The prints are views of many lands and people.

PLANE-RAIL PATRONAGE PROVES TO BE LIBERAL

Air-mail travel between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts received liberal patronage in its inaugural month, it was indicated yesterday by H. W. Beck, Western traffic manager of Transcontinental Air Transport. During the first month ending the 8th inst., planes have operated at 45 per cent capacity on the eastern division between Columbus, O. and Waynoke, Okla., while the capacity figure was 33 per cent on the western division between Clovis, N. M. and Los Angeles and San Francisco. The average for the line was 38 per cent.

During its first month T.A.T. carried 433 revenue passengers, of whom 133 traveled the entire route, using air line by day and rails of the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe railroads by night. Shorter trips were made by 280 passengers.

The operating ratio of miles scheduled to miles flown was 99.4 per cent, with 113,957 miles scheduled, and 113,240 miles flown. Passenger miles amounted to 432,264, equivalent to carrying one passenger around the world seventeen times. Women have been represented as generously as men among the T.A.T. passengers. One passenger wrote that he saved five business days on a round trip between Los Angeles and New York. Freedom from dust and smoke, coupled with comfort, appealed to all who gave their reasons for preferring the new means of travel. All praised American scenery as seen from the air.

STATE SCHOOL LAW NOW CODED

Old Age Pensions Provided by New Legislation

Liability of Auto Drivers Sharply Defined

PERSONAL INJURY

Automobile drivers and owners lose their licenses if they fail to satisfy a judgment for more than $100 for personal injuries. Ability to "respond in damage" is a prerequisite to restoration of the license. This ability is defined as possession of a $10,000 death policy, a $5000 injury policy, and a $1000 collision damage policy. In lieu of these policies, a $15,000 surety bond or $11,000 cash may be deposited with the State.

The County Board of Supervisors has not yet decided whether to disband the county motorcycle squad and permit the State motor constabulary to take charge of local motor-law enforcement. Supervisor Shaw does not want to take this action, but Supervisor McClellan, chairman of the board, said he is more disposed to do so since ex-Undersheriff Biscailuz was appointed superintendent of the State constabulary. State tax money that formerly went to support the local motor police force now goes to the State constabulary.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

The old-age pension in effect tomorrow provides that not more than $180 a year be paid to persons who come under the term of the act, and one-half of the money advanced by the county for blind relief, shall be paid to the county by the State.

Public property may be leased on petition of 51 per cent of the property owners in the assessment district that bought the property.

Cats may be killed by rangers in game preserves.

Where tips are split between proprietors and check girls or other employees, a conspicuous sign must announce this fact.

Chicken stealing is a felony if the purloined fowls are worth more than $50.

An aeronautical commission is authorized to review all air laws and suggest changes and additions.

Bond brokers who return prisoners in a year may apply for refund of their bond, minus the State's expenses of the pursuit.

Candidates may be admitted to the bar without a college education if they have studied three years and pass the examination required.

Motor police must wear a uniform, and their automobiles must be distinctively painted or their evidence is not admissible.

NOT RESPONSIBLE

Policemen and firemen are not responsible for collision damage while they are racing on calls.

Fish-and-game wardens can kill crop-destroying pests.

Spike-tooth steel traps may not be used to catch fur-bearing animals.

Assessment districts for airports may be created in the usual manner.

Harbor districts may be formed anywhere on the coast, and not only "where there are harbors, bays or inlets."

Guests on auto rides may no longer sue the driver or owner of the car if they are hurt, except in case of intoxication or gross negligence.

Public officers may no longer be accused for removal by a private citizen.

Supervisors may appoint a "county dentist" to care for the public's teeth.

Water fowl may not be killed even in open season in the Los Angeles district on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Commission merchants may not destroy surplus stocks of food, fruits or vegetables without a permit from the county health officer or State agricultural agent.

Interpreter's fees are raised from $3 to $10 a day.

RISE IN PRICE

Certified copies of vital statistics will cost $1.50 instead of 50 cents.

It is a misdemeanor to annoy children on their way to and from school.

Tenants of bungalow courts may be prosecuted under the "defrauding an inkeeper" law if they decamp without leaving the rent.

Use of printed matter resembling a court process (mostly by collection agencies) is made a misdemeanor.

It is now a violation of State law for a physician or nurse to fail to report injuries made by a deadly weapon.

Judges in chambers now may dispose of uncontested actions, applications to confirm sale of real property, hear motions for new trials, and for vacations of judgments.

County boards of Supervisors are empowered to construct and maintain aquariums.

Schools where unfit or unmanageable children may be housed during the scholastic term (twenty-four-hour schools) may be established by school boards.

ARSON PENALTIES

Arson penalties now apply to all who burn buildings, whether the incendiary owns them or not, and whether they are inhabited or not.

Pupils in primary and high schools may not be suspended for more than two weeks.

And last, but not least, the Legislature determined that the World War ended on November 11, 1918. Veterans who enlisted after that date have been getting tax exemptions, but hereafter, not if they enlisted on November 12, 1918, or at a later date.

NEW LAW PROVIDES FOR CLEANER AUTO CAMPS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. (AP)—clear and healthful auto camps the length and breadth of California will be the motto of the division of housing and sanitation of the State Department of Industrial Relations in the future, officials announced today, as that division has charge of enforcing a new State law requiring State supervision of all camps outside of incorporated cities.

The law goes into effect Wednesday, officials of the division said, and on that date they are prepared to begin a survey of the camps that will come under their jurisdiction.

TRACTOR CLAIMS NO POSTERITY

Therefore County Farm Man Asks Supervisors to Supply Equine Substitutes

Eight horses will cost the county $6000, a price of $750 per horse, according to an order passed by the Board of Supervisors yesterday at the request of William R. Harriman, superintendent of the County Farm.

The high price is not due to the scarcity of horses, but because the animals are blooded Belgian draft mares. Harriman pointed out that it costs no more to raise thoroughbreds than scrubs and that sale of surplus stock would net the county a good profit.

Peculiar conditions at the County Farm make tractors unavailable, it was pointed out, and besides, tractors do not have colts.

Young Japanese Pastor Delivers Mission Sermon

"The gift of God is eternal life, but the wages of sin is death," was the scriptural quotation which fell from the lips of Rev. Jitsuma Hiramatsu, young Japanese preacher, to a group of young men gathered at the Midnight Mission yesterday.

REV. JITSUMA HIRAMATSU

"Like many of you, I was in darkness until ten years ago," said Mr. Hiramatsu. "Then an American missionary pointed me to the way of life and peace and now I try to tell the love of the gentle Jesus to all my brothers, regardless of the country they live in or the color of their skins."

Mr. Hiramatsu, who declares that "America has the greatest opportunity of any nation in history to slay the dragon of alcoholism," is a guest of Rev. A. I. Takaoka, pastor of the Japanese Independent Church at Hollywood.

'Sleepy Burglar' Suspect Booked in Petty Thefts

Harry L. Mansfield, 33 years of age, whom police for several months have referred to as "the lazy, sick and sleepy burglar," was arrested yesterday and booked on suspicion of robbery in connection with numerous petty thefts assertedly committed in rooming-houses and apartments. When taken in custody, according to a police report, pawn tickets representing $1500 in personal effects were recovered from him.

Mansfield, police charge, preyed on small rooming-houses and apartments. He would apply for a room, promising to pay for it that night, they say, and then under the pretext that he was "lazy, sick or sleepy," would remain on the premises during the day and rifle other rooms.

Capt. S. J. McCaleb of the Wilshire division yesterday received information that Mansfield had been seen. He detailed Detective-Lieutenants Peterson and Craig to investigate. They arrested him at Twenty-second street and Mariposa avenue.

PORT SLIDE PERILS' HOMES

Residents Move Houses from Point Fermin Area as Five Acres Topple Seaward

Barricades were thrown up yesterday, halting vehicular traffic at Point Fermin, where a residential area of five acres gradually is being separated from the mainland by a deep crack, which is widening with increasing momentum.

Houses are being moved off the affected area as the edge of the crack caves in, leaving deep crevices which in places are several feet across. Where the crack crosses Paseo del Mar the paving constantly is buckling or collapsing. A motorcyclist sustained injury last week and a pedestrian's foot went through the crust yesterday.

PACE ACCELERATES

The movement is called a landslide by geologists, and is accelerating rapidly. First discernible last January, the five-acre piece moved for a time at the rate of an inch weekly. Since the little tremor in mid-July, however, the slippage has increased and last week was three inches.

"The phenomenon apparently is deep-seated," commented Maj. John C. Shaw, City Engineer, who visited the scene yesterday. "We recently dropped a plumb line into a 3700-foot dry oil well at the point. It met an obstruction at 3000 feet. It is possible the break extends down that far."

SEWERS DIVERTED

Maj. Shaw said work will begin diverting sewers from this area at once; also that a second well will be drilled to 140 feet and its core studied, one recently drilled having struck water at ninety feet and filled up to eighty feet.

He also has invited a conference of prominent engineers at the scene as soon as possible for further enlightenment. They will include William Mulholland and H. A. Van Norman of the Department of Water and Power; Col. W. T. Leeds, Franklin Howell, Ralph Reed, Ralph Arnold, George Nicholson, port engineer, and Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States district engineer.

"The seriousness of the situation is real and we must take cognizance of it," declared Maj. Shaw. "On the other hand, such shearing off of little strips of shore is constantly taking place wherever the ocean washes, and except for the dwellings inside the strip there is no cause for alarm. It may even be that this settling soon will subside."

SITUATION SERIOUS

A dozen dwellings, flats and courts are within the affected area. Owners and tenants continue living in them, their only inconvenience being warm water as water pipes as well as gas lines are laid on top of the ground, with flexible joints to take care of the earth movement.

Street cars have shortened their terminus two blocks, and bus lines now detour around a block.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded an emergency contract for the relocation of an intercepting sewer in Shephard street, Harbor District, to aid in stopping the earthslide. The contract price was $10,500.

Girls Paddle Across Catalina Channel in War Craft

From bow to stern: Virginia Chamberlain, Mary Jackson, Emma Fransen, Juliet King, Lorabelle Neville Eleanor Kellum, Joyce Sloane, Edith Heffner, Doris Ainsworth, and Dora Petty.

An INDIAN war canoe, perhaps the first of its kind to navigate Catalina Channel in nearly a century, was paddled from the island to the mainland over a choppy course yesterday in approximately eight hours by ten young girls of the Toyon summer camp.

The girls shoved off in the frail craft about 3:10 a.m. and nosed the canoe to a dock at Wilmington about 10:10 a.m., covering the more than twenty-six-mile trip at an average of slightly more than three miles an hour. The swells in mid-channel reduced the four-mile-per-hour average they had hoped to maintain.

The expedition was accompanied by the yacht Quest, carrying nurses, food and relief paddlers, and the voyagers got some thrills in the early dark hours when their canoe became separated from the yacht on the tossing waves. Connection soon was re-established, however, without mishap.

There have been many unusual crossings of the channel since two years ago when George Young won William Wrigley's $25,000 prize for swimming from the island to the mainland, but yesterday's feat is the only one of record in which a war canoe of ancient type made port "manned" by ten fair young girls.

The "crew" consisted of Virginia Chamberlain, 18 years of age; Mary Jackson, 17; Emma Fransen, 18; Juliet King, 17; Lorabelle Neville, 18; Eleanor Kellum, 25; Joyce Sloan, 16; Edith Heffner, 15; Doris Ainsworth, 20, and Dora Petty, 17.

RICHARDSON ORDERED HELD

Dist.-Atty. Fitts Detains Keyes Aide Pending Inquiry Into Pedestrians' Deaths

Howell Richardson, attorney, who was absolved from blame by a Coroner's jury in the death of two persons struck by his car Saturday night, has been ordered held for another day for investigation by Dist.-Atty. Fitts. The District Attorney ordered Richardson held immediately after the jury's verdict was returned.

Richardson, who has been in the City Jail since his arrest Saturday night on a suspicion-of-manslaughter charge, will be required to explain his whereabouts during the interval between the time of the accident and the hour he surrendered to the police.

According to police records Richardson's car struck Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cory, each 60 years of age, of 282 South Rampart Boulevard, while they were crossing the street near their home. Both were instantly killed. The accident occurred at 7:20 p.m., according to witnesses.

REPORT DELAYED

Richardson called the police by phone an hour later and promised to report to the Central station. In the meantime witnesses of the accident had reported it to the police. Richardson had driven away after giving his name and license number to Arthur Chapman, a street-car motorman.

According to police records Richardson did not surrender for almost three hours after the accident. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and examined by Dr. Arnold Saverien. The physician asserted there were no signs indicating that Richardson had been drinking. Richardson told the police that he waited until the ambulance arrived before he drove away from the scene of the accident.

JAY WALKING TOLD

At the inquest it was testified by several witnesses that Mr. and Mrs. Cory were attempting to cross the street in the middle of the block. Trees cast shadows at that point and the couple could have stepped into the street without readily being seen until a motorist was upon them, it was asserted by the witnesses.

After deliberating for a half-hour the jury returned its verdict of accidental death. The jury's action, however, has no mandatory effect on the course of the District Attorney. Fitts ordered that a full investigation be made before either a complaint is issued or Richardson's release ordered. Until a complaint is issued the attorney cannot be admitted to bail.

BULWARK OF CHRISTIANS DESCRIBED

Balkan Archbishop Tells Catholic Women About Montenegro's Struggle

Declaring that Europe today would be a great Turkish empire were it not for the persistent stand made for centuries by the people of Montenegro against the advance of the Turks, Most Rev. Nicholas Dobrecic, Archbishop of Antivari, Montenegro, and Primate of Serbia, yesterday addressed the diocesan Council of Catholic Women at a meeting held at the Biltmore. Nearly 100 women representing the many organizations affiliated with the Council of Catholic Women were in attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. Rose Roy, diocesan president.

The prelate traced the development of art, architecture, music and science, showing the cultural contribution made by the church in Europe in each of these branches. He showed the significance of the part played by the people of the Balkan states in the development of Christianity and described their loyalty in the face of centuries of persecution.

A prince of royal Balkan blood as well as a prince of the church, the archbishop has many friends in America. As primate of all Serbia and archbishop of Antivari, he held during the war a position of leadership among his people similar to that held by Cardinal Mercier in Belgium. During his student days in Rome he was a classmate of Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago. He later was consecrated bishop by Cardinal Bonzano, formerly apostolic delegate to the United States. He comes of a distinguished royal line, and during the World War distributed his patrimony to support the poor.

Pacific Electric Employees Will Picnic Saturday

Some 15,000 Pacific Electric employees and their families and friends will participate in the company's annual outing, Southern California's largest industrial picnic, next Saturday at Redondo Beach. Among the outstanding features of the affair, which will include a program of sports and amusements, are free bathing, dancing, refreshments, vaudeville, ball game, bowling, golf, tennis, track events, band concert, trap shooting, wrestling, boxing and deep sea fishing. Prizes will be awarded winners of the various events. Dan Tobey again will be master of ceremonies.

In reality there are to be two picnics on this date, the regular Redondo Beach gathering being supplemented by a special outing at Rose Hill Park for Mexican employees.

All employees possible will be relieved from duty for the picnic. Special trains are to be operated from many points on the Pacific Electric system direct to Redondo Beach and Rose Hill Park.

BANKER TO DISPENSE JUSTICE AT GARDENA

Frank H. Carroll, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Gardena and an attorney, yesterday was appointed by the Board of Supervisors Justice of the Peace in Gardena township to succeed John S. Crandall, who died the 5th inst. Carroll was nominated by Supervisor McClellan, himself a banker, in whose district Gardena is located.

PARK PLAN ABANDONED BY COUNCIL

Expense of Santa Monica Canyon Project Declared to be Far Too Much

The project for acquiring three and one-half acres of land in Santa Monica Canyon for a public park was abandoned by unanimous vote of Council yesterday when the matter came up on confirmation of assessments. Councilman Webster explained that the people of the region want the park, but cannot afford to pay the huge assessment. He said that when the project was inaugurated in 1925, the people were assured the cost would be $105,000, including land and improvements, but when the awards were handed down by the court the cost was placed at $386,000.

The matter has been deferred several times while Mr. Webster attempted to get a reduction, but this was refused. The appeals amounted to about 77 per cent of the property in the district. Council agreed to pay the court and engineering costs, amounting to $34,000.

Protests against the improvement of Klump avenue between Burbank Boulevard and Cumpston street were denied and the confirmation of assessments for the improvement of the Pontius avenue and Mississippi avenue district were continued until Thursday.

PROBATION GRANTED FOR SANTA ANA MAN

Charles W. Inman, business man of Santa Ana, yesterday changed his plea to guilty when he appeared before United States District Judge McCormick on a charge of violating the Immigration Act by bringing three girl relatives from Armenia into the United States through Mexico. The court, taking into consideration Inman's efforts to help his distant relatives, granted him probation of two years. One of the three girls, aged 15, is being cared for by uncles in California, and the other two by Inman. What action will be taken by the Immigration Bureau is not yet determined.

BANCROFT'S BROTHER HERE

Stewart Bancroft, brother of George Bancroft, the motion-picture actor, arrived in Hollywood from Pittsburgh yesterday. He will establish his residence in Southern California, he and Mrs. Bancroft having closed their home in Pittsburgh and disposed of most of their properties there. It is Stewart Bancroft's first visit with his brother since 1925.

INSTITUTION WILL LOSE EXECUTIVE

EDUCATOR'S RESIGNATION ANNOUNCED

Dr. Arthur Braden to Quit Post as Christian College President in Fall

Dr. Arthur Braden, president of the California Christian College on Vermont avenue for the last seven years, yesterday announced his resignation, which will take effect on September 1, next. He will be connected with the college for a year longer in an unofficial capacity, he states. His resignation was caused by ill health of his wife.

Dr. C. P. Cheverton, one of the professors in the college, has been selected as acting president until the board of trustees, of which Charles C. Chapman is president, selects the new head. Dr. Cheverton has been with the college since its inception.

When Dr. Braden started here eight years ago there were fifty pupils in the institution and last year there were 536. The assets of the college were given as $200,000 at that time and now are $1,500,000. Dr. Braden came here from Lawrence, Kan., where he was connected with the State university.

"My plans are indefinite at this time," Dr. Braden stated yesterday. "I will be connected unofficially with the college for another year, the board being so kind as to give me leave of absence for a year with full salary. Several affairs which I have started I hope to carry to completion before I leave."

HOTELS FIND SEASON NOW LENGTHENED

Summer and Fall Travel to Coast Gains Shown by Books, Says Official

Summer and fall travel to Southern California is increasing to the point where it is making a pleasing record on the books of large hotel companies, according to Herbert S. Martin, president of the Ambassador Hotels Corporation, owner of the hotel of that name here. Mr. Martin arrived on a tour of inspection of hotel properties and other interests. He also is a vice-president and director of the S. W. Strauss Company, investment brokers.

HERBERT S. MARTIN

"I am really a banker turned hotel man," Mr. Martin said last night at the Ambassador, and naturally I am pleased when any of our hotels make a good showing. The records for the hotel here for the summer months have been unusually good."

Several large conventions are credited with a part of the gain, but Mr. Martin said he thought there was a growing tendency for summer and fall travel to the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Martin will be in the city for a week and will leave on a tour of Central and Northern California before returning to his home in New York.

Funeral for B. R. Tunison Set for Today

Funeral services will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers at 2 p.m. today for Burnell R. Tunison, 36 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tunison, 1197 North Ardmore street, who died in New York City recently of a sudden attack of acute appendicitis. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Joie Tunison, and two young daughters, Joie and Bernardine.

Tunison, who graduated from the University of Southern California in 1916, shortly afterward became connected with the United States Industrial Oil Company of New York in charge of experimental chemical work. Four years ago he became vice-president of the American Solvents and Chemical Company in charge of sales.

Mrs. Tunison came here recently to spend the summer, expecting her husband to join her later. His sudden illness called her back to New York soon after arriving here, but Tunison died before his wife reached him.

Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Today's Bible Text

And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it to you. St. John xvi:20.

FINDING AN ISSUE

One of the leading candidates for Governor of Texas is running on an anti-Tammany platform, which is about the same as it would be to run on an anti-rattler slate in Arizona—except that there are rattlesnakes in Arizona, while there is no Tammany in Texas. It all goes to prove that if a candidate wants to run for office he can pull his issue out of thin air, as the magician does his rabbits.

THE UNEXPECTED

Beware of photographers. Man who sued for $50,000 for personal damages on the ground that he had been made a cripple for life in an accident was a bit surprised when a bit of movie film was brought into court which showed him turning handsprings and doing other athletic stunts. Naturally his attorney made the claim that the claimant was thereby virtually made to testify against himself, which is not supposed to be in tune with court practice and constitutional rights, but the pictorial record is there just the same.

THE FLYING MAIL

The flying mail can operate under as accurate a schedule as the railroad. In July the Western Air Express planes covered 90,000 miles on the flight between Los Angeles and Kansas City. The slowest trip east was made in thirteen hours and five minutes. The slowest west was thirteen hours and seventeen minutes. The average both ways was practically twelve hours and forty minutes. The best time by rail is about fifty hours and no surprise is felt when a train is a couple of hours late. The air mail is usually on the dot. It seems to be as simple as playing the cornet.

LICENSE QUIZZING

Pretty soon a man will not be suffered to push a wheelbarrow unless he can take a quiz in the classics and pass an examination in civil engineering—and mighty civil at that. A man is hardly permitted to acquire a license to drive his car unless he can name the six wives of Henry VIII and figure the cubic contents of a seven-foot hearse. Under the amended real estate law of California a gent may not peddle our ample acreage unless he can recite Thanatopsis and subdivide an angel cake into thirty-one equal parts. Anyhow, a State commissioner provides a list of no less than 236 questions which must be answered before a license will be granted a California realtor. Even the humblest salesman will have to wrestle with ninety different queries. Some of them are hypothetical questions dealing with morals and ethics and naturally susceptible of but one answer. But there they are and even the pioneers in the land game will have to qualify under a new dispensation.

WHY FLY SO HIGH?

Why fly so high and so long? These are questions the practical are asking. Some cannot see much in the struggle of steel to stay in the air and do not hesitate to condemn it.

And yet science is acquiring data that may prove useful. If refueling stations can be provided, planes may be enabled to fly indefinitely. Fuel seems to be the largest element in the problem. Nerves and steel appear to be capable of unending endurance. It may even be valuable to find the limits to these.

If mere hours in the air were gained, the attempts would degenerate into mere stunts, unworthy of the cost and peril involved. When they learn what part of a plane succumbs most quickly, strengthening and stiffening those parts may save life in commercial aviation.

Oiling the rocker arms in a special way enabled two recent flyers to hold out longer than two previous contestants. A weak point in the steering gear in these endurance planes may eliminate a similar defect from all aircraft.

Many corrections to the automobile were first made on the race track. The unsympathetic criticised and could see nothing but foolhardiness in the races; but they ride in safety today by virtue of the sacrifices of the daring drivers at the wheel.

THE EQUITY SPLIT

No better demonstration of the crumbling character of the campaign of the Actors' Equity Association to control the film industry could be made than that supplied by Equity's own two highest officials.

On Saturday night President Gillmore, executive head of the association, rushed through what was subsequently described as an indorsement of his campaign policies by the votes of some 3000 persons—of whom three-fourths were not entitled to cast a ballot on this or any other Equity question. The mass meeting at the American Legion Stadium was remarkable for the conspicuous absence of anything like adequate representation of real Equity members of the two years' standing requisite to a vote. A cut-and-dried resolution of "confidence" in Gillmore and his lieutenants was stampeded through over the protests of at least 100 persons who were vainly trying to get Gillmore's recognition to speak.

Light on the reason for the absence of real Equity representation at this meeting was cast the following day by the remarkable statement formally issued by Miss Ethel Barrymore, vice-president of Equity, one of Equity's conferees with the producers and easily the most prominent member of the actors' association. In view of Miss Barrymore's usual conservative viewpoint, the statement amounted to a denunciation of Gillmore's tactics and made it clear that Equity itself is split wide open on the campaign program.

Miss Barrymore charged Gillmore not only with having purposely called the meeting at a time when she could not be present because of her stage appearance—obviously to prevent her from making known the true facts of the situation—but with having betrayed Equity into indorsing a hopeless set of demands, at the same time ignoring an opportunity for an amicable settlement of the controversy.

Gillmore's own account of the conferences with the producers, misleading though Miss Barrymore showed it to be, made painfully plain the weakness of Equity's strategical position and the emptiness of Gillmore's claims of imminent victory. The crux of Equity's campaign—100 per cent Equity control of screen players—he admitted was early abandoned, notwithstanding that a week ago he had announced a schedule of ruinous fines for all film players, Equity and non-Equity alike, who had failed to support his campaign. Such punitive measures, of course, could only be applied were Equity in complete and absolute control of screen employment.

Having abandoned the 100 per cent demand without a struggle, Gillmore said they next offered a plan for 80 per cent Equity casts, 20 per cent non-Equity. This was similarly rejected by the producers, Gillmore said, adding that they offered and subsequently withdrew a proposition to concede Equity's permanent control of its own membership. According to Gillmore's account, which presumably did not err on the side of giving himself the worst of it, the single concession on the part of the producers was that of allowing Equity a substantial representation in the industry—which it already has—but with no stipulation whatever as to the percentage of Equity casts.

The Equity conferees abandoned another of the principal "talking points" in their membership campaign in this paragraph of their letter to the producers:

"Hours of work: We feel that stars can determine their own hours of work."

Equity propaganda has laid great stress on the demand for a forty-eight-hour week, though few picture people actually average that many hours. The recession on this demand for "stars" means a similar recession for other players for as the principals work, of course, so work the other members of the cast.

This was the situation which President Gillmore laid before Saturday night's meeting, asking for a vote of confidence in and support of what his committee had so far done, or failed to do, in conference with the producers. His purpose in so arranging the meeting that the substantial element of Equity represented by Miss Barrymore and other veteran stage players should not be present was obviously the same as that which prompted the railroading of the previously prepared resolution—to hide the breach in Equity's own ranks and to provide his committee with evidence of a wholly fictitious "solidarity" on the part of the Equity membership wherewith to bluff the producers. Miss Barrymore's frank statement appears to have removed what slight chance might ever have existed that such a bluff would work.

The producers are to be congratulated on their flat refusal to consider any arrangement providing for a fixed percentage of Equity membership in their casts. Such a plan, of course, would prevent the producers from employing the best-fitted players for particular parts, since they would have to use a certain percentage of Equity members in every classification, whether suited to the picture or not.

The only equitable rule that could be adopted would be one providing that there shall be no discrimination for or against any player by reason of membership or nonmembership in Equity. Such a rule is the essence of the open-shop principle. It is fair to everybody. It has worked well in every industry where it has been tried, including the film-making business.

The several concessions from his original demands which Gillmore is offering mean nothing except that he is seeking the largest toe-hold he can get in the industry.

That toe-hold—if he gets it—he expects to turn into a strangle hold later.

MORE FEDERAL PRISONS

President Hoover's announcement that he will ask Congress for $5,000,000 to build a new Federal prison and to enlarge existing ones, particularly Atlanta and Leavenworth, probably means an end, so far as the nation is concerned, of the conditions which produced the Leavenworth prison riot. It will not help the State situation, of course, but it is an example to the States that they must follow.

Nearly every State has a similar problem of the modernization and extension of its prison quarters, since in few cases have these kept pace with the growth of population. It is expected New York will have to rebuild or replace Auburn prison, where a serious riot took place recently; it is a sufficient commentary on this structure to say that it was built in 1816 and that it lacks about everything that could be expected to be lacking under the circumstances.

Many things are still unknown about the proper methods of conducting prisons and of treating prisoners. Society has evolved no really satisfactory formula. But there can be no doubt whatever that the effect of overcrowding upon the unstable emotions of these human derelicts is to bring out the worst in them. This is undesirable, not so much for their sakes—most of them have forfeited any great amount of claim to consideration—but for the sake of society, for whose protection they are sequestered.

GRATIFYING TRADE GROWTH

It has not been many years since the time when more than 80 per cent of America's foreign trade was carried in foreign ships. Now, according to a comprehensive survey just finished by the Shipping Board, 40 per cent of that trade is borne under the American flag and the day is not distant when more than 50 per cent will be carried in our own ships.

As seen by the Shipping Board's report of this survey, our commerce has increased tremendously in the decade since the World War as compared with the ten years just previous to its beginning. In the period from 1905 to 1914 the foreign trade carried in American ships had an average annual value of $300,000,000. The annual average in the last ten years has been $2,600,000,000, or nearly nine times as much.

Thirty per cent of our foreign commerce is still carried in British vessels and about as much is distributed among those of twenty-six other nations. Thus it is seen that America and Britain have a common interest in world trade and this fact should have a bearing upon the settlement of naval parity, as a major feature of the naval issue between the two countries is the competition of American merchant vessels with British ships.

According to the Shipping Board's report, our ships have a monopoly of American coast trade, now nearly double our foreign commerce. But the development of outside trade borne by American bottoms has been rather slower than some of our optimistic shipping masters had predicted. Nevertheless, the number of our ships sailing to and from outside ports has increased from 112 in 1914 to 671 at present.

These signs are encouraging and would seem to betoken a bright future for our merchant marine.

Woman complains in the divorce court that the husband threw a cat at her. Not the first time that a cat has broken up a home.

EXPLAINING GREECE

By James J. Montague

Dr. MacCaffin says that Greece fell because she would not turn to commerce.

The Greeks were a marvelous folk,
They should all have had college degrees,
Because every one of them spoke
Their classical language with ease.
Moreover they knew how to fight from their birth
And their army made raids and excursions
Until they had gained the control of the earth
Which was formerly held by the Persians.

The Greeks were all bearcats at art;
Their buildings were grand and sublime;
When they put up a temple or mart
They built it to last for all time.
Such grace and refinement they learned to display
In their towering marble creations
That we Yankees are proud to repeat them today
In designs for our gasoline stations.

But alas! the Athenian race
From its glorious height has been hurled,
And gone is the masterful place
That it held a brief time in the world.
No longer the people of Pericles lead
In the science of learning and letters;
One is forced to admit they were clever indeed,
But they simply would not be go-getters.

Mid the glories that used to be Greece
The bats and the pigeons now dwell.
Why triumph in war and in peace
If you simply will not learn to sell?
If Athens had only extended her trade
We now at her feet might be humbled,
But no talent for commerce at all she displayed
And now all her splendors are crumbled!

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

EVERY visitor in Los Angeles now wants to see them making talkies; but we, their hosts, throw up our hands and say it can't be done.

SOUND STAGE NO ADMITTANCE

"The slightest sound may spoil everything," we tell them, "so the studios won't let anybody in. Why, we've never seen them ourselves."

But the fact is that the talkies aren't as hard to see, while in the making, as they are to watch. Most of them are more tiresome than an argument between two Civil War veterans over whether it was Bill Smith or John Smith who lost two fingers in the battle of Shiloh. They are full of action like a chess tournament and of repetitions like a parrot.

Couldn't Escape the Crowd

The Fox studios at Fox Hills occupy more ground than many a thriving town, but there isn't room there for airplane pictures. So the company recently leased part of the Baldwin ranch near Sierra Madre on which they have been working night and day on a war picture which calls for a lot of flying and shooting. The spot is well off the highway, reached by a country lane instead of Foothill Boulevard, but every night lately the surrounding roads have been blocked with automobiles and a whole troop of traffic officers has been on duty. Often the crowd lingers till midnight, feeling thrilled if three or four times in the whole evening it has heard war sirens and seen planes bombing "London" from a sky made brilliant with star shells and searchlights.

There is nothing but an ordinary barbed-wire fence to restrain the crowd and a good many people sneak through. They find a sort of village, beyond which "set" are a couple of crashed planes. On that field, when we were there, the action centered. Around it on three sides were powerful lights and nearly everywhere one stepped were coils of electric wires almost as big as garden hose. Lights, camera, microphone, all seemed connected by such wire. Outside the scene on which those lights focused stood electricians, cameramen and actors waiting their call. And crowding in with them were all sorts of curious townsfolk and passers. The company had chosen one of the quietest spots within reach, but the world had beaten several paths to its door.

Over and Over

Director John Blystone gave the word. Mechanisms began to hum. "Quiet, please!" some one shouted. And then the action and dialogue began. Half an hour had been spent in preparation, but the dialogue did not last three minutes. As the girl and the man talked a microphone swung above them on a movable arm was manipulated so that it took every sound. Then the director pointed out some flaws and the three-minute scene was done over.

Four hours later they still were doing it over. Often as much as 300,000 feet of film is used in making a picture which will be cut to 8000 feet before it is produced.

Tough on Waiters

That was outdoor stuff. Indoors, at Fox Hills, we watched Will Rogers and Irene Rich. The scene was the main salon of a chateau they had (supposedly) rented in Paris, and Irene was showing it to Will. They entered, walked across the room. She exclaimed, "Isn't it wonderful!" and he responded with the laugh line and they proceeded up the grand stairway. It took them from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. to get that scene to the director's satisfaction.

That huge room, however, was like a regular stage with no audience seats before it. Fully a dozen big "sun" lights poured light on the set, some from the side and some from above—each, apparently, having an electrician or juicer attached. Beside the camera sat the director and some actors not then engaged, while in the gloom behind the lights and camera lounged other actors, extras, electricians, stage carpenters and a few favored visitors. The little scene was taken, talked over, retaken, retalked and so on—while we watchers shifted from one foot to the other and wondered when something else would happen.

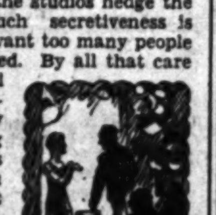
When talkies first were made half a dozen microphones were set about the stage, the sounds recorded by them all being carried by wire to the mixing room, perhaps half a block away, where they were blended. Now only one movable microphone is used, swinging above the actors. But any sound recorded can be brought up or down in volume just as the volume of your radio can be increased or lessened. Thus it is unnecessary for actors in talkies to speak as dramatically as they would on the stage, and the lowness of their voices often adds to the disillusionment of the uninitiated visitor.

So our own confidential lowdown is that the reason the studios hedge the talkies with such secretiveness is that they don't want too many people to get disillusioned. By all that care and patient toil they are improving them daily and securing some marvelous results. But you can no more get an idea of what a talkie is going to be by listening in on its making till your legs give out or your vacation is over than you can get an idea of what a picture is going to be from looking at the artist's palette.



LETTERS TO The Times

Equity Meetings

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have had the pleasure of attending the last two meetings of Equity and what a show they put on. I wonder, in spite of all the noise they make, just what percentage of people in that vast crowd were actors and really interested in Equity. I happened to be sitting beside a middle-aged woman with two children. We got to talking and she told me she was from a town in Ohio and that she attended all the Equity meetings so she could see the movie stars.

But she was disappointed. I told her that the real movie people were not interested in Equity, only the kind that will never mean much in pictures and the pitiful cases of "has beens" that are trying to force their way back in.

Let us go over some of the speakers in the last two weeks: Montagu Love, Sam Hardy, Clark Silvernail, Mr. O'Hay, Frank Gillmore, Jetta Goudal, George Arliss, Emma Dunn, a couple of other labor leaders, the Equity attorney. The whole bunch of them put in a picture together couldn't draw a dime in Rock Springs, Wyo. Clara Bow alone could outdraw the entire Equity organization in any town in the United States, even including the great actor. J. D.

Long May He Sing

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The mocking bird has been designated as the American nightingale. It is the only American bird known that chants its lay both night and day. He has a mission to perform as well as you or I and he is as fixed in this mission as the stars overhead. Nothing can change his purpose. Kill him, and others will take his place. Joyously he is performing this mission to the best of his ability.

The mocking bird received his name from his power of voice, being able to imitate almost every animal as well as many noises. At intervals during the day his song is sometimes bold, full and even harsh; but when the sun sinks behind the horizon and darkness steals over the earth, through instinct, he tones down his chatter to a soft melody. This lullaby heard during the silent vigil of the night will produce sleep. He acts as a sentinel, as it were, keeping guard over a slumbering world till the gray dawn of the morning tells that the night is spent.

Ever since the world began, hosts and hosts of individuals have had opposition to their purpose by special enemies, and it seems that the mocking bird is no exception. Long live the mocking bird.

Damaged Fruit

GARDENA, Aug. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There's a fruit and vegetable stand across the street from my place and they have four signs posted in plain view that reads, "Please keep your hands off the fruit." But they don't do a bit of good, for eight out of ten will begin picking it up and squeezing and smelling of it as soon as they get in reach of it. Just now a middle-aged man (git that, middle aged,) stopped and went to the watermelon pile and believe it or not, he picked up twelve or fourteen and put them between his knees and pressed on them with all his might, then he turned and told the Japanese saleslady they were all green and drove away. And before him a woman stopped and she went from one end to the other picking up and squeezing and smelling of everything they have in the fruit line. She had reached the vegetable department and the Japanese saleslady picked up a potato and held it out to her and said: "Here, squeeze and smell of this for a while," and she got peeved and drove away without buying any of the fruit she had bruised and would have to be thrown away the next day. If folks would use a little common sense their fruit would not cost them so much. Twice each week the garbage man calls at this stand and picks up the rotten fruit that is thrown away on account of being bruised and crushed.

More Gun, Less Bird, More Bug

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A recent editorial reads, in part: "A small boy in Greenwich, Ct., fired at a bird perched on a branch." Multiply this by 10,000,000 other bird-killing boys and men. Result: one reason why we face the menace of bug pests. Unbalance nature; disaster follows:

Entreaties for a .22 rifle or air gun result all too frequently in small son receiving such a plaything (?) from thoughtless parents. The inanimate tin can after awhile becomes too tame a target; it is much harder to hit a bird! Their slaughter begins; continues for fifty years. Bugs! Flies! Ants! take charge. Now economic expediency battles the foe.

We hope of an awakening to one of the causes of the present menace, rigid protection of bird life, outlawing of .22-caliber rifles, BB guns, slingshots, etc., in the hands of children and thoughtless adults.

HERBERT H. HALLETT,
Secretary State Commission for Protection of Children and Animals.

THE CALIFORNIA CLIMATE

BY HARRY BOWLING

May I be allowed to rise up in meeting and register a kick against the loose and indiscriminate use of the term, California climate? California has an area of 158,360 square miles, it extends for ten degrees of latitude. Within its borders is every elevation of surface from 14,000 feet above sea level to 300 feet below. It possesses a greater variety of physical features and temperatures and rainfalls and winds and calms than any area of the same size on the surface of the globe.

Since climate chiefly determines the physical features of a region it is evidently erroneous to speak of the California climate as though it were a fixed yardstick with which to measure every part of this vast domain from Trinity to San Diego and Lake Tahoe to Catalina Island.

When the superior person talks to the Californian of the California climate, it would be quite parliamentary to ask him to what particular part of the State he is referring. Is he referring to the peaks of the high Sierras, where he can find frost and snow at any time of the year? Or to the sink of the Salton Sea, where he can acquire a fashionable tan in mid-December? Or to the Monterey Peninsula, where fires on misty August evenings are entirely in order? To the San Joaquin Valley, where the average annual rainfall is three to four inches, or Eureka, where it generally exceeds thirty?

Within the State of California the active explorer can find any kind of climate he looks for—except the hot humidity of the tropics or the ceaseless cold rains of the Falkland Islands. He can recondition the Nile delta in the valley of the Colorado. He can build a better and more beautiful Mediterranean Riviera on the coast of the Santa Barbara Channel. He can set his Alpine chalet on the slope of Mt. Whitney. He can duplicate an Iowa farm in the rich lowlands of Orange county. He can smell the incense of Norwegian forests among the heavy timbered hills of Humboldt. He can winter with Commander Byrd—if he cares to—in the storms and snows of California mountain tops.

Such being the case, I hold it to be somewhat incongruous to speak of the California climate in the singular number. Even in the one county of Los Angeles you can find on the same day maximum temperatures varying from ninety-six to sixty-nine degrees. Pasadena has an average rainfall 10 per cent higher than that of its big neighbor, Los Angeles. Palmdale in Antelope Valley and Redondo Beach are both in Los Angeles county. Yet you couldn't speak of the California climate and make it truthfully apply to both these places.

All the same there is something about the skies and sunshine, the breezes and air and atmosphere of California common to all parts of the commonwealth and peculiar to this glorious State. What we call the California climate is a composite of all the happiest weather conditions culled from all parts of the earth and gathered on this one blessed spot of earth into a harmonious whole.

Whether it be in the fogs of the Golden Gate, the dancing heat waves of the Mojave, the crisp, dry warmth of our southern elfin forests or in the somber cathedral aisles of the towering redwoods, the summer coolness of San Diego or the winter frosts of the San Gorgonio wilderness, there is a spirit in the California climate, through all its varying moods, recognized by everything that has life, native or exotic, human, animal or vegetable.

The spirit of California—there is something here as evasive as the spirit of electricity—yet its effects are evident in as many different manifestations—it permeates our infinite variety of weathers. Only those who have absorbed this spirit are entitled to talk about the California climate.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Oxyacetylene Welding?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Oxyacetylene welding is a new trade, starting in this country at about the time of the World's Fair at San Francisco. It has grown to be a big factor in the industrial world and is still growing. It has a bearing on every industrial plant. During the World War the United States found that oxyacetylene welding was the best means not only for repairing airplane parts, but for making complete fuselages. This one phase of the work has grown into a mammoth industry.

Welding pays from $7 to $9 a day. Those who wish to enter the trade or to advance in it may receive free instruction at the Jacob A. Riis Evening High School, Sixty-ninth and Main streets, starting September 10. The class will meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m.

The instructor, Walter W. English, has worked with the torch on all metals of any commercial importance practically from the birth of this trade.

REPORT ON DEATH

Belated reports reaching Central Police Station a day after Mrs. Denison's death occurred stated she was found unconscious in an apartment at 922 South Lake street which she had rented with the assistance of Capt. Alexander Robertson of the fire department, a family friend. Capt. Robertson and the landlady of the apartment-house made the discovery, it is stated, and called Dr. Osborn, who, in turn, called the police.

Mr. Denison, it is stated, is in Honolulu.

HONOLULU RELATIVES BLAME NERVOUS CONDITION

HONOLULU, Aug. 12. (AP)—George P. Denison, father-in-law of Mrs. Grace Denison, who died in Los Angeles yesterday assertedly after drinking poison, said today that she was near a nervous breakdown when she left Honolulu. He thought her nervous condition might have caused her to commit suicide. She was expected to return to Honolulu this week.

The Denison family is prominent in Hawaii, George P. Denison being general manager of the Oahu Railway and Land Company, while the widower is Harry L. Denison, connected with the Association of Hawaiian Pineapple Canners.

DEALERS JOIN TO GUARD GREETING CARD SALES

Christmas greeting cards should be something least calculated to feature among life's trials and tribulations and yet they loom up now with every indication of being classed as a major problem, in so far as Southern California dealers are concerned. The situation has assumed such proportions that the dealers have taken the first of a series of steps to remedy a state of affairs they declare detrimental to the best interests of this section. Several days ago sixty-four local dealers from most of the department stores, jewelers and stationers met to organize the Retail Greeting Card Merchants' Association of Southern California, with a constitution and by-laws, for the purpose of encouraging the buyers of greeting cards to patronize the dealers of Southern California.

There is a class of dealers, according to members of the association, which solicitis trade in house-to-house canvassing or by sending box assortments of cards through the mails. In almost every case, it is declared, the rewards are gathered in by concerns outside Southern California. Last year, for example, $230,000 was spent for greeting cards with these dealers, money which the local dealers believe rightfully belongs in Southern California.

The class of merchandise of the house-to-house canvassers, it is said, is largely old material left over from previous seasons.

The association has received assurance of co-operation from the Chamber of Commerce and the Better Business Men's Association and churches which formerly carried on greeting-card selling campaigns have agreed to work with the association in the future. A radio and advertising campaign will further serve to inform the public on the advantage of patronizing home industry in the greeting-card trade.

M'CARTHY DENIED BAIL BY COURT

Barber's Asserted Slayer Held to Answer Charge of Murder at Hearing

Joseph B. McCarthy, 50 years of age, cigar store operator, accused of killing Edward J. Powell, barber shop proprietor, on the 3rd inst., yesterday was held to answer on the charge without bail, following a preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Ballard.

The shooting, which occurred at 3734 Whittier Boulevard, was the climax of a considerable period of ill-feeling between McCarthy and Powell, who operated a barber shop in the rear of McCarthy's establishment, according to evidence adduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess.

Among those who testified at the hearing was C. L. Goure, a barber, who stated that he heard three shots and running toward the front of the barber shop, saw the two men on their knees and struggling with a revolver between them.

At the time of his arrest, McCarthy maintained he was goaded into the killing by certain insulting acts on the part of the dead man. Sitting stoically through the hearing, McCarthy, when advised he was entitled to counsel, stated he will request the Public Defender to represent him.

BANDITS ROB LOAN OFFICE IN DAYLIGHT

Spring-Street Broker Loses $400 in Hold-up by Dapper Thieves

In a hold-up of the German-American Loan Association at 837 South Spring street yesterday afternoon three attaches were locked in a back room after being robbed of $400.

The bandits were two young, well-dressed Americans who approached Manager N. F. Kafitz with inquiries about a loan. Whipping out revolvers, the pair marched Kafitz, William S. Martin, vice-president, and Marian Tracey, a stenographer, into a rear office. There the robbers took $400 from Kafitz and then locked the trio in a rear room.

As the bandits walked out a young woman entered the outer office. One armed man ordered her to sit down until they had made their escape. The young woman looked out of a window and saw one bandit drive away in a car, while the second man vanished into a near-by theater. Detectives searched the theater but were unable to find the man.

Gus Mulholland Funeral Service to be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Gus Mulholland, Southern California oil man, who died at the Hollywood Hospital Sunday night as a result of diabetes, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Los Angeles Crematory. Mr. Mulholland, who had been ill for the last three years, was 73 years of age and had not been engaged in active business for some time past.

He came here about twelve years ago from New Mexico, where he had played a prominent part in New Mexico politics and had been geologist for the State as well as being actively interested in mining projects there. Identified with a number of oil concerns after he came here, his chief work was in opening up some of the large fields in Ventura county and in Los Angeles county.

He leaves his widow, who resides at the family home at 307 South Norton avenue; three daughters, Mrs. Blanche Bowie, Mrs. Beatrix Walker and Mrs. Elsie Proctor, and two sons, Bernard and Clifton H. Mulholland.

ACTION PLANNED IN ATTACK CASE

Complaints Will be Asked Against Five Today

Ruth Manske, Victim, Still Ill in Juvenile Hall

Suspects in Cells Pending Official Charges

Formal complaints against five young men accused of a brutal attack on Miss Ruth Manske, 17 years of age, of 425 South Fremont street, will be requested of the District Attorney today, Capt. Bruttig of the Juvenile Bureau announced yesterday. The girl is in Juvenile Hall, in such a weakened condition that she was unable to appear in person yesterday to make the complaint wheih Capt. Bruttig will lay before the District Attorney.

The five men arrested after the girl told her story Sunday are Anselno Alvarado, 25, of 632 Baily street; Louis E. Burton, 17, of 1112 West Seventh street; Carl I. Bright, 23, of 812 Stewart street; Robert Warner, 23, of same address, and Henry Dapper, 22, of 4619 Avalon Boulevard. They are in jail awaiting action by the authorities.

Miss Manske told police that she was seized at 2 a.m. Sunday when she was about to enter her home and that she was carried forcibly in an automobile, her cries being muffled. She was dragged into a vacant lot near Venice and La Cienega boulevards, where she was attacked, she said. Officer Melton of the Wilshire division heard her screams and ran to her rescue. Three young men escaped in a car, a fourth was fired at as he ran away, while the policeman captured Alvarado, according to police report. A coat left in flight led to the arrest of Burton, and questioning of the pair revealed the addresses of the other three, who were arrested in their rooms.

GIRL LISTED AS MISSING RETURNING

Zelda Body Due at Home Today After Being Under Investigation in Arizona

Miss Zelda Body, 20 years of age, who was reported mysteriously missing to police on the 2nd inst., is due to return to Los Angeles today from Phoenix, where she was held Sunday in connection with a Mann Act investigation, according to dispatches.

Miss Body, daughter of C. A. Body, a local oil operator who lives at 229 South Berendo street, according to the police missing-persons report, is accompanied on her trip from Arizona by her mother.

Two men, H. F. Murphy, 39, and Francis F. O'Brien, 31, also were held in the Phoenix jail with Miss Body during the investigation. She is asserted to have met them in Arizona. Police have no record of them here.

The girl disappeared about lunch time on the 2nd inst., the police report says, from the downtown office of her father, where she had been employed since last April.

Finding of the girl was the result of information obtained by the local detectives, according to the police. O'Brien was traced through correspondence with friends here, they reported.

Young Cudahy's Trial Date Set

Michael J. Cudahy, Jr., an heir to the Cudahy meat packing fortune, yesterday pleaded not guilty when taken before Superior Judge Aggeler, to a charge that he drove his automobile down a Hollywood street while intoxicated and collided with a parked car.

Judge Aggeler fixed the 22nd inst. as the date for the 21-year-old youth's trial in Department 27 of Superior Court.

Also accused of possessing form charts, Paul A. Kuns, Lee Luf and James Morro were held under bail of $500 each by Judge Bogue.

JUDGE TO TAKE WITNESS STAND

Stafford Due to Testify Today in Newport-Clarke Trial

Jury Now Complete and All in Readiness to Proceed

Members Will be Locked Up Until Case's Conclusion

Dailey Stafford, Municipal Court judge, today is scheduled to be the first important witness in the trial of Fred P. Newport, wealthy Los Angeles realty operator, and Robert D. Clarke, former Municipal Court clerk and defeated candidate for a seat in the City Council, charged with attempted bribery and conspiracy to commit bribery.

The jury was accepted last night in Superior Judge Doran's court just before adjournment. E. J. Dennison, representing the District Attorney, and Attorneys LeCompte Davis, William Neblett and William Kendrick, Jr., stipulated that the jury was acceptable.

Immediately after acceptance of the jury was stipulated Judge Doran announced that the members will be locked up until termination of the trial.

Selection of the jury began yesterday morning when the case was transferred from Superior Judge Fricke's court to Judge Doran's court for trial.

It is charged that Clarke approached Judge Stafford while he was acting temporarily as a Superior Court Judge, and urged him to alter his decision in a civil suit brought against Newport by Charles Middleton, a former associate. The inducement, according to the indictment, was an offer of $50,000. Investigators assert that Newport prompted Clarke to made the offer to Judge Stafford.

The case was brought to the attention of Dist.-Atty. Fitts by Judge Stafford three weeks ago when he demanded an investigation. As a result, according to Dist.-Atty. Fitts, a dictograph was installed in Judge Stafford's office and officers heard damaging statements made by Clarke.

IMPROVEMENTS VOTED

The Council yesterday voted to institute proceedings for the improvement of streets in the Gregory Way and Le Doux Road district.

REWARD GIVEN OFFICERS HERE

Round-up of Agua Caliente Gang Nets $2000

Eleven Men Will Get Share of Prize Money

San Diego Chief of Police Praises Authorities

Two thousand dollars yesterday was ordered divided among eleven officers in Los Angeles as a reward for their assistance in the capture of Lee Cochran, asserted accomplice in the Agua Caliente pay car robbery recently when two men were killed.

A certified check for that amount was received by Frank Dewar, former chief of the robbery investigation detail and now chief deputy of the criminal department of Sheriff Traeger's office.

After inspecting his records of the investigation, Chief Dewar announced that the $2000 will be divided equally among M. C. O'Connor, detective lieutenant of the Los Angeles Police Department; F. W. Modie, sheriff's homicide detail; H. R. E. West, C. Y. Adams, Ray Bogie, H. J. Brooks, Charles Catlin, O. H. Cloud, T. J. Hart, J. L. McDermott and Frank Dewar, deputy sheriffs.

In authorizing this division, Chief Dewar announced that the reward is shared with everyone who actually played a part in the apprehension of Cochran in his hiding place at 370 South Lucas street May 23, last. Detective Lieutenant O'Connor is given credit for furnishing the acutal number of the house in which Cochran was hiding although deputy sheriffs already were guarding the district on information that he was hiding in some house within that block.

In forwarding the certified check for $2000 as reward money, A. R. Hill, San Diego police chief, highly complimented Chief Dewar and Sheriff Traeger for their assistance in apprehending Cochran.

"Permit me to thank you for the splendid work done for us in this case by your officers," Chief Hill stated in his letter to Sheriff Traeger, "and especially commend Mr. Frank Dewar whose efforts I personally know to have been untiring."

CHIROPRACTIC SESSION OPEN

[Illustration on Picture Page]

The National Progressive Chiropractic Association opened its sixth annual convention yesterday at the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic, 918 Venice Boulevard. This is the fourth consecutive year that the convention has been held here. The convention will last until Saturday.

The ground floor of the college is devoted to exhibits.

The visitor may ride "Cal's Colt," the mechanical horse of the Battle Creek Sanitarium, sit in Dr. Kellogg's vibratory chair which has been installed in large department stores for the nerve relaxation of employees; sweat in the electric-light bath cabinet, also invented by Dr. John Harvey Kellogg, or examine a Swedish massage and exercise machine invented by Dr. J. H. Holm.

DEMONSTRATIONS MADE

The latter appliance resembles a small trench mortar with a flexible rubber bell which may be applied with eight different circular and reciprocating motions.

Models were on hand to demonstrate the three gaits of "Cal's Colt," including the trot, canter and gallop; the cannon ball of health; the Osteo-Rotor machine for correcting spinal conditions and the many other vibratory and massage equipments, some of which are camouflaged in ornate cabinets like radio, an unknown quantity until opened.

Upstairs the delegates assembled in business sessions. Estimates of an attendance of 3000 are expected to be fulfilled during the week, according to Dr. Charles H. Wood, general chairman. Beginning at noon today, the public will be admitted to all sessions of the convention, "in the interest of general health," Dr. Wood announced.

MAN AND MONKEY

A high spot of the day was the address delivered by Dr. Gustave Haas on "Monkey and Man." He contended that little has been learned by the long-drawn-out debate and that it is his conviction that the monkey and all members of the simian family are the result of the deterioration of man throughout cycles of time extending over millions of years, rather than the theory that man came from monkey.

"Civilization travels in cycles. Deductions from all history tend to prove this fact," he said. "The missing link has never been found and I doubt that it ever will be found, for I doubt that there is any true missing link. The present status of civilization is nothing more than another cycle in the history of man on this sphere and there is sufficient evidence in historic fact to justify the belief that man has again and again attained a height of development, only to be set aside by some world catastrophy.

"The monkey has survived because of his thick skull and strong canine teeth and molars, while his predecessors of thinner skull and weaker physical qualifications has passed out."

Dr. Wood presided yesterday. The invocation was given by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick; Dr. M. E. Brooks discussed "Diet in Its Relation to Health;" Dr. H. W. Taylor, "Radium and Its Reaction in Body;" Dr. S. J. Gould of San Francisco talked on "Vitamin Therapy," and last evening Dr. Douglas Wood, secretary of the chiropractic board of New Mexico, discussed "Infra Red or Ultra Violet Treatment," dealing with the treatment of tuberculosis. Other speakers at the evening session were Dr. Harold H. Reuss on "Orthographic Diagrams of the Heart with X-Ray," and Dr. George B. Parrish on "Vaccination."

SUGAR FOR HEALTH and Fashion

Style now frowns upon the unnaturally thin figure

A NOTED fashion specialist announces that "Emaciation is going out!" Leading couturiers are developing styles in an attempt to restore normal beauty to semi-starved bodies. In selecting lovely models for reviews, stage directors are eliminating the very thin.

In other words, skin and bones, half-starved bodies, are no longer smart. The barber-pole figure has run its day and curves have returned.

Food scientists and physicians are delighted with this change in styles. It means that millions of women will now abandon dangerous reducing diets which caused, in many cases, permanent injuries to health. It means fewer cases of tuberculosis and nervous disorders—the rewards of semi-starvation. No longer tortured by a foolish mandate of fashion requiring extreme slimness, women can now pay attention to balanced, nourishing diets.

Adults and children must eat adequate, varied foods in order to have health. First emphasis belongs upon milk, vegetables and fruits. Cereals, eggs, meats and desserts are important in the varied diet.

In promoting the health of your family through proper foods, remember that sugar is the supreme seasoning. It makes the varied diet palatable and enjoyable so that people are encouraged to eat properly. Serve at least one raw and one cooked fruit and vegetable daily. Sprinkle sugar on grapefruit. Prepare tasteful, stewed fruits. Add a dash of sugar to each vegetable while it is cooking in little water. This is an old secret recently rediscovered by four well-known women cooking experts. It does not make the vegetable taste sweet. The dash of sugar improves the natural vegetable flavors, adds freshness, and improves the color.

Get the news quickly to American women that emaciation is no longer fashionable. Guard the health of children and adults with proper foods, sweetened for enjoyment. The Sugar Institute.

EQUITY LETTER SENT FILM MEN

Producers Notified of New 80 Per Cent Demand

Deadlock Termination Still Stays Out of Sight

Gillmore Makes Answer to Ethel Barrymore

With the attempts to arbitrate the demands of the Actors' Equity Association to place "Equity shop" in the Hollywood film industry once again in a deadlock, representatives of the film players last night sent a letter to the Association of Motion-Picture Producers notifying it of Saturday night's action adopting a resolution of its president calling for a minimum of 80 per cent representation in picture casts.

Whether the letter will bring about a renewal of the conferences between Equity officers and those representing the producers remained doubtful yesterday while it was admitted by both sides that the situation remains the same as it did a week ago with little hope in sight of any amicable settlement in the near future.

FAIL TO MEET

The producers and Equity representatives failed to meet yesterday and the only action was the issuance by Frank Gillmore, president of the actors' group, of a statement in answer to one made by Ethel Barrymore, vice-president of Equity, in criticism of Gillmore's move in getting an indorsement of 80 per cent Equity recognition, which, Miss Barrymore said, had been rejected by the producers.

She described the action of Gillmore as "a solution which is not a solution."

The only meeting scheduled in connection with the Equity situation is the regular weekly gathering to take place Saturday night at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium.

In his statement of yesterday Gillmore said Equity and producers' representatives had never entered into an agreement during their negotiations. The only offer, he said, which was made by the producers was rejected. This offer was for recognition of Equity but not of "Equity shop."

GILLMORE'S ANSWER

Gillmore's answer to the statement of Ethel Barrymore, now fulfilling a theatrical engagement in San Francisco, follows:

"It is regrettable that Miss Barrymore's statement gives a definitely erroneous impression. There was no agreement with the producers reached on Thursday or at any time during our negotiations. The producers simply made a counter proposition on that day which was not acceptable to us. At the Saturday night meeting of members of Equity we never presented 'a solution,' we simply asked those present if they were willing to indorse the action of their executive committee in proposing a reduction of our terms from 100 per cent Equity casts to 80 per cent Equity casts. My address on this occasion was read from written notes which are on record.

"It is also regrettable that Miss Barrymore, an Equity officer, should make any statement during the heat of conflict after a conference with persons on the opposing side and without any discussion with the executives representing her own people. I am sorry that our meetings could not be called at Miss Barrymore's personal convenience. Toward the end of her stay in Los Angeles she did ask that one be held in the afternoon but I assured her that very many of our contract players were busy during the daytime at the studios and as it was their particular interests which were affected I felt we ought to primarily regard their convenience in such matters rather than hers. It should be borne in mind, too, that many screen actors go out of town on Sundays and also that a meeting at midnight would disarrange their daily working schedule."

THREE MEN ARRAIGNED ON CHARGES OF BATTERY

Pleading not guilty to charges of battery resulting from the beating of Frank Goddard and Harry Deck, motion-picture actors, last Thursday, three men declared to be members of the Actors' Equity Association were arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Bogue and their bail set at $500 pending trial on the 28th inst.

The men, named in complaints issued by the office of City Prosecutor Nix, include George Wilson, 5416½ Fountain avenue; Eddie C. Welch, 5555 Hollywood Boulevard, and Harvey Parry, 943 North Hudson street.

Goddard was so seriously injured following the beating as to necessitate an operation at the Receiving Hospital, according to police reports. The asserted attack, according to police, occurred near Warner Brothers' studio, Sunset Boulevard and Bronson street. Deck told police that as he emerged from the studio he was beset by several men seeking his membership in the actor's organization and when he refused to join they commenced beating him.

Goddard, an ex-pugilist and a friend of Deck, is declared to have gone to his friend's aid. He was badly beaten in the melee.

A fourth man implicated in the beatings is being sought by Detective Lieutenant Hynes, in charge of the police intelligence bureau, who has been conducting the investigation.

EQUITY INJUNCTION SUIT HEARING PUT OFF

The Actor's Equity Association's $1,000,000 injunction suit against Tully Marshall and Warner Brothers, scheduled to be heard before Superior Judge Westover yesterday, was postponed by agreement until th 26th inst. Equity asserts that Marshall violated his contract with Equity by agreeing to work for Warner Brothers, and that the producers damaged Equity by inducing Marshall to work for a concern which would not comply with the plaintiff's demands and hire only Equity players.

KHJ TO OFFER BAY SYMPHONY

San Francisco Group Will be Heard Over Air

KFWB Will Give Account of Godfrey Fight

Songs of American Hobo to go Out Over KMTR

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

KHJ, the Don Lee station, tonight will contribute another Tuesday evening concert from the Bay district when the San Francisco Symphony plays from 8:15 to 10 o'clock.

A blow-by-blow description of the boxing contest between George Godfrey and Tom Hawkins will be given by remote control over KFWB, starting at 9:30 p.m.

Songs of the American hobo, the well-known individual who holds the endurance and distance records for continuous track walking, will be given by the Enchanters Male Quartet over KMTR at 10 p.m.

HOBO TUNES

Songs which have not yet found their way into printed form and which antedate the current popular "bum" songs by several years are to be given in vocal arrangement from the Seattle studios of a network.

KNX at 7 o'clock will welcome back Dr. Mars Baumgardt, whose talks on astronomy always have been extremely popular. He will be followed, a half-hour late, by a feature program by Walter V. Ferner, 'cellist; Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto, and Maebelle Leslie and Marie Golden as accompanists.

SONGS OF THE SEA

Pryor Moore's orchestra, Frank Geiger, bass, and Eva Olivotti, soprano, will be the attraction on KFI's half-hour at 9:30 o'clock in a continuity program which will be flavored, musically, with the tang of the sea.

"Captain Mac" and "Three for Jack" will be the bass numbers, and "Sailing" will be an orchestral presentation. Besides the songs of the sea there will be fox trots and dreamy waltz melodies with a few vocal tunes thrown in for extra good measure.

The program is one which has been given at 9 p.m. Wednesdays for several months. The new schedule of Tuesdays at 9:30 o'clock was inaugurated a week ago.

REGIS TOOMEY NORMA'S LEAD

Irish Cast Will Support Noted Singer in Fox Film; Red Grange's Football Picture Postponed: Sally O'Neil Has Lead in R.-K.-O. Feature

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Norma Shearer's next starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will be a story called "Their Own Desires," which is being adapted by Frances Marion and James Forbes from the successful novel of Serita Fuller.

NORMA SHEARER

Regis Toomey, whose first notable screen work was in "Alibi," and who was subsequently put under contract to Paramount, has been borrowed from that organization to play the lead opposite Miss Shearer.

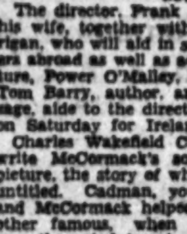
In "Their Own Desires," Miss Shearer steps aside from the highly sophisticated heroines of "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" and "The Lady of Chance," to become a romantic young heroine. The story is a modern one, however.

The production will have E. Mason Hopper and James Forbes associated in its direction.

McCORMACK'S LEAD WILL BE IRISH GIRL

After all, Hollywood feminine talent and beauty will not have a chance to register in the leading role opposite John McCormack, in the noted singer's first Fox Movietone picture. Instead an Irish actress is to be selected when the star, the director, Frank Borzage, and other authorities get together over in Dublin. The star is already over there, ensconced in his home at Moore Abbey, County Kildare.

Likewise a juvenile is to be selected from among the Irish youth of the Dublin stage.



JOHN McCORMACK

Leaving last night for New York, en route for Ireland and Dublin, were Chet Lyons, cameraman; Patrick Costello, sound expert; Margaret Clancy, cutter, and Joe Thompson, head property man. Joseph Shea, publicity expert, is with McCormack now.

The director, Frank Borzage, and his wife, together with J. M. Kerrigan, who will aid in selecting players abroad as well as act in the picture, Power O'Malley, art director; Tom Barry, author, and Lew Borzage, aide to the director, will leave on Saturday for Ireland.

Charles Wakefield Cadman is to write McCormack's songs for the picture, the story of which is as yet untitled. Cadman, you remember, and McCormack helped make each other famous, when McCormack sang the noted American composer's songs.

The company expects to spend a month shooting scenes in and around Dublin, with trips to other points of interest such as it may be found desirable to use as backgrounds for the McCormack picture.

Sally O'Neil With R.-K.-O.

Sally O'Neil was signed yesterday by Radio Pictures' executives to play the feminine lead in "Jazz Heaven," soon to go into production at R.-K.-O. under the direction of Melville Brown.

This will be Miss O'Neil's first Radio picture.

In "Jazz Heaven," Miss O'Neil will both talk and sing. Her musical ability was proven recently during her tour of personal appearance in the picture houses.

The director expects to have cast and story ready for actual production within ten days.

Leatrice Joy Gives Up Screen

Something rather mysterious seems to have occurred between Leatrice Joy and First National. The result is that the star is not, after all, to make the three remaining pictures for which she was scheduled.

LEATRICE JOY

Instead, Miss Joy is going back to the stage. She is to tour again in vaudeville, and is known to have received several remarkably fine offers for the spoken drama.

She is planning also a trip to Europe, and it is possible may appear in the music halls of London.

Marceline Day Ill

Hollywood is a strenuous place for anybody, and especially for a high-strung young actress like Marceline Day.

Marceline is a model young lady who never even so much as smokes a cigarette, but nevertheless, the stress and strain have caused her to have a nervous breakdown, and she is ill at her apartment at the Chateau Elysee, where her mother is in attendance upon her.

It is likely that if her condition does not improve, Marceline and her mother will take a trip out of town, probably up to Alaska, where it is hoped that change of atmosphere will improve her condition.

Red Grange Film Postponed

Due to the fact, says Red Grange's manager, that the football star will have to go into training shortly for the football season, and will therefore not have time to do himself justice before that season sets in, Universal and the athlete have decided to postpone his starring vehicle until after the start of the season, when fields and teams will be available, and time can be calculated for the production of the feature, which is to be a sound picture.

RED GRANGE

Rumor has it, too, that neither Universal nor Grange is satisfied with the story in which he was to appear. So, with all things considered, it has been decided to wait until the time is ripe for the making of the feature.

Merna Kennedy Out

Merna Kennedy, after all, is not to play the lead opposite Glenn Tryon in "Skinner's Dress Suit," which William Craft is directing.

Alice Day's services were sought, but she is busy in another picture, and could not accept. So Universal is looking for another leading lady.

It was explained at Universal that officials decided it is better to break up the team of the star and Miss Kennedy, because they believed that the public does not care to see film teams in more than a couple of consecutive pictures.

PHARMACISTS PASS TESTS

List of Licentiates and Assistants Announced by State Board after Examinations

The California State Board of Pharmacy yesterday announced the names of those who were granted registration as licentiates and assistants, following the last written examinations held in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The next examination, it is announced, will be held in Los Angeles October 9, 10 and 11, and at San Francisco October 23, 24 and 25. Applications must be on file not later than September 27 for the Los Angeles examination, and October 11 for the quiz in the north.

FREIGHT SWITCHING AIDED

Harbor Belt Line Board of Control Signs Two New Agreements and Hears Cheering Report

Two agreements to aid freight switching in the zone of operations of the Harbor Belt Line Railway were signed at a meeting yesterday of the Board of Control, the signatures of the railroad and city members being attached to the documents, which previously had been approved by the board of operations.

General Manager Squires, at the request of Chairman Allen, made a verbal report on the progress of unified belt-line operations, which he stated have reached the point where considerable saving of time in the handling of certain commodities already has been reached.

Squires reported that between 10,000 and 11,000 cars, handling commodities of an average value of $500 each, were handled by the belt line during July and that in some freight handling there was a saving of twenty-four hours under the new system as compared to the old.

He admitted there have been some complaints, but said that in each case these have been investigated and conditions improved so that the service is in better shape than ever before, with freight being moved faster from the harbor to Los Angeles and for long hauls.

Councilman Henning of the harbor district, who recently was selected by the Harbor Board to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of William G. Bonelli, sat in, at his first meeting of the board.

The agreements signed by the members cover use of the Harbor Belt Line of the Gardena-San Pedro line of the Pacific Electric between Anaheim Boulevard and the Wilmington-San Pedro Road, and a section of the Pacific Electric's Long Beach line so that cars may be operated to and from the Consolidated Lumber Company plant. The plant is inside the belt-line zone, but the tracks to be used are two blocks north of Anaheim Boulevard, zone boundary.

"Little Accident" Also Deals in Humanness

But Belasco Attraction Has Spicy Flavor

Audience Shows Enthusiasm for Performance

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

That the male parent has some rights and privileges, even if he has to demonstrate them by kidnaping his own child, was humorously and also rather adequately disclosed in "Little Accident," written by Floyd Dell and Thomas Mitchell, which came to the Belasco Theater last evening.

Here is a play, half farce, half sentiment, which is destined to please by its mirthfulness, if it does not stir up censure because of its naughtiness. Certainly it is not a piece for Puritans, although its spice is of a naive description.

"Little Accident" features the presence of one of its authors, Mr. Mitchell, in the leading masculine impersonation. It brings also a goodly proportion of the cast that was seen in the New York production. For the most part, those who are not of that company do not appear in the more prominent portrayals.

The play had a run for a full season in the East, and deals, as did "The Bachelor Father," with a problem of offspring, in so far as it may be said to present any problem.

There is the situation of the man about to be married who receives a letter inferring an event of some vital importance in a maternity hospital in the neighboring metropolis, Chicago. There arises the necessity for him to make a trip there to find out if all is as the letter hinted. At least, he decides to go and learn the truth about it, rather than be left in any doubtful quandary.

What happens when he arrives at the hospital is better as related by the play than set down in print. One can assure, at all events, that the events that do take place are frequently amusing, oftentimes human, and sometimes touched with genuine emotion.

"Little Accident" is manifestly for the adult-minded. Strangely enough, it is at the same time only mildly sophisticated. It relies for its mirth more on the Avery Hopwood type of innuendo than any downright nastiness. Incidentally, it is a little broad and old-fashioned in its farcical sort of comedy, but seems not to miss fire on that account.

The second act of the play, wherein the two fathers are awaiting news of great consequence, is really the play's most capital bit of entertainment. The impersonation of the Italian parent-of-six by Adrian Rosley is in some ways about half the performance. His imitation of the manner in which his young infant looked at him is perhaps the best bit of facial registration seen on the stage this season. Equally good almost is the sketch of the nervous man in the expectant mood as interpreted by Owen Martin.

What with "Courage," "The Bachelor Father" and "Little Accident" this seems to be a highly if indiscreetly procreative year in the footlight world. "Little Accident" is lighter, and somewhat less sordid basically than the shows that have preceded it here. Possibly, on that account it will enjoy a more favorable reception. In most respects its piquancy is secondary to its human aspects.

The character that Mitchell plays is neither very realistically nor very convincingly drawn, but is evidently fashioned to give leash to his comedy abilities. He is rather mature for the role, and plays it in an obviously forced manner. Even with these drawbacks he succeeds by his personality, and the very mannerisms which take away from actuality, in winning his audience. Few actors, seen recently, have worked more zealously to make a public enjoy itself. Mitchell in the initial act evidently experienced some nervousness in appearing before the always exacting first night attendance that is drawn to the theater here, but was almost constant in his success in diverting them.

In addition to Mr. Mitchell, who with Mr. Martin and Mr. Rosley, sponsors most of the gayety, agreeable impressions are accomplished by Clare Woodbury, William Wadsworth and Kaye Hastings, while Rachel Hartzell, as the mother in the case, is competent. So, too, is Susan Conroy as the young lady our hero would marry, until she discovers too much about him and his indiscretion.

I imagine that "Little Accident" will prove popularly amusing among those who incline to the somewhat daring in plays, but those apart from that will likely be shocked by some of its frankness.

Mandel Arrives for Conference

Frank Mandel of the musical comedy-producing firm of Lawrence Schwab and Frank Mandel of New York will arrive tomorrow for a brief conference with Homer Curran, his western associate of the local producing firm of Belasco and Curran, relative to the production of the big musical comedy success "Follow Through" in Los Angeles later in the season.

Curran, has been for some time active in securing players for the forthcoming musical comedy season and it is to look over players and hear a few voices that Mandel will spend the day with Curran at the Belasco Theater.

ORIGINAL UNDER WAY

"Writing gets into the blood," comments J. Grubb Alexander, Warner Brothers' scenarist, who, having completed the screen play and dialogue for John Barrymore's latest vehicle, "General Crack," is now engaged in writing an original novel which will be published some time next spring, according to the author's announcement.

WRITERS NEEDED

There is a definite demand for writers in the film industry who can create forceful dialogue, according to Edward J. Montague, editor-in-chief of the Paramount scenario department and former story chieftain at Universal, where he supervised preparation of the scripts for the two superproductions of the year, "Show Boat" and "Broadway."

Ingenue Brings Beauty and Poise

Joan Bennett

Portrays one of the chief supporting characters in "Bulldog Drummond," Ronald Colman's starring vehicle, which starts at United Artists Theater tomorrow.

FILM COMIC WILL APPEAR

Greater movie season will be celebrated by Loew's State, starting Thursday, with the acquisition of Stepin Fetchit, colored screen comic, who will appear on the stage at every performance, as well as in the cast of the Fox all-dialogue picture, "Salute," in which he has a comedy role.

The arrangements were just completed by Harold B. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters, who negotiated with Winfield R. Sheehan, Fox studio executive, for the actor's next week as an added movie season attraction.

The colored comedian received his first introduction to local audiences in this theater, where he was discovered in a Fanchon & Marco idea several months ago by Fox Film executives. He was immediately signed for a picture. In "Salute" he appears with George O'Brien, Helen Chandler, of the New York stage, William Janney, Joyce Compton and a large number of gridiron stars from U.S.C. and other universities.

New Composition to Have First Reading Tonight

Eugene Goossens begins the last week of his engagement at Hollywood Bowl tonight with a program made doubly notable by the first public performance anywhere of Charles Koechlin's Hollywood Bowl prize composition, winner of the Katharine Yarnell award of 1929.

The winner, a Parisian and confrere of Massenet, Debussy, Faure and Pierne, is known equally well in his native land as a composer, biographer and musical commentator, an educational leader and a teacher of harmony and counterpoint. The prize-winning work, entitled "Pagan Love," is the fifth and final movement of a suite, the composition of which Koechlin began in 1908.

Practically assuming the guise of a novelty, Mozart's symphony in D, previously heard in Los Angeles only once in the last ten years, will receive belated attention on tonight's program.

Short Subject in High Favor at Paramount

Applause accorded "Cold Shivers," the comedy sharing honors with "Charming Sinners" this week at the Paramount, indicates, according to Jack White, its producer, that this particular comedy is a distinct hit, and that the advent of the talkies has spelled the arrival of the short subject as an attraction of definite drawing power.

White points out that in the past the silent two-reel comedy has been looked upon merely as filler to round out a program around the feature. Audience comment, however, this week at the Paramount, has resulted in word-of-mouth advertising bringing many patrons to the theater on the strength of the laughs provoked by "Cold Shivers," it is claimed.

"Cold Shivers," which is an all-dialogue comedy, is an Educational release, featuring Raymond McKee and Lucille Hutton, directed by Stephen Roberts under the personal supervision of Jack White.

PLAYERS TO ENTERTAIN

Wednesday morning a genuine milkman's matinee will take place for the Lafayette Players, when they appear at the Los Angeles Breakfast Club to be introduced by President Maurice De Mond. The introduction will be followed by entertainment by the members of the company. They will give several numbers from Octavus Roy Cohen's three-act comedy, "Come Seven," now playing at the Orange Grove Theater. "Come Seven" enters its fourth week at the theater.

ALHAMBRA CHANGES BILL

Every step of the motion-picture ladder has been touched, it is said, by Mary Brian who is now costarred with Richard Arlen in "The Man I Love" now in its last few days at the Alhambra Theater. For the first time in her career, Miss Brian is shown in a mother role. After Wednesday night the Alhambra will show Richard Dix's most recent success, "The Wheel of Life," depicting the life of an English army officer who falls in love with the wife of his commanding officer.

VERSATILITY TESTED

Luther Reed, R.-K.-O. associate producer, was forced to put his versatility to a test during the filming of "Rio Rita," which he not only adapted, but also directed and supervised, even, it is said, directing the camera positions.

DETECTIVE STORY IS SCREENED

"Argyle Case," Starring Thomas Meighan, Comes to Warners' Theater

"The Argyle Case," said to be one of the most absorbing and interesting detective plays in the history of the American stage, is now to reach the screen as a Warner Brothers Vitaphone production, and will be the attraction at Warner Brothers' Theater—starting Monday.

Starring in this production is Thomas Meighan, who is to be heard for the first time in a talking picture. Meighan plays the part of a great detective, who is called in to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of a wealthy man. "The Argyle Case" was adapted to the screen from the play by Harriet Ford and Harvey J. O'Higgins, and Meighan's supporting cast includes such well-known players as H. B. Warner, Lila Lee, John Darrow, Bert Roach, Zasu Pitts, and others. Howard Bretherton directed.

"The Hottentot," Warner Brothers Vitaphone production featuring Edward Everett Horton, which has been playing to capacity houses, ends its run on Sunday.

NEW STAGE FARCE LISTED AT EGAN'S

Beth Hazelton

The "Big Gamble," a three-act comedy by Julia Baldwin Hazelton, will have its world premiere at the Egan Theater on the night of the 22nd inst.

J. Frank Glendon, well-known actor of stage and screen, will play the leading role, that of a much-divorced, alimony-ridden sculptor. The supporting cast is headed by Hazel Keener, Beth Hazelton, Treva Lawler and Le Roy Boles. The complete cast will be announced later.

The play is now in rehearsal under the direction of Warren Millais.

PARAMOUNT ANNOUNCES BOOKINGS

"Fu Manchu" Starts Movie Season; "Fast Company" Follows

"The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" is Paramount's first contribution to Greater Movie Season. Gus S. Eyssell, managing director of the Paramount Theater, has announced that this picture will be shown at the Paramount starting Thursday. "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" is an audible screen version of a mystery novel, "The Insidious Dr. Fu Manchu."

Heading the cast of players is Warner Oland, as Fu Manchu. Oland is the creator of many oriental parts on the screen. Jean Arthur, Neil Hamilton, O. P. Heggie and Claude King make up the remainder of the supporting cast.

In dramatizing the Sax Rohmer novel Paramount has succeeded in retaining the suspense of the original story, it is said, and embellishing it with sweeping action. Fu Manchu's sinister schemes are aided by a beautiful white girl, who, under the influence of his hypnotic powers, innocently does his bidding.

For the week following "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," the Paramount will show "Fast Company," a baseball comedy. It is an adaptation of Ring Lardner's story "Elmer the Great." Jack Oakie plays the leading role and is supported by Skeets Gallagher and Evelyn Brent. Then comes "The Greene Murder Case" by S. S. Van Dine. William Powell plays the part of the criminologist, Philo Vance. Jean Arthur is also in the cast. Other attractions to be played in September and October are "The Lady Lies" with Walter Huston and Claudette Colbert. "Sweetie" with Nancy Carroll and "Why Bring That Up?" with the Two Black Crows, Moran and Mack, will follow.

More Education Necessary for Talking Films

Talkies have set a high-school education as the absolute minimum for success in motion pictures, says Cecil B. De Mille, producer-director of "Dynamite," his first all-talking success now playing at the Fox Carthay Circle Theater.

"The days when an illusion of gentility and cleverness was all that was necessary passed forever when the screen took voice," says the eminent producer. "The voice, either by its timber or by its mispronunciation reveals basic character unerringly. Education is no longer just an asset—it is a necessity without which no aspirant should approach the screen. I set a high-school education as a minimum—but a good stiff college course, particularly in literary and dramatic essentials, and voice culture, would be more to the point."

The five principal people of "Dynamite" more than fulfill the educational requirements set by their producer, it is said. Conrad Nagel was graduated from the University of Iowa, Charles Bickford from Boston Institute of Technology and Joel Macrea from Pomona College. Julia Faye is a graduate of the University of Illinois while Kay Johnson is from Drew Seminary, New York.

Noted Pair in Talking Debut at Criterion

Hollywood is waiting to hear Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell talk. Several of the screen teams have made debuts in talking pictures. The latest pair of screen lovers to join the ranks is the Gaynor-Farrell combination. Requests for reservations for the local premiere on the 21st inst. have been so heavy that the Criterion Theater plans to rope off a section of seats for the Hollywood stars and featured players.

"Lucky Star" is the vehicle, with Frank Borzage as director. The film brings together again the same trio which scored in the making of "Seventh Heaven" and "Street Angel."

Long Record on Stage Held by Theodore Lorch

The record of having played sixteen years on the stage without a single day off except when he was en route between cities on trains is held by Theodore Lorch, who is interpreting the role of a sinister-appearing gardener in "The Jade God," thrilling melodrama being produced by Franklin Pangborn at the Vine Street Theater.

During that record-breaking period, Lorch played from coast to coast, chiefly as the leading man in various stock companies. The actor recently culminated his long career with a series of film characterizations, one of his latest successes being the portrayal of the heavy role in the sound reproduction of "Broadway."

CINEMA ART CALLED AMERICAN INDUSTRY

The most American business in the world. "Motion pictures may well lay claim to that title," says John Robertson, director of "The Single Standard," now playing at Loew's State.

"Practically all of the people engaged in the making of motion pictures were born under the Stars and Stripes," he continues. "In other vast businesses the percentage is not so largely American. Edison, the father of the motion picture, is an American. Eastman, the film king, is an American. Right in the United States, motion pictures have reached their full growth. It is here the largest number of screen productions are made and it is here they have attained the greatest perfection."

Robertson at present is directing "Shanghai Lady" for Universal. Practically all of his troupe are Americans.

The SENSATION OF TWO CONTINENTS

"MORE ATTRACTIVE THAN EVER BEFORE" say the half-million enthusiasts in New York and London who have heard Ronald Colman from the screen for the first time.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Formal announcement is made by Mrs. Isabel Derby Coleman, formerly of Chicago but now of Los Angeles, of the engagement of her attractive young daughter, Miss Catherine Cobb Coleman, to Homer Laughlin III, son of Mrs. Edwards-Laughlin and Homer Laughlin, Jr., of this city. No date is set as yet for the wedding, which, however, will be an event of early in September, and after the honeymoon Mr. Laughlin will take his bride to San Francisco, where he is in business, to make their future home.

Announce Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. William White Evans of 316 North Gower street announce the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Barbara Nelle Evans, to Chester Barton Rich of Portland. Miss Evans was graduated from Ramona Convent and later attended the Girls' Collegiate and University of California at Los Angeles, while Mr. Rich completed his college course in Oregon. The wedding will be an event of the early fall.

Lovely Affair

Mrs. Horace Law of 2112 Arapahoe street recently entertained with a charming little luncheon at Mrs. Dewitt's tea shop in South Flower street, her guests being Mrs. Frederic Kreuder and daughter, Mrs. Herbert Pardey, and their guests, Mrs. Gertrude Ball and Mrs. Mary Kreuder-Plummer of Chicago, who came west for the Kreuder golden wedding anniversary, which was celebrated July 1. The Chicago visitors are leaving for their eastern home this week.

Hollywood Bowl Activities

The opportunity program of the Hollywood Bowl concert this afternoon given in Barker's auditorium by Sarah Ellen Barnes, promises to be of unusual interest, as Otto Ploetz, tenor, is to be especial guest of honor, while two woodwind artists of the orchestra will assist Miss Barnes on the program. The tea at the Mary Louise which is to follow will have many music enthusiasts as hostesses and several large parties have been arranged by hostesses who have bidden coteries of friends to be their especial guests.

Gone East

Lieut. Lisle Henefin, U.S.N., and Mrs. Henefin (Helen Starr) sailed from San Francisco Saturday for Nicaragua, Panama and the Atlantic Coast aboard the U.S.S. Henderson. They plan to be gone for several months.

Formal Announcement

Formal announcement is made this morning by William Klingstein of the engagement of his daughter, Miss Alberta Klingstein, to Albert A. Menin. Both Miss Klingstein and her fiance were graduated from University of Southern California, the former being a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi Sorority, and Mr. Menin is affiliated with Phi Beta Delta Fraternity. No date is set as yet for the wedding.

Prenuptial Shower

The Brentwood Country Club was the setting for a charmingly arranged shower recently with which Miss Gertrude Gardner entertained in honor of Miss Eileen Ambrose, fiancee of Jack Alfred Grout, whose wedding is scheduled for the 28th inst. Those included in the afternoon's entertainment included Mmes. C. S. Ambrose, Charles Brown, M. M. Eckerman, Helen Fisher, E. G. Gardner and the Misses Lois Conaway, Dorothy Buster, Gayle Daley, Evelyn Ryder, Portia Phillips, Alyne Ley, Marian Nupnau, Margaret Nye and Louise McCombs.

Bridge at Club

Entertaining last week at a bridge luncheon in the Westport Beach Club, Mrs. Lloyd Strickland of Brentwood Park was hostess to Mmes. Frank Elkins, William H. Allaire, R. D. Stration, Basil Fraser, Stanley Richie, E. H. Waddell, J. D. McGowan, C. E. Fortin, J. Kennard, Frank Hudson and Delphine Delmas Barnes.

Luncheon at Beach

As a farewell courtesy to the Misses Edna and Ann Carlson, who are sailing the latter part of the month for Europe, Mrs. Mary Stivers of Hollywood was hostess at a delightful luncheon Saturday of last week at the Deauville Beach Club, Santa Monica. Guests included the Misses Daisy Barrett, Louise Dunbar, Mabel Houck, Nellie Houck, Jeanette La Spada, Mary Oberhacke, Gladys Perdue, Clara Werner and the honorees.

The Misses Carlson will tour England, France, Germany and Sweden.

South Pasadena Wedding

Ah event of a week ago Sunday, in South Pasadena, was the marriage of Mrs. Joyce Parker in her home at 1133 Fremont avenue, to Rev. H. Bennett Seymour of Culver City, with only relatives in attendance.

The bride, attractively gowned in tan georgette, was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Bell of Los Angeles, and by her daughter, Miss Estelle Parker. Rev. E. M. Crandall of Glendale, an intimate friend of the bridegroom, read the ceremony.

Rev. and Mrs. Seymour will pass some time at Camp Baldy and visiting other points of interest in Southern California, after which they will reside at 1133 Fremont avenue. Both are natives of Nebraska.

Unique Tea

Among the delightful affairs of last week was the bridge-tea with which Miss Fairfax Stephenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Stephenson of Albany street, honored Miss Janet Scott. The incentive of the affair was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Scott, daughter of Mrs. C. C. Wolfe of Beverly Hills, to Ralph Arthur Miller.

The affair carried out the Gluyas Williams idea, his cartoons being used as tallies, while the motif of black and white was furthered by the decorations, white flowers in black vases.

In attendance were the Misses Esther Funk, Betty Kirby, Virginia Hammond, Elizabeth Connor, Ruth Osika, De Neese Osika, Betty Middleton, Katherine Donalson, Beth Chatten and Kate McDonald.

McCollum-Church

The Little Church of the Flowers in Glendale was the setting the 2nd inst. for a pretty wedding, when Miss Mildred McCollum, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otho McCollum of 238 West Fifty-third street, became the bride of Floyd Church, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Church of 2425 Casitas avenue. Rev. Bertrand M. Hause of St. James's Episcopal Church officiated before 125 guests.

Gowned in ivory satin, made long waisted and with a full skirt, the bride wore a long tulle veil caught into a coronet of pearls, and carried a shower of lilies of the valley, white roses and gardenias. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Viola Meyer, was in shaded pink chiffon and transparent velvet, made with tight bodice and fluffy skirt, and carried an armful of pink blossoms. The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Cram and Miss Kathleen Downey, were in pastel yellow and green tulle and satin, and carried harmonizing flowers. Paul S. Knotts served Mr. Church as best man.

A reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. E. O'Brien of 533 North Alfred street, followed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Church left for Yosemite and the Northwest. They will make their home in Los Angeles.

Marriage Announced

Mrs. Gertrude Post Nellis of Evanston, Ill., announces the marriage of her daughter Miss Nadine Nellis to Howard C. Richardson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Richardson of Pasadena, the ceremony taking place at the Lawsonia Country Club, Green Lake, Wis., Sunday at noon. After traveling through the East Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will make their home in San Francisco. The bride was graduated from Miss Ransom's school in Piedmont and for the past few years has been traveling in Europe. Mr. Richardson, a Stanford University man, is affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Engagement Told

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Walkow of Ocean View avenue of the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Ethel Rose Walkow, to Jacob Melville Miller of Denver, Colo. Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller.

The wedding will be an event of early autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, with their sons, J. M. Miller and Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller, and daughter, Miss Betty Jean Miller, accompanied by Dr. Bluestone of New York City, motored to Los Angeles last week from Denver to pass a few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walkow.

Now Is the Time

Many things about the home for winter use should be attended to in the summer. First, so the job is finished by wintertime, and second, the job is apt to be a much less expensive one if done out of season. If your house is not properly weather-stripped you are losing money by coal going to waste. The stripping certainly does keep out wintry blasts and makes the house easier and cheaper to heat. And now is the time to look into this.

Miss Lucille Cusanovich

ONE of the most attractive subdebs who is enjoying a delightful vacation is Miss Lucille Cusanovich, daughter of Mrs. Lucian Cusanovich of 124 South Detroit street. Miss Cusanovich, who is a senior next year at University of California at Los Angeles, is one of the most popular members of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority and active in all the affairs of the campus. With Miss Katherine Kaisie of Los Angeles she sailed July 6 for a visit to Honolulu and they are returning aboard the Calawaii the 17th inst., to be in time for the fall semester at the university. Both subdebs visited while in Honolulu with Miss Marian Birkendel, a college chum and sorority sister, who makes her home in Honolulu. They took a furnished house on the beach at Waikiki.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

THE SEARCH FOR HAPPINESS

Everyone desires happiness, and yet how few actually feel happy for more than a few moments at a time. With most people, the happy moments are interspaced with a pendulum-like swing into the deepest gloom or misery. Why is it that in our incessant search for happiness we so rarely attain it in a permanent form? Is it not because we pursue things which lead to a temporary enjoyment rather than the basic causes of lasting satisfaction? Let us consider some of the things which bring happiness.

The first great desire is a feeling of self-security (the law of self-preservation.) We desire the comforts of the body—health, plenty of tasty, nourishing food, comfortable living quarters, all of life's necessities and some of its luxuries, as well as a protection against enemies and dangers.

The second great desire is for the preservation of the race. This comes in a variety of forms, often finely disguised and camouflaged by nature. It usually manifests itself in a desire to love, or be loved and admired, in the love of children, in protecting others, in protecting our country or race, and any variety of other forms. No one can be really happy who has not found a desirable mate with whom to travel along life's highways, one to encourage and to share the sorrows and joys. There is no other desire or activity which can be successfully substituted for this mating instinct. It is a spur to accomplishment. Men and women achieve their greatest works by consciously or unconsciously desiring to show off to someone of the opposite sex.

The desire to grow and improve is the third great desire. No one is satisfied who feels that he is standing still or falling backward. We must be continually forging ahead.

One who desires to be most successful in this search for happiness must make a never-ceasing study of the laws of nature. Learn to form the right kind of habits and you will be well repaid. Cultivate health, and a sound financial policy, and try to add to the happiness of others. Try to improve in every direction, and do not make the mistake of overimproving yourself in one way at the expense of the others. Some make the error of ceaselessly trying to accumulate an enormous fortune at the expense of their health. Others, in their search for self-gratification, may neglect their financial condition, while others in their search for accomplishment may trample on love and the feelings of others. Any one-sided person is doomed to be unhappy because he has not fulfilled the fundamental design of nature.

If you wish to achieve happiness, examine yourself carefully and see if you have paid sufficient attention to these triune supports of your natural instincts.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Anemia and High Blood Pressure

Question: A. G. writes: "Please tell me if it is possible for a patient to have pernicious anemia and high blood pressure? What would be the cure?

Answer: Pernicious anemia and high blood pressure seldom go together, but it is quite common to see secondary anemia with artificial hypertension. Diet is the most prominent factor in the treatment of any of these conditions, but I would have to know more about the particular case in question before it would be wise to give any definite advice.

Baby's Teeth

Q.: W. H. F. writes: "My baby, 2 years of age, has fifteen teenth, but there are two milk teeth that will not come through. Why is that, and should the gums be lanced?"

A.: Do not be too quick to lance the gums. The full set of milk teeth do not all come through until the child is about 3 years of age. If you will give the baby plenty of greens and milk he will be sure to develop a good set of teeth

Prolapsus

Q.: Reader asks: "Can a dropped stomach be cured, and how?"

A.: A prolapsed stomach can always be raised to its proper position through taking the "setting-up" exercises. If any adhesions exist which are holding the stomach down, these must be broken loose first by manipulative treatment.

Diet in Asthma

Q.: Mrs. A. D. writes: "Can asthma be cured by diet? If so, will you kindly tell me what the diet is?"

A.: Please send for a special article on the subject of asthma, as the answer to your question is too long to be published in this column.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

CANTALOUPE SALAD A LA MEXICAN

Cut a medium-sized cantaloupe in half, remove the seeds, and scoop out small balls, add to the balls a seasoning of salt, paprika and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of cinnamon, and one-fourth of a cupful of fine bread crumbs, dissolve one tablespoonful of gelatine in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water, heat the gelatine over hot water until dissolved and pour over the melon balls, then fold in one cupful of stiffly whipped cream, pour the mixture into individual molds, allow to harden, turn out on a lettuce-covered plate and garnish with a mayonnaise that has been colored a delicate pink.

BUTTER SPONGE CAKE

Beat half a cupful of butter to a cream and beat into it slowly one cupful of sifted sugar, and beat for two minutes, add one teaspoonful of water, and beat well, sift one and one-third cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, add the flour to the butter and sugar mixture alternately with the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, flavor with half a teaspoonful of vanilla and half a teaspoonful of lemon extract, beat until smooth, oil and flour muffin tins, and drop the batter in, making them about half-filled, place in a moderate oven and bake.

TRIPE A LA BORDELAISE

Take half a pound of tripe and cut in small squares, place them in a bowl and cover them with one tablespoonful of oil, half a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper, half of a bay leaf, three whole peppercorns, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of thyme, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, and half of a clove of garlic, allow to stand for two hours, remove from the marinade, drain well, roll in flour, then in well-beaten egg, and then in bread crumbs, place four tablespoonfuls of butter in a saute pan, add the tripe, and allow to cook for five minutes on each side, remove to a platter, and cover with melted butter.

FRIED TOMATOES

Several hours before using, peel firm tomatoes and cut in rather thick slices, season both sides of the tomatoes with salt and pepper and a little powdered sugar, allow the slices to drain, then dip them in coarsely rolled cracker crumbs, place a layer of the cracker crumbs on a baking platter, lay the slices of tomatoes on top of the crumbs, sprinkle with cracker crumbs and place in the ice box for one hour, when ready to use, place in a saute pan, three tablespoonfuls of butter, allow to heat, place the slices of tomato in the pan and brown quickly on both sides. It may be necessary to add more butter as the tomatoes absorb it.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

MILK SELLER GIVES ADVICE ON CARE OF MILK UTENSILS

Mrs. M.M.M. writes: "I have no babies but I recently read an article in your department on care of milk utensils. We have sold milk for fifteen years and I have much literature on the subject from the government, and experiment station reports on the care of milk and milk utensils, and they all say, 'Use no soap in washing milk pails or pans especially in hot weather.'

"Use sal soda in washing. Rinse and scald and put in the sun. Use cloth strainers, wash strainer and cloth in cold water first, then in sal soda water, rinse in hot water, then scald. After they have been in the sun an hour or so they may be taken in and rinsed again to get out dust or insects. I can keep milk sweet for days at a time in the hottest weather and I have no ice to keep it on. I think every thing we use in cooking should have occasional sun baths. At least once a week I put out stew pans and coffee pots for about an hour in the sun.

"I never keep an empty kettle covered. I know a woman who covers her fruit jars (empty ones) when she stores them, and her fruit and vegetables do not keep well. I leave my fruit jars open all the time and wash and sterilize before using and I never lose a jar. I sun them always after using the contents."

Answer: This is very interesting. Never having had anything to do with milk pans or pails in my life, I jumped to the very obvious, but not very bright conclusion that milk pans and pails and baby's bottles and utensils would have the same care. These last are rinsed in cold water, washed in hot suds, rinsed and put on to boil in a pan of cold water. I suppose that this same procedure would be adequate for the milk utensils, but size would have much to do with that and the sun is a powerful germicide. Just air and sun are quite enough to kill almost any kind of germ. I am glad you wrote me, as your advice is just what that particular reader wanted.

More About Play Pens

Mrs. M.K. writes: "My baby is 11 1-2 months of age, and her greatest joy is to play outdoors in a play pen my husband built. It is almost six feet square and has a floor. The sides are three boards about five inches wide, laid horizontally, and a five-inch space between each one. The corner posts are two of these boards set vertically. It is painted in a flat, green paint that doesn't reflect the light. The pen is a life saver for me, as I get my work done while she is satisfied.

"The baby has taken her milk from a cup since the ninth month. I use a small one, two or three-ounce size, like an orange-juice glass. She loves to play with the paper boxes eggs come in, and walnut shell in a baking powder can, also measuring spoons and pie tin."

To restore the transparency of windows that have not been cleaned for a great while, rub with diluted muriatic acid, one part acid to ten parts water, and polish with a cloth moistened with whiting.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

For the Notebook

Serve your meals on the screened porch during the hot weather.

Water boils at 212 deg. Fahrenheit. It freezes at 32 deg.

Vaseline will stop the squeaks of doors, chairs, beds and hinges.

Watch the remnant counter for material for the small child's every-day dresses.

Never scrape a saucepan with a knife; it is very apt to make the pan burn things quickly, not to mention scratching the pan.

Clothes will last longer and remain a far better color if they are always laundered before becoming very badly soiled. This is particularly true of colored materials.

Electric Refrigeration

If you have an electric refrigerator, the next time you plan a party serving lemonade or any cooling drink, insert in each compartment of the ice cube holder a maraschino cherry and a few drops of the juice and then freeze the cubes. It will make a most attractive addition to your cooling drinks.

Avoid all danger of offense in summer! . . . this new, deodorizing pad makes it easy to be safe

SUMMER makes certain days particularly trying to dainty women. It is then you learn to really appreciate Kotex!

You learn to depend on Kotex for complete deodorization . . . to depend on it to save you from all danger of offense to others.

Special features of Kotex

Kotex is carefully designed to avoid all conspicuous bulk. It is rounded and tapered, so that no revealing outline shows, even under summer's filmiest frocks.

Kotex completely does away with old-time fuss and laundering. It disposes instantly, without embarrassment.

Always light and cool

Kotex, too, is so wonderfully comfortable, so light and cool and dainty! Its absorbent filler, Cellucotton absorbent wadding, is selected by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals, because of its amazing power of absorption.

Kotex actually absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture! So it protects completely without bulk or weight.

Stars and Seals to Tangle in Northern Series

BY BOB RAY

The Red menace, from the Mission and not Moscow, invades Wrigley Field today to engage Jack Lelivelt's avenging Angels in another one of those cut-throat series that have been all the rage in Coast League ranks these past two weeks.

RED KILLEFER

Led by "Radiant Red" Killefer, himself, the mighty Missions are coming here tied for the league leadership with the Seals and determined to remain on top. But Lelivelt's slugging Seraphs have other plans and if the athletes don't keep the Wrigley Field turnstiles busy this week, it'll be because all the Los Angeles fans are away on vacation.

Killefer reported from his home at Hermosa Beach last night that his squad, with the exception of Dutch Ruether, is in great shape and ready to charge right through for a clean sweep of both halves of the race.

Ruether was left at home suffering with appendicitis and probably will not be of much use to the

MERCURY CLUB MONOPOLIZES TITLES

L.A.A.C. Stars Hold Seven Out of Eight Diving Cups

Georgia Coleman of L.A.A.C.

SEVEN of the eight diving championships of the United States are now the property of two Los Angeles Athletic Club stars, following the double victory turned in by Georgia Coleman at Honolulu during the outdoor women's championships.

Miss Coleman won both the ten-foot springboard and high-platform events at Honolulu from a field of national stars to bring her titles up to three in national competition as she was already the possessor of the ten-foot indoor championship.

Mickey Riley, another L.A.A.C. diver, holds four men's championships at the Fleischacker pool, the tory to win all indoor and outdoor titles during one year.

Misses Coleman and Olive Hatch, free-style experts, will return from Honolulu next week, arriving at San Francisco, the 20th inst. They may remain in the north to witness the men's outdoor championships at the Fleischacker pool, the 22nd-26th inst. Riley will defend two of his four titles in this meet.

Cantwell Scores on Error in Extra Inning

BOSTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—Guy Bush, leading pitcher of the National League, lost his second game of the season today, bowing to the Boston Braves as a relief hurler, 4 to 3, in ten innings. Bush has won sixteen games for the league leaders.

GUY BUSH

Ben Cantwell held the Cubs to six hits while the Braves gathered thirteen from Malone, Nehf and finally Bush, but left fourteen men stranded on the bases. Cantwell's single in the tenth paved the way for the winning run. Richbourg beat out a bunt and the pitcher scored from first when Blair threw late and wildly to first. The Braves filled the bases in the eighth and ninth but could not jam across a run. Bush relieved Nehf with the bags loaded in the eighth.

The Cubs scored their three runs in the sixth on a base on balls, infield out, Wilson's single, and Stephenson's home run.

RYE (N. Y.) Aug. 12. (AP)—With most of the early-round matches of men's play out of the way, attention in the eastern grass-court tennis championships at the Westchester Country Club today centered on the women's division.

Only three matches involving men were played, Berkeley Bell of Texas, national intercollegiate champion, eliminated Eugene McAuliff, former Fordham College captain, in a second-round contest, 6-2, 6-2. Frank Hunter, New Rochelle veteran, making his first appearance, defeated H. H. Hyde of Hartford, Ct., 6-3, 4-6, 6-0. John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., eliminated Travers Le Gros of Brooklyn, 6-0, 6-2.

In the women's division four contestants advanced to the third round—Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Santa Monica, Cal., seeded No. 1 player; Clara Greenspan of New York, Ruth Bailey of St. Louis and Dorothy Andrus, Stamford, Ct.

Given a first round bye, Mrs. Bundy eliminated Mrs. M. Shedden of Chestnut Hills, Mass., 6-1, 6-3. Miss Greenspan defeated Carolyn Roberts, New Rochelle, 6-1, 6-3, and Mrs. Elsie Pritchard, New

Fading Year's Tennis Season Proves to Be Most Interesting Played In Recent

NEW COURT STARS ARISE TO DETHRONE VETERANS

Men's, Women's Championships to Furnish Lines on Propective Satellites of Future

BY WALTER TRUMBULL

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (Exclusive)—This is the most interesting tennis season of many years. There was a time when the fans merely waited to see whether Johnston or Richards would play Tilden in the finals, or whether any woman would take a game from Suzanne Lenglen. If one did, the temperamental Suzanne usually could be counted upon for hysterics.

JOHN VAN RYN.

Then the Frenchmen and Helen Wills surged to the fore. There was a question regarding whether Tilden could trim either La Coste or Cochet, and whether any woman could force Miss Wills to a deuce set. Cochet still rules the courts, but the girls are getting closer to Miss Wills. Betty Nuthall got almost too close.

The woman's national championship, starting the 19th inst., and the men's national championship later on, will probably pack the stands at Forest Hills. The idea of the invincibility of California Helen has received a shock. Her opponents will face her with a bit more confidence.

TWO TOURNIES

The men's tournament will be interesting from the standpoint of youth. Somewhere another Tilden, Johnston, Richards or Williams is on the way up. The fans are eager to know who he may be and how far away he is. This tournament may give a line on the answer.

Champions in the United States usually have come from one coast or the other. McLoughlin, Murray and Johnston were from the Pacific. Williams, Richards and Tilden were from the Atlantic. As members of the Davis Cup team we have Lott from Illinois, Allison from Texas, Hennessey from Indiana and only Van Ryn of New Jersey as a youngster from an ocean-bordered State.

New Jersey and Texas seem to furnish good doubles players. Van Ryn and Allison stand as the best doubles team in the game today, and Mangin of New Jersey and Bell of Texas first beat Williams and Washburn at Seabright, and then trimmed Tilden and Hunter at Southampton. The national doubles tournament this season should be a corker.

In singles, the United States has a string of youngsters coming along. Lott and Van Ryn gained considerable experience in Europe. Allison and Hennessey are always dangerous. A bit further away are such youngsters as Shields, Wood and Junior Coen. Nor are they all of the promising material in sight. Allison says that Texas has young players of such ability that they need only experience to compete with the best. Talent is being developed from Canada to Mexico and New York to San Francisco.

An especial effort will be made to give youth all possible attention in the national singles championship. It will be a young man's tournament. Tilden may win it again, but the attention of the crowd will be centered on the coming rather than the passing generation. If any boy shows even distant promise of having the real stuff, he will get plenty of consideration. It will be a great chance for some newcomer to steal the spotlight.

AFTER TROPHY

The United States is anxious to regain the Davis Cup. While Cochet and Borotra or La Coste were able to win the doubles there was little chance, because they could be counted on for at least two of the singles matches.

Now the United States has far better prospects. With a splendid chance for the doubles, and La Coste a doubtful quantity because of his health, it is only necessary to take the two singles matches in which Cochet does not play. Borotra is getting older. It is not impossible that within a year or two players might be developed who could take the necessary matches. Tilden has announced his retirement, but Big Bill probably has plenty left for one last stand in singles. He is still a favorite against anybody except Cochet or La Coste at his best.

FAVORITES WIN IN COURT PLAY

York, 6-3, 6-4. Miss Bailey, after putting out Emily Siemer, Stapleton, N. Y., 6-0, 6-1, eliminated Mrs. Rose Taubele, New York, in the second round, 6-1, 6-0. Miss Andrus eliminated two opponents with the loss of only three games, beating Mrs. David C. Mills, New York, 6-2, 6-0, and Mrs. F. W. Clarke, Wayburn, Ct., 6-0, 6-1.

Dorothy Bundy, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, made her first appearance in an eastern senior tournament and defeated Mrs. Marquis James of Rye, N. Y., 6-4, 6-2. Her second round opponent will be Mary Greef, Kansas City star. Miss Greef eliminated Dorothy Blodgett of Boston, 6-1, 6-2 in the first round.

Favorites advanced almost without exception in the first round although there was some surprise over the elimination of Alice Francis of Orange, N. J., by Mrs. H. V. Hester, 7-5, 6-4. Other stars advanced without difficulty, among them being Mrs. L. A. Harper, San Francisco; Ethel Burkhardt, San Francisco; Helen Marlowe and Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles; Evelyn Parsons, Palo Alto, and Olive Wade of Toronto.

THOMPSON AND MEAD WIN

George Thompson and Walter Mead of the Times Golf Association, copped club honors yesterday in the Scotch foursome at Montebello Park public golf course with an 88.

Crabbe Faces Tough Time in Swim Classic

BERKELEY, Aug. 12. (Exclusive) Although Clarence (Buster) Crabbe, the aquatic iron man from Honolulu, is intending to enter everything that the judges will permit in the coming national outdoor swimming championships at the gigantic Pleischhacker pool, from the 22nd to the 25th inst. inclusive, there is at least one person who will probably give him a run for his strokes.

AUSTIN CLAPP.

Little Austin Clapp, the tiny, but powerful, mite from the Hollywood Athletic Club and Stanford University, will probably force Crabbe to breathe hard before he is through with his championship workouts. Crabbe intends to enter the 100-yard, 220-yard, 440-yard, half-mile, mile, back stroke and medley swims. Of these events he is the top-notch favorite to capture the mile and half-mile in which he holds the national titles already, but when he undertakes to do so much swimming he will probably find himself bucking too many all-star rivals.

If he were to enter each event will full strength he might be a match for such sterling men as Clapp, Walter Spence, George Kojac, etc. Even under the great handicap of such an ambitious schedule the experts are for the most part picking Crabbe to clean up on the field. Both Southern California and bay region fans, on account of Clapp's fine performances in both districts, are expecting him to give the Hawaiian Island representative a great run for his "iron-man" honors.

Crabbe also is to be a college man. He will enter Yale in the immediate future to unquestionably win early ranking as one of the country's outstanding collegiate natators, as Clapp already has done at Stanford University.

Southland Net Stars Triumph

CULVER (Ind.) Aug. 12. (AP)—Three upsets, one of them of decidedly major nature, brought about the elimination of three seeded stars in the first day's play in the national junior and boys' tennis championships on the Culver Military Academy courts today.

Wilmer Hines of Charleston, S. C., southern junior champion, and seeded No. 3 in his division, found Earl Bossong of Cincinnati, too tough and succumbed, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2.

Another title-holder, Art Noble of Newton Center, Mass., New England and Canadian junior champion, and seeded No. 7, also went out in an upset which was as decisive as it was unexpected. He bowed to Fred Roll of Philadelphia in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

Mark Hecht of New York, provided the surprise in the boys' division, trimming Jock McLean of Washington, seeded No. 7, 6-3, 6-2.

The California leaders, Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara, and Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, seeded Nos. 1 and 2, respectively, in the junior division, breezed through their opening matches and are expected to meet in the finals Saturday.

Richard Hebard of White Plains, N. Y., defending boys' champion, was given a hard battle by Sammie Lee of Berkeley, Cal., but won, 6-4, 6-3.

Junior singles results include:

Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Cal., defeated Phil Beddy, Chicago, 6-0, 6-0 (first round.) Hugh McArthur, Los Angeles, defeated L. Wertz, Culver, Ind., 6-3, 6-3 (second round.) John McDiarmid, Fort Worth, Texas, defeated G. McCabe, Culver, Ind., default (second round.) Arthur Noble, Newton Center, Mass., defeated Merle Moore, Tucson, Ariz., 6-2, 7-5 (second round.)

BOY'S SINGLES, RESULTS INCLUDED

Jay Cohn, Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Mike Pepe, Gary, Ind., 6-2, 6-1 (first round.)

R. K. Hebard, White Plains, N. Y., defeated Samuel Lee, Berkeley, Cal., 6-4, 6-3 (second round.)

C. R. Hunt, San Francisco, defeated Curtis Miles, New Haven, Conn., 6-1, 6-0 (second round.)

First round: Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, Cal., defeated Francis McGowan, Culver, Ind., 6-0, 6-0.

RABBIT PUNCHES
By PAUL LOWRY

HAD IT COMING

MAX SCHMELING, the German heavyweight, is a sad case of the sympathy that is wasted on the ordinary fighter. After being given every consideration by the New York Commission in his row with his German manager the Black Uhlan is now on the black list for double dealing.

He dealt with a double set of managers. They in turn dealt doubly with the Madison Square Garden Corporation and the New York Boxing Commission. And they redoubled in talking turkey with Jack Dempsey in behalf of the Agua Caliente Corporation.

But the New York Commission had the last say.

And no one can weep tears over the result—indefinite suspension for Schmeling and a statement by Bill Carey of Madison Square that the fight corporation can get along very well without fighters of Schmeling's type.

THE WELTER KING

JACKIE FIELDS came home yesterday with the welterweight title tightly gripped to his manly bosom. A few years ago Jackie had a tough time tucking a T-bone steak under his ribs. T-bones cost money, and Jackie didn't have any dough. Today he is riding the crest of beefsteak plenitude, and listening wearily to the tedium of the "we all knew you'd do it, Jackie."

Five years ago about this time Jackie was in Paris winning the Olympic Games featherweight title. He beat Joe Salas, a clubmate of the L.A.A.C., to do it. Salas had won the national A.A.U. crown at Boston. Fields was taken to Paris as second man, but emerged as the champion.

Curiously, Jackie used Salas as his stepping-stone to professional fame. He beat Salas at Hollywood in his first ten-round fight four years ago.

Jackie has forged steadily ahead from that period—in stature and in skill. He weighs 147 pounds today. He was a frail kid of 105 when he started boxing at the L.A.A.C. seven years ago.

HEAVYWEIGHTS OR BEHEMOTHS?

PUGILISTS, big and small, are in the limelight these days, and the big ones hold sway at the Olympic tonight.

They don't make 'em any more massive than George Godfrey and Long Tom Hawkins, and if either of these big black giants falls down tonight the ring is bound to rock like a shaky ship.

And if size is what draws 'em at Lou Daro's 'rassling matches the Carnation Kid of Glendale could do worse in his threat to make a grappler out of Godfrey.

The Leiperville black boy packs about 250 pounds, and in his jestful gymnasium moments offers his stomach for target purposes.

So far nobody has been able to put a dent in it, and it looks as if Joe Stecher will have to be given the assignment for a leg scissors test.

GEORGIA COLEMAN

GEORGIA COLEMAN'S feat of winning all the diving titles at Honolulu makes a real prophet out of Fred Cady.

Before anybody else ever heard of Georgia the L.A.A.C. coach made a prediction that within two or three years the kinky-haired lass would develop into one of the greatest female divers of all time.

Cady told the conductor this over the phone one day, and the conversation comes to mind now that Georgia has copped the glory in all classes of the national A.A.U. outdoor championships for 1929.

SPEEDY DADO MAY BE NEXT FLYWEIGHT KING

The next California fighter to be crowned a world's champion is likely to be Speedy Dado, the Filipino who fights Tommy Hughes in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night. This prediction is made by boxing fans who have seen Dado in action during the last six months.

In the last three years Californians have relinquished two world's titles. Jack Dempsey dropped the heavyweight, and Fidel La Barba, the flyweight titles. Jackie Fields brought one home, but there is Mushy Callahan about to be dethroned as junior welterweight king. Speedy Dado appears to be the greatest of the flyweights and Ace Hudkins only asks a chance to win the middleweight championship.

Tommy Hughes, Cleveland flyweight, is about the best boy Dado has signed to meet in a year. Hughes is a tough little Irishman whose best dish is Filipinos. He has whipped every one he has fought, stopping five of them. Dado can easily make 112 pounds, but he agrees to 115 pounds for this fight, which helps Hughes and not the Filipino.

Before the main event goes on, Jackie Fields will be introduced. The welterweight champion fought his first ten-round main event at the Legion Stadium with Joe Salas as his opponent.

Jackie Caston and Clayton Gouyd are going to make a big bid for the bonus given the best preliminary. They stole the show a few weeks ago and promise to repeat.

Gorilla Jones Stops Meyers

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. (AP)—Gorilla Jones, 150 pounds of brown dynamite, from Akron, O., stopped Pete Meyers, 150 1-2, in the fifth round of their ten-round bout at the State Armory tonight, after giving the San Francisco boy a terrific trouncing in three preceding sessions.

Meyers won the first round by harder punching and aggressiveness. It was his only bid. The negro, as accomplished a ringman as has visited here in many months, opened up in the second to give Meyers a lacing in that round. He increased the pace in the third to drive the San Franciscan around the ring and have him groggy at the bell. The fourth round was the same.

Jones opened the fifth by cuffing Meyers into a corner with a fusillade of rights and lefts to the jaw against which the latter had no defense. Meyers was out on his feet and ready to drop when Referee Jim Griffin stopped the bout. A large crowd saw Meyers go down to defeat.

Frankie Denny, Oakland middleweight, won a six-round decision from Lynn Jordan, Akron (O.) negro, in the semi-wind-up.

CHISOX BUY MINOR PLAYERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (AP)—The White Sox today announced the purchases of two Minor League pitchers and an outfielder, who, will report for duty next spring. They are Victor Frasier, star righthander of the Dallas club of the Texas League; Pat Caraway, Topeka southpaw, and Jimmy Moore, Dallas outfielder and leading batsman of the Texas League.

BABE HUNT NABS BOUT

TULSA (Okla.) Aug. 12. (AP)—Babe Hunt, southwestern heavyweight champion, easily defeated Murray Gitlitz, New York Hebrew, in a ten-round bout here tonight. During the late rounds Gitlitz was forced to hang on continuously to save himself from a knockout.

WOLVERINE NINE WINS

SALEM (Or.) Aug. 12. (AP)—The University of Michigan ball team today defeated the Salem Senators, 9 to 2, in a pitchers' battle which lasted until the traveling collegians broke it up in the sixth.

Hermosa Swim Given Sanction

Official A.A.U. sanction for the second annual long-distance swim for women at Hermosa Beach, scheduled for the night of the 21st inst., was granted yesterday by Leslie A. Henry, swimming commissioner of the S.P.A.A.A.U. The event, staged last year, proved to be immensely popular, and the staging of the swim at night this year promises to make it more interesting than before.

Three swimmers signed up yesterday to compete. They were Marjorie Lowe, Hilda Curtis and Dodie Blewett, all well-known performers in local aquatic circles. The race starts on the Olympic barge, anchored two miles offshore, and ends on the surf land just north of the Hermosa pier. "Sun-arc" lamps will be installed to give the swimmers and spectators plenty of light.

Capt. Salter of the Olympic barge yesterday secured four cutters from the United States Coast guard to convoy the swimmers, and each entrant will be trailed by a boat to pull in those who weaken.

A pajama parade, featuring the latest in beach attire is scheduled to follow the race.

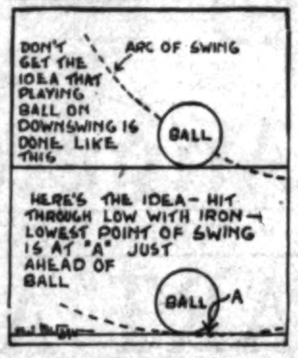
TROJAN GRIDDERS TO APPEAR ON SCREEN

Coach Howard Jones' Trojan gridders, active and alumni, shine on the screen at Loew's State Theater this coming Thursday, with the opening of "Salute," all dialogue football comedy. Besides Dean Cromwell, who plays the part of the referee, those from Southern California taking prominent parts are Jess Hibbs, Don Moses, Bob Hall, Al Schaub, Tony Jaurich, Frank Anthony, Jeff Cravath Barrager, Russel Saunders, Nathan Barrager, Francis Tappaan, Gene Clark, Clark Galloway, Tony Stepnovich, Ernie Pinkert, Marshall Duffield, Jess Shaw, Ward Bond. The picture, which climaxes in the big Army-Navy game of the year, is said to be one of the most thrilling and realistic football stories yet screened.

STRIBLING KAYOES FAY

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Aug. 12. (AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling of Macon, Ga., scored a knockout over Harry Fay of Louisville, Ky., near the end of the fifth round in their scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

Hitting Down Method



DON'T GET THE IDEA THAT PLAYING BALL ON DOWNSWING IS DONE LIKE THIS ARC OF SWING
BALL

BY SOL METZGER

One must have a definite idea of what he is going to do when he prepares to play an iron. You hear so much about hitting down that unless one stops to analyze just what is meant by hitting down he'll be attempting the impossible.

You do hit down at the ball, but not along the arc in the upper half of the sketch, as many suppose. The idea is to have a point just in front of the ball on the line of flight. Hit down to that point. If you do you'll either take a divot or scrape the grass down to its roots beyond the ball.

Swing through and under the ball with your lofted clubhead to that point. Its loft will cut it under the ball, roll it up the face of the club as you continue through with the stroke and toss it high into space with plenty of backspin. Hit down, but in doing it don't hit the ball on top. The down hit merely means that the low point of the arc of your swing is just ahead of the ball. Tomorrow, "The Right Elbow On Irons."

Great golfers are great drivers. Improve your drive by sending stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, care of The Times, and requesting his free leaflet on "Driving."

JOE STECHER HOLDING OUT

Former Wrestling Champion Makes Huge Demand on Lou Daro for Lutze Bout at Olympic

Joe Stecher, former world's wrestling champion, has yet to agree to terms for a match at the Olympic, the 21st inst. with Nick Lutze, local mat idol, Promoter Lou Daro announced yesterday.

JOE STECHER

The powerful Nebraskan not only asked for a bigger percentage of the gate than he ever received here for any title bout, but he also wants a two-hour time limit on the match.

Stecher's new demands were made by his brother-manager, Anton, who is seeking to regain the world's title now held by Gus Sonnenberg. Stecher had two big title matches here with Lutze a few years ago, and both were for time limit affairs. He won both battles by scoring the only fall in each of the scheduled three-fall matches.

Promoter Daro stated yesterday that the Lutze match a week from tomorrow night would be to a finish, even if he had to replace Stecher with another top-notcher reported to be in this section at the present time.

Stecher's demands for a larger cut of the gate receipts were met by the promoter yesterday, but the latter refused to consider a time limit bout.

Daro stated that if Stecher refused to accept the new terms for a match with Lutze, the local mat idol would meet another star he has been negotiating with for the past few days. Daro intends to name the other wrestler today, unless Stecher comes to terms, it was reported.

Lutze's victory over Joe Malcewicz here last week was one of the biggest mat upsets of the year. The Nebraskan had anticipated meeting Malcewicz in a return match. Lutze's win proved to the Stecher brothers and the mat fans and wrestlers of the country, that he was a greatly improved grappler over last year and now belongs in the same class with Ed Lewis, Stecher, Malcewicz, Marin, Plestina, and a few of the other stars.

WALKER WILL CLAIM CROWN

after the bout in Chicago this spring. Of course, the judges voted for Loughran but everybody knows that Mickey merited the nod. Lomski floored Loughran twice and there is no reason why the 175-pound title shouldn't be considered at stake next week when Mickey and Leo clash."

Commissioner Harry Farrell has declined to comment, but it is reported here on good authority that the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission would look favorably upon the Walker-Lomski fight at Philadelphia next week as a title contest if Loughran relinquishes the throne this week.

Big Six

By the Associated Press

Reorganization of the big six clouters of the majors brings Babe Herman, socking right fielder of the Brooklyn Robins, to the top with an average of .413, and drops Al Simmons into a third-place spot behind his Athletic team-mate, Jimmy Foxx, with .379. Chuck Klein, Phillies' home-run belter, trails the new line-up with .348.

Simmons and Ruth added to their home-run laurels yesterday but did little for the general averages, Simmons hitting his twenty-seventh of the season and the Babe his thirty-first. Herman set the pace for the day with two hits in three tries, one a homer.

BOROLA AND SAVAGE TO CLASH SATURDAY

Joe Borola, twice winner over Kano Nakamura, will meet Ocean Park's 130-pound knockout king, George Savage, at the Main Street Athletic Club next Saturday night.

Joe Guerrero, Mexican lightweight, scored a hard earned win over Donnie Dundee, Omaha scrapper, in last Saturday night's main event. Hugh Shropshire finished Laurel Curtis, army 175-pounder, in the third round of the semi-wind-up. Young Brown met his first defeat in his comeback campaign when he was outpunched by Howard Fritz in the special event.

PURSEY LEADS ON LINKS

RAINIER GOLF CLUB, SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 12. He took 70 on the morning eighteen and 63 on the afternoon round. Par is 72.

TOMMY O'BRIEN LOSES

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (AP)—King Levinsky, Chicago middleweight, outslugged Tommy O'Brien of Billings, Mont., to win the referee's decision in a ten-round boxing contest at the Logan Square Arena here tonight.

SEEK DATE CHANGE FOR BEAR-OLYMPIC CONTEST

BERKELEY, Aug. 12. (Exclusive) Negotiations are still going forward to change the date of the California-San Francisco Olympic Club football game from Saturday, October 26, to Friday, October 25, in order that local football fans may bear witness to the Stanford-University of Southern California game scheduled for the Palo Alto Stadium on the same date.

Inasmuch as this struggle of the gridiron promises to be one of the major affairs of the season, W. W. Monahan, general manager of the associated students of the University of California, hopes to make arrangements whereby the coaching staffs, players and followers of the California and "Winged O" teams can attend the match at Stanford.

Since the Olympic Club game follows the Pennsylvania contest and Coach Price is planning to use his second squad against the trans-bay gridders, he is willing to accept the change in date.

Mission Trio Tops Coast Pitchers

Three members of Red Killefer's Mission pitching staff are leading the rest of the Coast League hurlers in the 1929 race for league mound supremacy. Wilbur Hubbell, star righthander, heads the list with ten games won and three lost. Herb McQuaid is next in line with half a dozen victories and two defeats. Merton Nelson holds down third place with fourteen wins and five defeats.

"RED" JOHNS

Lefty Johns, Hollywood's leading moundsman, increased his average last week and is now in fourth place.

Iron man honors, so far this season, go to Roy Mahaffey, o fthe Portland Ducks. Mahaffey is credited with twelve victories and twenty defeats to make a grand total of thirty-two games. Pete Daglia of Oakland is next in line with a combination of fourteen wins and thirteen defeats to make a total of twenty-seven.

REDS TAKE ON ANGELS TODAY

Hubbell and Walsh Selected to Clash in Opener

Red Killefer is Confident of Second-Half Win

Stars and Seals to Tangle in Northern Series

Reds for the rest of the season. Dutch was the league's leading hurler for the Seals last year, but has been quite an expensive piece of pitching property on the Mission roster this season.

Wilbur Hubbell, who rates as the circuit's leading moundsman this year, will pitch the opener for the Missions. Augie Walsh, who has turned in seventeen Angel victories, has been selected to hurl for the Home Guards. With both sides using their best pitching bets, the opener should draw out quite a gathering of cash customers.

Killefer says his Reds are clouting the ball at a terrific pace, with his prize sluggers, Fuzzy Hufft, who bats for a living, and Ike Boone, giving the opposing pitchers plenty of worry.

The four leading Coast League clubs have just completed two "cut-throat" series against each other, but so far the Reds have been the only outfit to do themselves any good. Killefer's crew has copped nine and lost five games from the Angels and Seals for a winning mark. On the other hand, the Stars have broken even against the Seals and Angels, while the Seals and Seraphs have won but six and lost eight apiece in their two crucial series.

RACE TIGHTENED UP

So far these two cut-throat weeks haven't made or broken any club, in fact, they've merely tightened up the race until it's possible for anything to happen. It looks as though the fans are going to be in for a great four-club race unless somebody flops out of the picture this week.

While the Angels and Reds are tearing at each other down here, the Stars and Seals will be tangling at San Francisco in the other half of the Coast League's double main event.

The Sheiks proved Sunday that they can't be counted out of the race, by knocking off the Angels in a double-header. Hollywood is now in third place, just a half-game behind San Francisco and Mission, and Oscar Vitt has hopes for his Stars to leap up on top this week if the Angels can check the Reds.

Walter Kinney, the southpaw knuckle-ball specialist, will pitch the opener for Hollywood against the Seals today and if he's right the Stars have a chance to get off to a good start. Bum Wetzel, who has been pitching sensational ball, will work tomorrow, and then Vitt will have Shellenback and Johns coming up to give the Seals plenty of good pitching to look at.

BASSLER'S LOSS HURTS

Hollywood's hopes, however, were dealt a tough blow Sunday when Johnny Bassler suffered a broken thumb when hit by a foul tip off Berger's bat. Bassler is a plenty smart backstop and his loss will be further noticed because he is the only Hollywood backstop who can catch Kinney's knucklers with any degree of success. Bassler will be out for about six weeks and will leave the Hollywood catching duties up to Hank Severeid and young Clarence Sypher. Les Cook, the only playing trainer in the loop, will also be used by Vitt. Cookie can't hit, but he is a great receiver, has a fine arm, and certainly knows how to handle pitchers. Cookie will be a cinch to work when Hollerson pitches, for the young hurler always deals great ball when Les is behind the plate.

Although the Seals are still tied for first place, they've lost their last three series and it may be that Nick Williams's squad is getting ready to slide out of the picture. Both Elmer Jacobs and Hollis Thurston haven't been effective their last four times out and only the sensational work of young Vernon Gomez has kept the Seals up there. Gomez had a string of eleven straight victories, but the Reds broke it last Sunday.

The other series starting today bring together the Ducks and Oaks at Oakland, and the Indians and Senators at Sacramento.

Shaute, and, in turn, gave way to Red Shoffner in the sixth. Shoffner fanned Ruth, Lazzeri and Meusel in the eighth. The Indians managed to get at least one hit an inning off Pipgras, Pennock and Sherid, the Yankee hurlers.

Stevens Wins Pro Tourney

Tom Stevens, veteran pro at the California Country Club, navigated the Santa Monica municipal links in a snappy 69—two strokes under par—to win the professional sweepstakes. He nosed out Willie Hunter of Montebello and George Clark, his assistant at California, who turned in 70's. Fay Coleman, the well-known amateur star, and Fred Morrison of Midwick had 71's, while Chet Beer of Bakersfield, Vic D'Alberto of the Los Angeles Country Club and Floyd Fisk of Fox Hills shot 72's.

DUSKY HEAVIES TANGLE TONIGHT

campaigning in the East. He has won close to twenty fights during that period, and only one man, Johnny Risko, lasted the ten rounds with him.

It is said Risko has never been the same since, and that his easy defeat by Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, was directly due to the terrific body punching given him by Godfrey. Risko never recovered from the pounding.

Schmeling's defeat of Uzcudun was laid to the same cause.

Jack Dempsey has labeled Godfrey the greatest heavyweight in the world today, lacking only the killer instinct that made the Manassa Mauler himself so famous.

Stalking this prey comes Long Tom Hawkins of San Diego, who was flattened by this same Godfrey three years ago.

Hawkins was a green pea then, and has piled up a record since that period that is striking.

GREAT RECORD

The ring world plays with names—victories and defeats. Hawkins has defeated Jack Renault and Chuck Wiggins within the past year by decisions. He has scored recent knockouts over Seal Harris, Tiny Roebuck, Neil Clisby and others. He disposed of Clisby quicker than did Godfrey.

Hawkins hits straighter and some of the gym experts say harder than does Godfrey.

Godfrey's blows, however, are the kind that land and creep up on an opponent later—just like the vino of the good old days.

Hawkins is a San Diego product. He has never fought out of the State, according to all available records.

He has packed in the crowds at the San Diego arena every time he has fought. Fans of the southern city like his chances against Godfrey tonight, and 500 of them are reported to have purchased a block of tickets to watch their favorite in action against the Leiperville giant.

Indications are the Olympic will be jammed tonight—one of the few fight sellouts of the year.

NEW MANAGER

Hawkins is making his first fight under the direction of Frank Churchill, one of the canniest and shrewdest managers in the business.

Churchill bought the San Diego black's contract without ever having seen him in action.

But his record was enough for Churchill.

The latter figured a victory for Hawkins over Godfrey would skyrocket him right up into the select circle.

Godfrey is the current black menace — the man who took Harry Wills's place.

Schmeling won't fight him. Sharkey won't fight him. Uzcudun refused a return engagement. So did Johnny Risko.

The New York Boxing Commission frowns on matches between Godfrey and the little 190-pounders.

The Pennsylvania commission refused sanction for a match between Tommy Loughran and Godfrey.

Atlantic City wants a match between Dempsey and Godfrey, but Dempsey turns deaf ears. He might for a price—$1,000,000. But nobody can pay the figure.

Churchill therefore figures smartly that a victory for Hawkins over Godfrey will capitalize all of Godfrey's ballyhoo for Hawkins.

And that's why the argument is being fought tonight. Hawkins has everything to gain and nothing to lose. Defeat means loss of all his prestige for Godfrey.

PRELIMS CHANGED

Arizona Joe Rivers will box Sammy Jackson in the semi-wind-up instead of Joe Vargas. The change was made necessary when it was learned that Vargas had signed a previous contract to box at Fresno. The northern promoter insisted that Vargas fight at his club before showing in any other arena.

Leo Hernandez is ill with ptomaine poisoning and Sammy Aguirre takes his place on the card against Bert Sampson. Aguirre has been going good as a welter and is a very capable substitute.

The two fours are Kenneth Johnson vs. Jimmy Beck and Pastor Calope vs. Bobby Fernandez.

Dummy Mahan and Gorilla Jones will headline the show next week. Fred Winsor and Mahan remained in San Francisco to see Jones box Pete Meyers last night.

NEW MARK SET WITH ENTRIES

Skippers Ready for Week of Boat Races

Santa Barbara is Host to Western Sailors

Craft Crowd Channel City for Yearly Event

was Walter Horn of Long Beach, who strolled into the regatta headquarters and announced that he had a dozen Marconi-rigged skimmers that were itching for competition. Southern California Yachting Association officials, headed by Clem Stose, chairman of the regatta committee, accepted Horn's entries and also announced that they would have suitable trophies for the winning boats.

The first firing of the regatta takes place tomorrow morning when the eight-meter class lines up. Owen Churchill's Babe, winner of the King of Spain trophy, and the Monidah, which belongs to Stuart Haldorn of the St. Francis Club of San Francisco, will stage a duel for the championship in this class. The Babe rules a heavy favorite because of her victory in the midwinter sailing championships and other triumphs this year.

The Babe, handled by Ted Conant, won the race staged by the California Yacht Club to this port last Saturday and Sunday. She led the Monidah and eighteen other boats into this harbor by a comfortable margin.

The Monidah, however, may spring a surprise on the Babe in the series here, some of th eyachting experts declare. She was recently overhauled at the Wilmington Boat Works and it is in A-1 shape.

The R-boats will follow the eight-meter class tomorrow. The six-meter class will romp into the spotlight a few moments after the Rs get under way. The star boats follow next.

The larger boats have their innings tomorrow. The M and P class and the N and G class will race as one unit, while the V, X, Q and Y classes will do likewise. They were originally scheduled to race separately, but the committee decided to couple them up at the last minute.

MANY RACES

Wednesday the yachtsmen in all the classes named above resume their sailing feuds. The M and P, N and G, V and X, Q and Y classes stage the final round of their series. The eights, sixes and Rs and the star boats will race through until the last day, which is Friday.

The Southern California Yachting Association announced that the star-boat program had been changed a bit at the last moment. The stars will stage three races for a championship and one for the Santa Barbara Lipton Cup.

Outboard-motor boats and their skippers have their fling on Thursday and Friday, when a long list of events is scheduled in their class This promises to be one of the most exciting and spectacular series of the regatta. An arbitrary handicap for schooners, sloops and ketches of classes will close the racing card on Friday afternoon.

There was only one cloud hanging over the regatta here today and that was cleared up by Commodore Ed Gourley in a very diplomatic manner. It occurred at the meeting of the Southern California Yachting Association luncheon, where some of the Southland yachtsmen accused several of the clubs in the organization of not cooperating with them in putting over the regatta. Gourley had the matter tabled until after the show is over.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS TO SHINE AT PASADENA

A real middleweight sensation at Pasadena Arena is promised Thursday night, in the appearance there of Jack Malone, the St. Paul fighting hod, who has long been an adornment of this division. He is to face a tried opponent in Charley Long, who has spilled the aspirations of plenty of middle hopes in the past.

Wallie Fraser and Clyde Colvin, light heavies, will fight the six-round semifinal. Colvin is an old Arena main eventer. His opponent is the pride of Inglewood.

The four-round special will be Leonard Rahming vs. Billy Cain, flyweights. Two good four-round prelims will complete the Thursday night card.

JACKIE FIELDS GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME HERE

A world's champion and a former holder of a berth in the king row returned to this city almost simultaneously yesterday.

JACKIE FIELDS

Jackie Fields, the new welter king, arrived yesterday morning from Detroit, where he lifted the crown from Joe Dundee's battered brow.

And the ex-flyweight champion, Fidel La Barba, returned from a two weeks' vacation at Frazier Park, where he went after a minor operation on his nose.

Fields was banqueted at the Biltmore last night and after submitting to a vigorous back-slapping and hand-wringing anonunced he will take a well-earned vacation. A crowd of 200 was in attendance at the banquet.

His manager, "Gigham" Rooney, beat Fields back to the city and has been visiting at Long Beach.

La Barba's pilot, George Blake, announced that his charge is ready to start again, and that he will take any open dates either the Olympic or Hollywood matchmakers offer him.

In addition Blake said the European trip, contemplated some time ago, probably will be gone through with, several offers from both English and Parisian promoters having been received.

It is possible that La Barba may land one of the early September dates at the Olympic.

Gillette

Gillette wins by six lengths in Los Angeles

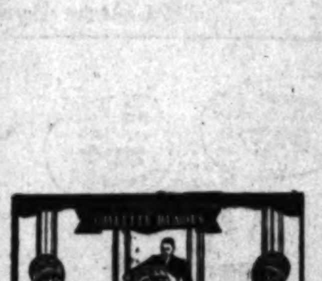
THERE'S open water between the comfort you'll find in a Gillette Blade and any other blade on the market.

That's why eight out of every ten men in Los Angeles use this famous blade in their Gillette holders.

And it's a wise precaution to lay in a summer's supply now. For you can't tell when a hurried week-end invitation may sever you from your base of supply.

It's difficult to find a city block in Los Angeles where Gillette Blades are not on sale. Slip a few packets in your pocket on your way home tonight. Then you're set for summer.

RADIO TONIGHT!—Gillette is sponsoring the popular program, "Los Caballeros," a romance of old California, featuring Virginia Flohri, soprano, and James Burroughs, tenor—broadcast over KFI every Tuesday evening from 8:30 to 9. Set your dials and settle back for a delightful half hour.



Look for the store with the Gillette Barrel Window Display—it's your headquarters for shaving comfort.

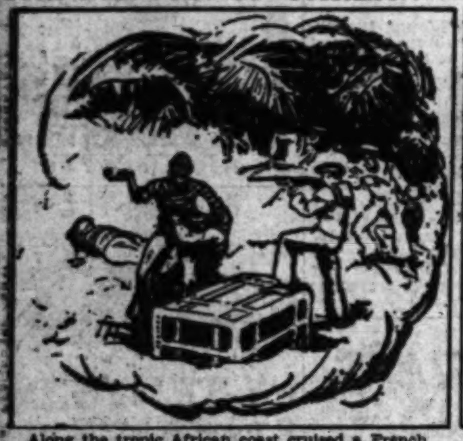
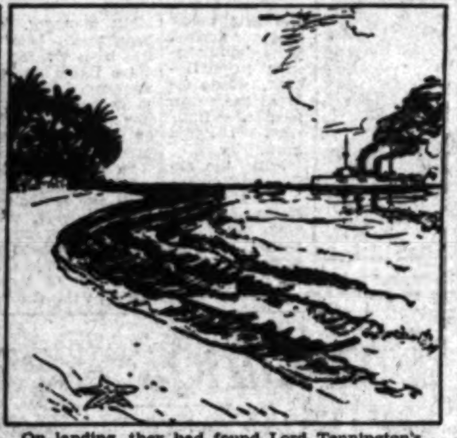
THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Along the tropic African coast cruised a French warship on patrol duty. Its first officer was Lieut. D'Arnot, Tarzan's old friend. At his suggestion, the ship had anchored off the little land-locked harbor to allow D'Arnot and others to have another look at the cabin and jungle. For here many of the officers and men had taken part in exciting adventures two years before.



On landing, they had found Lord Tennington's shipwrecked party. Under his intelligent leadership the eighteen castaways were leading a comparatively secure and comfortable life. Never had they abandoned the hope that their fourth lifeboat had been rescued. Then one morning a strange and terrible figure emerged from the jungle just south of their camp.

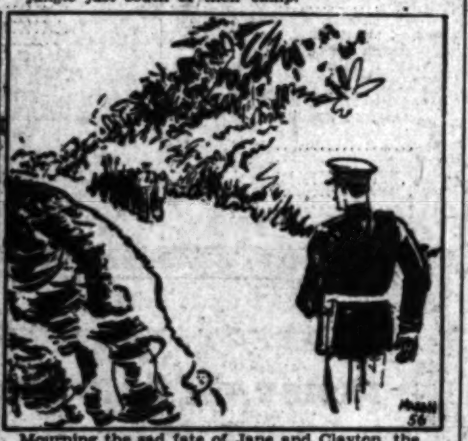
As Lord Tennington reached for his revolver, the half-naked, filthy creature called his name and came running toward him. Then he saw that it was "Monsieur Thuran," his once immaculate guest aboard the Lady Alice. When they questioned him concerning the other occupants of the missing boat, "Thuran" said: "Mon dieu, it is too terrible—but only I am alive to tell their story."



Mourning the sad fate of Jane and Clayton, the little community made preparations to board the French cruiser. The following morning it was to take them back to civilization. Lieut. D'Arnot had wandered alone down the beach, thinking of his friendship here with Tarzan. Suddenly, his attention was arrested by a strange procession in the distance.

Sanitary District Hinges on Official Omniscience

Pasadena City Attorney Says He Didn't Have Notice

Warren Replies Huls Should Have Perused Papers

On the question of whether the City Attorney of Pasadena should read the San Gabriel, Azusa, El Monte, Glendora, Monterey Park and Covina papers, hinges the fate of the resolution of intention to establish County Sanitation District No. 12, including those cities, which was before the County Board of Supervisors yesterday, but which was postponed for two weeks.

The Pasadena official, Harold Huls, in objecting to the inclusion of 324 acres of the Pasadena "sewer farm" plant, in the district, said that he had not had proper notice of the formation of the district.

ANSWER MADE

County Sanitation Engineer A. K. Warren countered with the assertion that it isn't necessary to advertise in Pasadena papers which the City Attorney might read, but that the law holds that an advertisement in papers of general circulation in the district is all that was necessary, and that if the Pasadena City Attorney did not read the sanitation district papers, that just indicated he wasn't interested in the affairs of the district.

The old Pasadena "sewer farm" was irrigated by sewage from Pasadena, Alhambra, South Pasadena and San Marino. With the development of more modern methods of sewage disposal, the sewage came to be purified in a huge plant, and recently Pasadena has been selling the lands once irrigated with waste.

FLYING FIELD

A recent purchase was that of 188 acres by the Western Air Express Company for a flying field.

Now, Engineer Warren asserts, Pasadena is only waiting for higher prices, to subdivide and sell the rest of the "sewage farm," at which time it probably would be absorbed by an adjoining city. Pasadena objects to its "farm" being taxed by the sanitation district, because it asserts the Pasadena plant, costing $917,000, is amply able to take care of the sewage from 324 acres, now uninhabited.

AIR CLUB TO HAVE LARGE FIELD SOON

Tract of 222 Acres Near Santa Monica to Have Fine Headquarters Equipment

Private airplane owners and others interested in aviation of Southern California will be offered a last-word, 222-acre airdrome and club equipment by December 1, next, it was announced last night by George E. Read and Harold J. Barneson, heads of the newly organized California Aviation Club.

Barneson has purchased for $1,300,000 the southwest corner of National and Sawtelle boulevards and work is under way to construct a $2,000,000 flying headquarters which will include a turfed landing field with a maximum take-off of 3600 feet, eight-way take-offs of 2600 feet, a 150-foot clubhouse, private hangars, repair shops, sleeping rooms, tennis courts and other club appointments.

The California Aviation Club has been organized with Barneson as president, Read, vice-president; Walter E. Burke, secretary, and Robert Blair, technical supervisor.

Fifty plane owners have signified their intentions of keeping their ships at the field and a maximum limit of 200 planes has been set by the directors, club officers say.

Building permits have been obtained for the clubhouse, which will contain a lounge, club room, dining-room, locker rooms and offices, and for hangars intended to house planes of all sizes, Barneson stated.

Headquarters for the club have been established at 109 North Canyon Drive, Beverly Hills.

The club site is a short distance northeast of Clover Field and is within fifteen minutes' driving time of the western residential district.
